EXT. PORT CITY - DAY

The bustling docks are alive with activity. LILLIAN DOYLE, a rugged mercenary in worn leather armor, strides purposefully through the crowd.

LILLIAN (V. O.)
I'm done wandering. Time to settle this debt once and for all.

She pauses at a grand shipthe Tempestits sails gleaming under the sun.

Sergei VOLKOV, tall and impeccably dressed in business attire, stands on deck greeting guests with a polite smile. He spots her immediately.

SERGEI
Lillian! Over here!

He gestures toward an open space near the gangplank where he's waiting.

LILLIAN (SURPRISED)
Sergei? What are you doing here?

Before she can react further, ORION DOMINGUEZ steps out from behind Sergei's back. His presence is commanding dark suit tailored perfectly to his muscular frame; coat draped casually over one shoulder; his piercing gaze fixed on Lillian like steel cutting glass.

ORION
(voice low and cold)
Well... if it isn't my dear old friend...

Lillian stiffens instantly upon seeing him shock morphing into cautious anger as memories flood back.

FLASH BACK:

INT. BAR - NIGHT (ONE YEAR AGO)

Orion slams a whiskey glass down hard on the bar counter opposite young Lillian's stunned face.)

ORION
You think you're special because you sold some paintings? You're nothing but trash to me!

Her eyes burn red with humiliation as patrons snicker around her.)

END FLASH BACK

BACK TO PRESENT

LