EPISODE 1: COLLISION COURSE

INT. SILVERGATE STUDIOS - LOBBY - DAY

A sleek, futuristic lobby buzzes with activity. CELESTE FORD (30s), sharp-eyed and poised, strides in wearing a tailored suit that commands attention.

ARLO STORM (early 30s), charming and slightly disheveled, rushes in behind her.

ARLO
Wait up! You can't just disappear on me!

CELESTE
(RAISES AN EYEBROW)
I'm not disappearingI'm reporting for duty at Silvergate Studios. What's your excuse?

Arlo glances around nervously before leaning closer.

ARLO
You know the interstellar peace talks? I'm assigned as the lead diplomat for the Terran Union delegation. We're pairing you with Victor Rojasthe new security chief.

Celeste's eyes widen slightlythis isn't what she expected from a simple escort mission.

CELESTE
Victor Rojas? Isn't he that cold ex-space marine who retired early?

2

Before Arlo can respond, VICTOR ROJAS (late 30s) steps out of a nearby elevator. His presence is commandinghis uniform impeccable, his gaze unwavering as it locks onto Celeste.

VICTOR

(STRAIGHTENING HIS POSTURE)
Lieutenant Ford. Your record precedes you... but I trust you'll meet my standards here without issue.

He turns to leave but pauses briefly over his shoulder with a slight smirk toward Arlo.

VICTOR
And Stormtry not to get us killed while we're protecting this convoy together.

Arlo stiffens visibly; Celeste lets out a soft laugh despite herself.

CELESTE

(TO VICTOR)
Well then looks like we're partners now.

The three exchange curt nods before heading toward their respective transportsa sleek diplomatic cruiser for

Arlo and Celeste; a heavily armored patrol ship following closely behind under Victor's watchful eye.

INT./EXT. SPACE CRUISER BRIDGE/OBSERVATION DECK LATER

Celeste leans against the observation window of the bridge, watching stars streak past in silence when suddenly

3

A loud KNOCK interrupts her thoughts from outside the doorframe where ARLO stands awkwardly holding two cups of coffee one steaming hotand offers one toward her with an apologetic grin.

ARLO
Sorry about earlier guess first impressions weren't great between us and Mr.Rojas huh?

As she takes it from him ,their fingers brush lightly .She catches herself smiling softly .

CELESTE
It's alright . He's just old school military .

Arlos chuckles softly , shifting closer .

ARLOS
Yeah but hey ,you're both amazing at your jobs . I bet if things got serious you two would make quitethe team .

His words linger unexpectedly close ; Celestes breath hitches momentarily .

Their eyes lock across the dim starlight streaming through panoramic windows .

Suddenly their lips collide fiercely .

4

The sudden kiss startles them both into breaking apart almost instantly .

Forgetting everything else they share another brief yet intense kiss before pulling apart again.

Breathless ,they glance around nervously realizing they are alone on this vast vessel miles away from anything or anyone else .

CELSETE

(PANICKED)

Oh god ! We shouldn't have done that !
She quickly moves to sit back down on sofa near window .
Her face flushes deep red as she buries it into pillows beside her head .

ARLOS

(NERVOUS LAUGHTER )

Yeah yeah yeah that was definitely unexpected
He too sits next to sofa near window facing celestetaking small sip of coffee trying regain composure

The communication panel emits urgent beeps indicating incoming messages

Both turn sharply towards control console nearby

Celeste bolts upright, her military instincts kicking in immediately. Arlo follows suit, eyes wide with alarm.

ARLO

(PANICKED)
Enemy? Here? How did they even find us?

Celeste moves swiftly to the control console, fingers flying over the touchscreen as she accesses the convoy's external cameras.

ON SCREEN: A sleek black ship appears on one of the monitors, its design unfamiliar and ominous.

CELSETE

(GRIMLY)
Unknown vessel. No transponder signals. They're cloaked that's why we didn't detect them earlier.

Arlo leans closer to the screen, brow furrowing as he studies the ship's silhouette.

6

(UNEASY)
Looks like a pirate class cruiser... But who would target a civilian transport route this deep in space?

Celeste straightens up and steps toward Arloher presence commanding despite her small frame.

CELSETE

(FIRMLY)
This isn't random. Someone wants something from this convoyand they won't stop until they get it. We need to alert our escort fleet immediately and prepare for combat protocols!

ARLO

(WORRIED GLANCE AT CELESTE)
Wait! Our mission is diplomatic protectionnot warfare! Aren't you overreacting just Suddenlythe room darkens as emergency red lights flash throughout the cabin. The communication panel emits another urgent beep followed by an automated voice announcement:

VOICEOVER (V.O.)
All units report immediate threat detection.
Hostile vessel approaching proximity.
Prepare for evasive maneuvers!

The sound of metal groaning against pressure fills their earsa deafening roar shakes through every surface of their confined space within seconds before a violent impact sends both Celeste and Arlo crashing backward onto nearby furniture

INT. BRIDGE SPACE TRANSPORT CONTINUOUS

The emergency lights flicker red, casting sharp shadows across the cramped bridge. Celeste and Arlo stumble forward, steadying themselves against the sudden jolt.

ARLO

(BREATHLESS)

This isn't just a warning... they're inside our systems.

CELSTE

(GRIMLY)

They've disabled standard communications. We need to switch to encrypted channelsnow.

Arlo moves quickly toward the console, fingers flying as he attempts to reroute signals.

ARLO

(FRUSTRATED)

8

Encrypted comms are only for military vesselsthis is a civilian transport!

Celeste steps beside him, her eyes scanning the control panel with precision.

CELSTE

(CALCULATING)
Then it's time we adapted. Initiate manual overridereroute power through auxiliary circuits. I'll handle external sensors and internal security protocols.

Without hesitation, she pulls out a sleek datapad from her belt holster and taps commands rapidly on its interface before handing it back to Arlo with authority in every movement despite her petite frame.

ARLO (V.O.)

(ASTONISHED)
She's not just any diplomat She knows this ship like an extension of herself...

Suddenlythe main screen crackles static before stabilizing into grainy footage: A PIRATE SHIP closing fast on their positiona menacing silhouette cutting through star-streaked darkness outside their viewport window .

VOICEOVER (V.O.)
Hostile vessel detected.
Prepare for immediate engagement or evacuation procedures.
Warning: Life support systems may be compromised during battle conditions!

The room shakes again; metal groans under pressure as another impact rocks them hard

Celeste instinctively pushes Arlo behind cover , shielding him with unwavering determination .

The ship jerks violently again, throwing debris across the control room. Celeste grips Arlo's arm instinctively, steadying both of them.

ARLO

(GRITTING HIS TEETH)
This isn't just a random attack... Someone's targeting us specifically!

Celeste scans the radar, her fingers flying over controls as she analyzes incoming data.

CELSTE

(CALM BUT URGENT)
Pirates rarely coordinate this precisely. Someone inside must have tipped them offleaking our route or vulnerabilities.

Arlo's eyes narrow in sudden realization.

10

ARLO

(SHARPLY)
Waitcould it be one of my aides? They had access to our itinerary...

Before he can finish, another violent shudder rocks the shipthe lights flicker and dim. The emergency siren blares overhead as smoke begins to seep from vents near the floorboards.

VOICEOVER (V.O.)
Critical systems failing! Life support compromised!

Celeste grabs Arlo by the collar and hauls him toward an emergency hatch at the rear of the command center.

CELSTE

(FIRMLY COMMANDING)
Move! We can't let this convoy fall apart on my watchand certainly not with you still breathing air!

They stumble through corridors thick with haze and trembling steel. Behind them, distant explosions echoa symphony of destruction closing in fast.

quarters.

Celeste skids to a halt mid-step, breath ragged but mind razor-sharp.

CELSTE (CONT'D)

(DECISIVE)

We split up hereI'll secure life support systems at engineering; you head straight for passenger safety protocols on deck three.

Their hands meet briefly in a tight gripa silent promise neither will break contact until their mission is complete.
Arlo hesitates for half a second too long before nodding sharply and darting right without looking back.
With no time wasted , Celeste pivots left , disappearing into darkness as alarms scream louder around every corner .

CELSTE (V.O.)
(URGENTLY)
Life support must be securedno one dies on my watch.

Suddenly, a figure emerges from the hazea man in a janitor's uniform. He steps forward with deliberate calm.

JANITOR
(LOW VOICE)
Captain Ford... I've been waiting for you.

Celeste freezes. The man's face is obscured by shadowsbut his tone carries unmistakable menace.

JANITOR (CONT'D)

(SMIRKING COLDLY)
You're too late to save them all. Your diplomat friend will die firstand then we'll see how far your loyalty really goes...

He raises an arm slowly toward herhis hand glints sharply in the weak light: a knife blade catches it.

CELSTE

(CALM BUT DEADLY)
I don't negotiate with terrorists or cowards hiding behind masks and lies. Step asideor I'll make sure this ship never reaches its destination alive.
The janitor laughs softly, stepping closerhis movements deliberate, predatory.

JANITOR

(TEASINGLY CRUEL)
Brave words... but useless now.
Without warning, he lunges forwardthe blade aimed straight at her chest.
Celeste reacts instantlya sharp twist of her body sends him crashing sideways against the wall.
His grip faltersthe knife clatters to the floor between them as they both hit hard wood beneath their feet.
Before he can recover she pins him down swiftly , a knee pressing into his shoulder .
Their faces inches apart , breath heavy .

CELSTE

(FIRM COMMAND )
Tell me who sent you . Now .

Her gaze locks onto his trembling jawline silent threat clear : no answer means pain .

13

Janitor hesitates for half second before breaking under pressure .

JANTIOR

(SPITTING VENOM )

It was Victor Rojas ... He ordered everything the attacks , sabotage all designed to keep Silvergate Studios out of space colonization

A beat passes ; Celeste's expression shifts from shock to icy resolve .

She rises without hesitation , gripping Janitors collar tightly as she strides back toward engineering room .

CELSTE

workbench, her eyes cold and unyielding.

CELSTE

(GRITTING HER TEETH)

You're going to tell me everythingnow.

JANITOR

(COWERING, VOICE TREMBLING)

I already told you! Victor Rojas... he's been planning this for months!

14

Celeste leans in closer, her breath steady but icy.

CELSTE

(FLAT TONE)
Who is he working with? Who else knows?

Janitor swallows hard, his gaze darting nervously around the room.

JANITOR

(STAMMERING)
I don't know their names... but there are others on boardpeople who stand to lose if Silvergate gains control of space colonization routes.

Suddenly, footsteps echo from outside. The door swings open violently Arlo storms in, panic etched across his face.

ARLO

(BREATHLESS)
Celeste! You need to see this

He freezes mid-step when he sees the janitor pinned down. His eyes widen in shock before shifting quickly between them.

ARLO (CONT'D)

(URGENTLY)
What happened here?!

Before Celeste can answer, a low hum vibrates through the shipthe emergency alarm blares to life once more.

VOICE OVER INTERCOM (O.S.)
All personnel evacuate immediately!
Ship-wide lockdown initiated!

15

Arlo's face pales as he instinctively reaches for Celeste's armbut she moves first. With precision born from years of military discipline , she kicks open an access panel beside them .

Without hesitation , she hauls Janitor inside and slams it shut . The two disappear into darkness .

Arlo stares at the sealed vent grate , then turns sharply toward navigation .

ARLO (CONT'D)

calculating eyes watch their every move from behind another vent cover .

CAPTAIN

16

We've been compromised. Systems are failingsomeone's sabotaging us from within.

ARLO

(ALARMED)
Sabotage? Who could

Suddenly, a loud CRASH echoes through the corridor outside.

Both men freeze, eyes darting toward the door as it swings open violently.

Celeste storms in without warning. Her military uniform is disheveled; her hair pulled back tightly. She moves with calculated precision and cold fury every step deliberate and commanding as she confronts Arlo without hesitation.

CELESTE (COLDLY)

You were supposed to stay with me! How did you let him get away?

Before Arlo can answer, Celeste grabs his collar forcefully, yanking him closer her voice low and sharp like a blade slicing through tension .

CELESTE (CONT'D)

(ANGRY)
If we lose that guy now... everything falls apart!

Arlo stumbles backward instinctively , catching himself against nearby console . His face flushes red , throat tightening before he finally manages to speak .

(BREATHLESS)
I'm sorry! I panickedI thought we needed backup!

Celeste releases him instantly , stepping back coolly . Her expression hardens again as she turns toward navigation controls .

CELESTE

(FIRM)
Backup or notwe don't have time for mistakes anymore...

She slams her palm down onto one of the panels lights flash across her face . Without breaking eye contact , she taps rapidly at another screen next to it .

lengthen ; corners deepen ; reflections fracture across glass surfaces ...

doors, their breaths heavy.

ARLO

(PANICKED)
Where do we go now? This place is a labyrinth!

CELESTE

(COLDLY DETERMINED)
Stay close. We can't afford to split up.

Suddenly, a distorted voice echoes from behind themtaunting, cruel.

SABOTEUR (O.S.)
Running won't save you! You'll never catch me!

Arlo spins around instinctively but sees nothing but shifting reflections in the mirrored walls.

ARLO

(WHISPERING)

19

This has to be some kind of psychological game

Celeste scans their surroundings with sharp eyes, moving toward a side door marked "Maintenance."

CELESTE

(LOW COMMAND TONE)

This way. It leads back to central controlif we can get there first...

As they move deeper into the ship's veins, every turn seems designed to disorientthe mirrors multiply their images endlessly.

ARLO (V.O.)
I've faced enemies before... But this? This is something else entirely...

He glances at Celeste again; her expression remains unreadable beneath the harsh red lighting.

ARLO (CONT'D)

A sharp metallic clang rings out nearbythey both whip around just in time to see an explosion of sparks erupt from one of the panels along the wall.

CELESTE

(QUIET AUTHORITY)
This ship's design is a relic from decades agoonly one person knows it inside out.

ARLO

(SUSPICIOUS)
You?

Celeste glances at him briefly but says nothing, her focus sharp as ever.

Suddenly, a loud BANG echoes behind them. Both whip around instinctively only to see another panel sparking violently.

ARLO (CONT'D)

(PANICKED)
We're running out of time!

He pulls out his comm-link and taps it frantically.

ARLO (CONT'D)

(BREATHLESS URGENCY)

21

Backup needed! Immediate assistance in maintenance sector 4B!

Static crackles through the device. No response comes back.

Arlo stares at the silent comm-link in disbelief before throwing it aside in frustration.

CELESTE

(FLAT TONE)

Saboteur must have jammed communications too. They want us isolatedand terrified.

BEFORE ARLO CAN RESPOND

A deep mechanical WHIRR fills the air behind themthe sound of heavy machinery coming to life somewhere nearby...

They both freeze instantly, eyes locking in silent alarm as they turn toward the source of noise

INT. SILVERGATE SHIP MAINTENANCE CORRIDOR 4B NIGHT

The WHIRRING grows louder, closer. Shadows shift against the flickering lights.

22

ARLO

(VOICE LOW, TENSE)
That sound It's the industrial press from sector 4A. If they're moving it this waythen we're cornered.

CELESTE

(COLDLY CALCULATING)
Then we don't runwe fight.

Arlo glances at her, surprised by her calm resolve.

Suddenlya massive steel door SLAMS open behind them with a deafening BANG.

THEY WHIRL AROUND

The INDUSTRIAL PRESS stands in the corridor, its mechanical arms creaking and clanking as it begins to move forward slowly on its rails toward them like a monstrous predator.

ARLO (CONT'D)

(SHOUTING OVER THE NOISE)
Move! Side passagesnow!

Without hesitation, Celeste grabs Arlo's arm and yanks him hard into a narrow side corridor just as the press lumbers past them down the main halltheir footsteps echoing faintly behind its mechanical groans.

Once clear of sightlines, they collapse against opposite walls of the dim hallway

Celeste immediately pulls out two compact grenades from her tactical belt without missing a beatand hands one to Arlo with precise instruction:

23

CELESTE

(GRIM FOCUS)

Plug this herein that junction box ten meters ahead. Then cover meI'll sabotage its control panel directly once it slows down near us again.

Arlo takes it instinctively but hesitates for half a second longer than usual before responding:

ARLO

(LOW VOICE RELUCTANT)UNDERSTOOD

As he moves off silently toward their makeshift trap point

Celeste remains pressed against the wall in shadowed stillness

Her eyes narrow slightly when she notices something unusual on his back: A small patch of exposed skin between his collar and jacket neckline where his uniform is slightly loosejust enough to reveal an intricate tattoo beneath

She stiffens for an instant before shaking off whatever thought crossed her mindand turns sharply toward another intersecting

passageway

Just as heavy machinery GROUNDS TO A HALT nearbythe industrial press starts reversing direction slowly back towards their position...

machine's sluggish retreat.

CELESTE

(WHISPERS TO HERSELF)
Perfect timing.

Suddenly, a faint rustle echoes from behinda shadow flickers across the adjacent corridor wall. Celeste's gaze snaps toward it; her breath catches for just a moment too long before she forces composure.

She steps into the intersecting passageway and freezes instantlyArlo stands there waiting, expression unreadable.

ARLO

(LOW HESITANT)
Celeste... I need to tell you something.

Before she can react, his hand brushes against her shoulderand then he pulls her sharply forward into an awkward embrace.

The gesture is quick but deliberatethe scent of his cologne lingers longer than expected against her skin.

Her mind races as they stand inches apart in the dim lightthen suddenly realization dawns with crystal clarity:

CELESTE (V.O.)
His tattoo he deliberately exposed it back there...

She jerks free instinctively and spins around

25

But Arlo grabs her wrist firmly before she can escape

ARLO

(LOW VOICE URGENT)
Listen! That tattooit means I'm not who you think I am!

Celeste stares at him blankly for half a beatthen shakes off his grip and takes several steady steps backward without looking back once

HER TONE REMAINS FLAT BUT RESOLUTE:

CELESTE

(COLD FINALITY)
I don't have time for games right now. We'll talk laterin private.
She turns abruptly and strides away down another side corridor without hesitation or glance over her shoulder

Arlo watches silently as she vanishes into darkness
Then slowly lowers himself to lean against the wall where they stood moments ago

His fingers brush absently over that same small patch of exposed skin on his neck

ARLO (V.O.)

INT. SILVERGATE TRANSPORT SHIP HALLWAY NIGHT

Celeste strides through the dim corridor, her heels clicking against the metal floor with sharp precision. She rounds a corner and steps into a small side lounge.

The lights flicker softly as she leans back against the wall, arms crossed, eyes narrowing in thought.

CELESTE (V.O.)

(COLD CALCULATION)
Arlo's hiding something but what? And why?

Her gaze drifts to the faint glow of emergency lighting reflecting off nearby surfaces.

Suddenlythe door behind her slides open with a soft hiss.

SHE SPINS AROUND INSTINCTIVELY

But it's just VICTOR ROJAS (late 30s), silver hair perfectly styled, dark suit impeccably tailored).

Victor smirkshis presence radiating effortless superiority.

VICTOR

(CHUCKLING LIGHTLY)
Well well if it isn't my favorite subordinate. What brings you to this lonely corner of the ship?

Celeste raises an eyebrow coolly and crosses her arms again without hesitation.

CELESTE

(FLATLY)

27

Just needed some quiet space to thinkand apparently I found it. You should go; this isn't exactly your domain anymore after you were reassigned from Silvergate HQ last year for insubordination

Victor tilts his head slightly, amusement flickering across his features before disappearing like smoke.

He steps closer deliberatelyclosing half that distance between themwith calm authority in every move.

VICTOR

(LOW VOICE TEASING TONE)
I heard about Arlo Storm's little "performance" on deck earlier today... didn't expect you'd be so quick to turn him down though

His lips curl into a knowing grinand then he leans in even closerto whisper right next to Celeste's ear:

VICTOR (CONT'D)
(slow deliberate emphasis)You know who he really is? He used to be one of our best operatives during those bloody frontier skirmishes years agoa ghost soldier whose real identity was classified top secret until recently

A beat passesthen Celeste stiffens visibly at Victor's wordsbut immediately masks any reaction behind carefully controlled composure once more

Her eyes lock onto his coldly as she takes an involuntary step backward away from him

CELESTE
(voice steady but distant)That doesn't change anything between us...

28

BEFORE VICTOR CAN RESPOND

The door suddenly slides open againwith urgency this time

ARLO STORM bursts inside without warning,

His expression tense and breathless,

Eyes darting frantically toward Celeste

ARLO
(panicked whisper)...We've got serious trouble ahead! Someone has tampered with our navigation system!

CELESTE

(FROWNING)
Who would benefit from derailing peace talks?

They reach a junction where two corridors split.

(POINTING LEFT)
This way! The main control room is on Deck 9A.

Celeste nods sharply, turning without hesitation. As they sprint down the hall

Suddenlythe corridor ahead erupts in flames with a deafening roar!

Both freeze mid-stride, eyes wide in shock as heat blasts toward them.

CELESTE & ARLO (V.O.)
No...!

They instinctively dive to opposite sides of the hallway just as debris rains down around them. Smoke billows thickly, choking the air. Celeste coughs violently through her gas mask while scanning for escape routesher breath ragged but determined.

CELESTE (V.O.)

(URGENT)
We can't stay here...

Her gaze locks onto an adjacent maintenance hatch partially obscured by shadow near their feeta narrow escape route barely large enough for one person at a time.

30

Without hesitationshe lunges toward it first

ARLO REACTS INSTANTLY;

His hand shoots out and grabs her wrist firmly before she disappears inside,

He yanks hardand pulls her back into his embrace instead,

Their bodies collide tightly against each other,

She stumbles slightly off balancebut he holds firm emerge from the smoke.

The intruders pause at the edge of the firestorm, scanning for any sign of escape. Their eyes lock onto Victorwho's still hunched behind a console, shielding himself with his arm.

Suddenlyher comm device crackles weakly in her pocket.

VOICE (O.S., DISTANT AND FUZZY)

Celeste scrambles to retrieve itand presses it tightly against her ear.

CELSTE

Finally...

She pushes herself forward, reaching out toward the glowand collapses against the grate at the shaft's mouth with a soft thud.

Breathing raggedly, Celeste lifts her head to see ARLO'S FACE staring down at her in shock before he pulls himself into the shaft behind Victor.

ARLO
Commander! Are you hurt?!

Celeste manages a weak smile despite every muscle screaming in protest.

CELSTE
I'm fine What happened? Where's Victor?

Arlo glances nervously around then lowers his voice sharply too low for Celeste to hear clearly.

the ceiling just within reach.

Without hesitation they open fire . Bullets tear through air , forcing both to dive for cover behind adjacent pillars .

ARLO (SNAPPING)
Hold position! I'll flank them!

He pivots sharply on one foot , darting left toward their blind spot . His military precision is flawless moving like a shadow closing in for a kill .

CELESTE (WATCHING HIM GO)

DRONE
Target acquired: high-value asset. Initiating capture protocol.

Before anyone can respond, the drone lunges forwardspeed blurring in motionand slams into Celeste's chest with brutal force.

shimmering threads of moonlight and stardust .

She glances down at herself , then slowly lifts her gaze toward where Arlo had vanished moments ago .

CELESTE (SOFTLY , WITH A TOUCH OF WONDER )

The mirrored glass between them suddenly ripples like waterVictor's reflection twists and warps before snapping back into place, his expression cold and unreadable once more.

He steps closer without breaking eye contact, every movement deliberate. The space between them shrinks until it feels impossible for both their breaths not to mingle in the same air.

CELESTE (NARROWING HER EYES)
What do you want?

Victor tilts his head slightly, studying her as if weighing something intangiblebut vital.

VICTOR (AFTER A BEAT OF SILENCE)
To know why after everything we've been through you still won't look at me properly anymore.

His words hang heavy in the airtheir unspoken history filling every inch of silence that follows. Celeste exhales slowly, turning away from him with practiced calmness.

CELESTE (SOFTLY BUT FIRMLY)

Arlo steps closer, his gaze steady and unwavering.

ARLO (SOFT BUT FIRM)
I'm not here to play games. I need your helpthe real you.

He reaches into his coat pocket and pulls out a small devicea sleek holographic projector. He activates it, and a shimmering map of the galaxy appears between them.

ARLO (CONT'D)
The Black Suns aren't just random mercenariesthey're part of something bigger. A rogue faction within Silvergate Security itself.

Celeste's expression shifts from irritation to sharp interest as she studies the projection.

CELESTE (SKEPTICAL)
Proof?

Arlo swipes through the hologram, zooming in on specific star systems marked in red.

ARLO
Intercepted communications. Orders coming from high-ranking officials who have ties to both Earth's core government and certain corporate sectors within Silvergate Studios' military branch

He pauses briefly before locking eyes with Celeste againhis tone dropping even further, filled with urgency but restraint.

ARLO (CONT'D)

A chill runs down Celeste 's spine her mind racing , piecing together fragments of recent events .

Suddenly , realization dawnsand she stiffens visibly .

CELESTE(WHISPERS )
You mean the attack tonight wasn't random ? Someone wanted me dead specifically ?

crossed and expression unreadable.

Their bodies remain frozen behind the pillars as Victor steps forward slowlyand then he abruptly turns around and walks away without looking back.

Celeste exhales sharply, slumping against Arlo's chest in reliefbut then she notices something odd: Victor's coat is draped over his shoulder instead of worn properly.

She lifts her head slightly to look at him more closelyand freezes again when she spots it:

His collar pinthe insignia of Black Suns faction officersis clearly visible from this angle.

CELESTE (SHOCKED)
That wasVictor?!

Arlo stiffens beside her, quickly scanning the hallway before nodding grimly in confirmation.

ARLO

HE MUST BE ONE OF THEM

Suddenly realizing their cover has been blown by Victor's careless retreat, Celeste snaps upright and grabs Arlo's wrist firmlyher voice steady but low as she speaks urgently into his ear:

CELESTE

We can't stay here any longer. We need to warn Silvergate Security headquarters immediatelyto expose the entire Black Suns network within their ranks!

58

steps toward Celeste and Arlo's hiding spot.

His voice cuts through the silencecold, taunting:

VICTOR
I know exactly where you two are. There's no use hiding anymore.

Celeste exhales sharply but remains silent. Her fingers tighten instinctively around Arlo's wrist as she leans slightly into him for support.

ARLO (WHISPERING)
Stay calm. We'll handle this together

Before he can finish speaking, Victor suddenly lunges forwardand then everything happens at once:

A sharp metallic clang echoes through the hallway as a heavy object crashes against Victor from behindthe impact sending him sprawling to the floor with a grunt of pain.

Arlo reacts instantlypushing Celeste aside before sprinting toward Victor without hesitation or fear .

His hand shoots out quickly , grabbing hold of whoever just attacked his partner .

It is not an enemyit is Jade , struggling fiercely but unable to break free from his firm grasp .

Jade lets out a frustrated snarl , glaring up at Arlo venomously :

JADE (FURIOUS)
You idiot! You've blown our cover!

59

ARLO (COLDLY)
Shut up and explain yourself right now!

He slams her back onto the ground forcefully . Before anyone else can react he pulls off her helmet .

The dim light reveals Jade's face clearly: cold eyes filled with malice , lips curled in contemptuous disdain .

ARLO (CONT'D)
So it was you all along... The Black Suns faction planted within Silvergate Security headquarters

CELESTE (SHOCKED)
Jade?

Victor groans weakly on the floor beside them . His gaze locks onto Jade 's face then shifts abruptly to focus on Celeste standing nearby .

VICTOR
Her? No way She'd never betray me like that !

Jade scoffs darkly her expression turning cruel :

JADE
Oh please Don't act so naïve right now . This whole operation was designed specifically to frame you bothto eliminate your entire squad under suspicion of treason !

She raises an accusing finger toward them both :

JADE(CONT'D)
And I'm going straight to HQ right nowto report what I've "discovered" about your involvement !

Arlo nods quickly, his hand sliding to the small of her back as he steadies her. His tone softens slightlyalmost hesitant but firm.

ARLO
I'll handle this. You stay here and secure Victor.

Without waiting for a response, Arlo turns on his heel and sprints down the corridor after Jade. Celeste exhales sharply, then

The door at the end of the main hall swings open fully now revealing a tall figure silhouetted in red emergency light.

Heavy footsteps begin advancing forward.

CELESTE (V.O.)
If they find us here it'll be over for both of us fingers tighten involuntarily around his arm instinctive protection mixed with something else entirely: an unspoken connection between soldier and commander.

JADEN
Oh, come on now. No need to get so dramatic. I'm just doing my jobmaking sure traitors like you don't jeopardize our plans.

instantly as he approaches without hesitation or warmth.

ARLO

(STRAIGHT TO POINT)
We need to talknow.

Celeste stiffens at his tone but steps aside wordlessly to follow him into a nearby conference room where only dim emergency lighting flickers overhead. He closes the door behind them with practiced finality before spinning around abruptly, he secures Jax's arms behind him. The sound of metal locking in place echoes through the tense silence.

ARLO
Captain we're not alone anymore. Protocol dictates immediate containment and transfer to security forces once they arrivewhich should be any moment now.*

Victor nods without hesitationthe corner of his mouth twitching slightly in satisfaction.*

VICTOR
Good work.* But first

He steps closer to Celeste, eyes darkening with intensity.*

VICTOR (CONT'D)
We need answers about that device on your wrist.* Who gave it to you? And what exactly is it for?

Celeste doesn't flinchinstead she lifts her arm deliberately.* The sleek bracelet gleams under the harsh lightinga symbol of power etched into its core.*

CELESTE
This is my identity card My authorization badge for Silvergate operations throughout space territories,* including this vessel. Her tone shifts subtlyas if testing Victor's reaction.*

CELESTE (CONT'D)
As for who issued me this It was Mr.X at Silvergate headquarters.

105

A beat passesa charged silence hanging between them.*
Then suddenlyVictor freezes completely. His pupils contract sharply before widening againthe color draining from his face in an instant.*

VICTOR
Mr.X?

THAT NAME
It can't be real...
Celeste tilts her head slightly at his reaction.*

CELESTE
What do you mean?
Victor takes a step backhis entire body stiffening as if struck by some invisible force.
His breath hitches audibly before he finally speakswith unmistakable dread creeping into every word.*

VICTOR
If that person truly exists... then we're all doomed.
The room falls silent againthe weight of those words crashing over everyone like thunder.*
Suddenlythe lights flicker violently before plunging the entire bridge into darkness.
A collective gasp rises from the crew members around themand somewhere deep within the ship,
a low mechanical growl starts building steadily...
Everyone turns instinctively toward Arlo and Victorthey exchange quick glances before moving swiftly toward each other, ready for whatever comes nextbut neither one notices Celeste quietly slipping away amidst the chaos, her footsteps barely making a sound against cold steel flooring as she disappears deeper into unknown territory.

EPISODE 49

INT. SHIP - BRIDGE - NIGHT

The bridge remains shrouded in darkness, the low mechanical growl echoing ominously through the corridors.

ARLO (URGENT)

Victor, this blackout isn't normal. We need to find Celestenow!

VICTOR (GRITTED TEETH)

Agreed. Split up and search every sector. Don't let her out of our sight.

Arlo nods sharply and darts off down one corridor while Victor moves swiftly in the opposite direction.

INT. SHIP - HALLWAY - CONTINUOUS

Celeste glides silently through the dimly lit passageways, her footsteps nearly soundless against cold steel flooring as she disappears deeper into unknown territory.

Her eyes flicker with a calculating gleam as she reaches a sealed door marked "ENGINEERING BAY."

107

She pulls out a sleek device from her pocket an override keycard and slides it smoothly into the panel.

The door hisses open slowly, revealing shadows shifting within.

CELESTE (SOFT SMILE)

PERFECT

She steps inside without hesitation, vanishing completely into darkness once more.

INT. ENGINEERING BAY MOMENTS LATER

A faint red glow illuminates scattered control panels along one wallthe air thick with static electricity and anticipation.

Suddenly a sharp metallic clang echoes from deep within the room's core machineryfollowed by anotherand then another

Each successive impact reverberates louder than beforethe entire chamber beginning to tremble violently under their assault.*

From behind a massive server racktwo shadowy figures emerge silently:*

JAX (LOW VOICE)
Soshe really took the bait?

MAYA (SMIRKING CRUELLY)
Of course She's just like him nowa perfect puppet for Mr.X's plan.*

They exchange knowing looks before moving closer toward center stage.*

108

Then we'll give them exactly what they want*

He lifts his hand deliberately toward an exposed power conduit nearbya thin wire dangling dangerously loose.*

With slow precisionhe begins stripping away its insulation layer by layerwith each touch sending tiny sparks cascading upward across its surface.*

JAX
(whispering darkly)a little patience is all it takes

The wire suddenly emits several loud bursts of electrical discharge that cascade rapidly outward throughout space station circuitry,

causing widespread system failures leading ultimately towards catastrophic meltdown conditions within minutes if left unchecked.*

AS JAX WATCHES INTENTLY

the final fragment peels free between his fingers and he releases it deliberately toward floor vents beneath central access point.*

Electricity surges instantly downward triggering rapid thermal expansion among tightly packed components below ground level,*

sending intense shock waves radiating skyward*

109

shaking whole ship foundations violently enough to cause structural fractures near main support columns...*

His lips curl slightly into satisfied smirk at witnessing such devastating effect initiated flawlessly by simple act of sabotage done perfectly timed according precise engineering principles involved here tonight inside enclosed environment

space vessel called "Silvergate".*

Suddenly footsteps thunder outside again; voices shout orders amid growing panic:

VICTOR'S VOICE

Stop! Who goes there?!

The ship shakes violently as the sabotage takes hold, systems flickering erratically. Victor's voice cuts through the chaos.

VICTOR'S VOICE (URGENT)
All units, report! Status updatenow!

The crew scrambles to their stations, alarms blaring from every panel. Jax and Maya freeze for a split second before splitting again into the shadows.

JAX (WHISPERING)
We've got what we came for... time to vanish.

MAYA (NODDING SILENTLY)
Let them deal with this mess now.

They disappear into separate corridors, footsteps echoing faintly as panic spreads throughout the ship. Suddenlythe power surges back on in one area of the bridge.*

A figure steps out of the shadowsCeleste Ford appears calmly beside Victor.*

CELESTE (SMIRKING SLIGHTLY)
Looking for me?

Victor stiffens instantly, eyes narrowing in shock and disbelief.*

VICTOR (BARKING ORDERS SHARPLY)

CELESTE (CALMLY INTERRUPTING)

JAX'S VOICE OVER INTERCOM

Mission accomplished. Extraction point secure.

Within seconds shadowy figures emerge at every corridor entrance surrounding Celeste and Victor simultaneously Jax leading one group , Maya another .

They close in quickly , intent clear : capture or eliminate without hesitation .

But before they can react further another sharp interruption :

ARLO STORM bursts onto bridge , weapon raised high . He freezes briefly upon seeing Celeste standing next to Victor ; expression shifts instantly from hostility toward relief .

116

ARLO (EXCLAIMING LOUDLY)

His gun lowers slowly . Without warning he launches himself at her instead , arms wrapping tightly around her waist , lifting off ground completely .

ARLO (VOICE BREAKING WITH EMOTION)

I thought I lost youagain!

118

Celeste's arms instinctively tighten around him, her cheek resting against his chest. The steady beat of his heart anchors her in the moment.

CELESTE (SOFTLY, ALMOST BREATHLESS)

You're really here...

Victor stands frozen for a fraction of a second before snapping back to action. He grabs Arlo's wrist and yanks him forcefully away from Celeste.

VICTOR (COLD, COMMANDING)

What are you doing? Let go!

Arlo stumbles but refuses to release Celeste. Their eyes lock tension crackling like electricity between all three of them.

ARLO (GRITTING HIS TEETH)

She belongs with me! Not some cold soldier playing house!

CELESTE (SHARPLY INTERRUPTING)

Arlo! Enough!

Her voice cuts through the charged atmosphere like a whip. She shoves Arlo lightly but firmly toward Victor.

CELESTE(CONT'D)

This isn't about us anymore. We have bigger problems starting with these two clowns

119

She gestures dismissively at Jax and Maya who remain poised to strike.

JAX / MAYA

(VOICE RISING IN UNISON, FURIOUS)

Miss Ford... we've been waiting for this moment too long...

Before anyone can react further the ship jolts violently again as alarms blare throughout the corridors.

MAYA

(PANICKED SHOUT)

The engine core is collapsing! If it explodes

JAX

(GRIM NOD)

We'll all be vaporized on impact without escape pods capable of handling that level of blast radius!

Victor immediately steps forward authoritative presence dominating room instantly

VICTOR

(TO CREW MEMBERS NEARBY)

Initiate emergency evacuation protocol NOW ! Secure everyone else , including myself !

The crew scrambles into motion , urgency fueling every step . Some glance nervously back toward their captain .

120

CELSETE(V.O.)

If it weren't for Victor's military instincts I might never have survived tonight

A flicker of something unspoken passes between them as they move together toward safety .

But just before they reach exit point

Maya lunges forward suddenly and slams into Celeste from behind , hands wrapping tightly around her neck in brutal chokehold .

MAYA(SHOUTING )

No one escapes today !

Celeste gasps sharply . Her vision blurs slightly . Panic surges through veins like wildfire .

Suddenly strong hands seize Maya's wrists from behind . A powerful grunt follows as she is lifted off ground completely then slammed hard onto floor below .

Everyone turns instinctively towards source : Arlo Storm standing tall beside her now ; expression fierce determined unwavering protective resolve shining brightly beneath bruised battered exterior still faintly visible lingering scars left by countless battles fought endured survived over years long endless journey life

ARLO(STERN COMMAND )

121

Stay away from my wife or face consequences none alive will ever forget !!!

His voice echoes thunderously across entire bridge space station corridor complex building structure

And no one dares challenge that order even for single instant slightest hesitation doubt because deep down everyone knows

WHEN HE SPEAKS ,

HE MEANS EVERY WORD ,

EVERY PROMISE,

EVERY THREAT

WITHOUT EXCEPTION ,

WITHOUT MERCY,

WITHOUT FAIL

EPISODE 52

Victor's entire team freezes, eyes wide in disbelief.

MAYA (SNEERING)
Arlo Storm? You're kidding me, right? That name belongs to the legendary commander of the Space Marines. What are you doing hereretired and babysitting a diplomat?

ARLO (COLDLY)
I'm not babysitting anyone. And I didn't retire.

A tense silence hangs in the air before Maya bursts into mocking laughter.

MAYA (SARCASTIC)

122

Oh, please! Everyone knows you left under disgraceful circumstances. A coward who ran from his unit during an ambush!

Her words hit like poison arrows. Arlo's jaw tightens; his knuckles whiten as he grips Celeste protectively by the waist.

ARLO (VOICE LOW BUT DEADLY)
You have no idea what you're talking about.

He leans forward slightlytoo close for comfortand every inch of him screams warning: cross that line again, and there will be consequences far worse than anything you've imagined tonight.

Celeste steps forward instinctively, placing a hand on Arlo's chest to steady himbut her fingers brush against cold steel beneath his uniform collarbone: a concealed combat knife resting against his heart.

She blinksrealization dawning too late

CELESTE (PANICKED WHISPER)

Arlo catches it between thumb and forefinger

HIS GRIP SNAPS SHUT LIKE IRON JAWS

Blood spurts upward as Jax staggers back stunned screaming

ARLO (ICE-COLD CALMNESS )

That was your final mistake .

Without breaking eye contact , he twists sharply . The knife sinks deep into Jax ' s throat .

The sound is sickening . Wet . Final .

Jax collapses instantly , gurgling blood spraying across polished floor tiles

Everyone freezes again horror-struck stomachs churning

Even Victor ' s face drains of color disbelief etched deeply into every line wrinkle crease

VICTOR(FALTERING VOICE )

Storm is that really you ?

Slowly deliberately Arlo turns fully toward Victor now , expression unreadable mask composed calculated control hiding

ARLO (V.O.)
No matter what happens, I won't let anything happen to you.

Their hands instinctively intertwine as they turn swiftlyready to face whatever hell awaits beyond this door.

Suddenlyan EXPLOSION erupts behind them. The corridor trembles, debris raining down as the lights flicker wildly. Celeste drags Arlo forward without hesitation, fear etched in her every movement but determination burning in her eyes.

They sprint through the smoke-filled hallway toward an emergency exit sign flickering faintly red ahead. As they reach it

A shadowy figure blocks their path: MAYA VELASQUEZ stands with arms crossed smugly on her wheelchair-mounted platform, a twisted smile spreading across her face like victory already claimed before battle even began.

MAYA (MOCKING)
Well well looks like my little sabotage worked after all. You two lovebirds are trapped nowwith nowhere left to run...

Arlo steps protectively in front of Celeste without hesitationtheir bodies pressed close together defensivelybut

Maya's gaze sharpens instantly at his presence instead of hers...

The explosion's light fades, revealing a scene of utter devastation. Dust and smoke hang thick in the air. The emergency exit door lies twisted open.

Maya smirks, her gaze sweeping over the ruined corridor like she owns it.

MAYA
Looks like I've sealed your fate no escape from here.

Celeste exhales sharply, eyes darting to Arlothen back to Maya. Her mind races for any chance of survival.

CELESTE (STEADY)
What do you want? Why are you doing this?

Maya wheels closer with deliberate slowness, savoring every second of their fear.

MAYA (TAUNTING)
Isn't it obvious? You both have something I wantand now that my sabotage has crippled this station

She leans in close enough for Celeste to smell the faint metallic scent on her breathher voice dropping into a conspiratorial whisper.

MAYA (CONT'D)
I'M GOING TO TAKE IT ALL FOR MYSELF

128

Arlo stiffens at those words but holds his ground without flinchinghis gaze locking onto Maya's wheelchair-mounted platform as if willing it to collapse under its own weight.

ARLO (COLDLY)
You'll never get away with this. Someone will stop you sooner or later

Maya laughsa cold, hollow sound that echoes through the ruined corridors.

MAYA (MOCKING)

She leans forward, her eyes glinting with malice as she studies them both.

MAYA (CONT'D)
But you two you've got something worth fighting for. And now that this place is falling apart

Her smile twists into something cruel and calculating.

MAYA (CONT'D)
I'll take it all for myself.

Celeste stiffens at those wordsthe implication hitting her like a punch to the gut. Her mind races: What does she mean by "take it"?

CELESTE (VOICE LOW, SHARP)
What exactly do you intend to take?

BEFORE MAYA CAN ANSWER

The entire station shudders violently once morethe lights flicker and dim as gravity shifts erratically beneath their feet.
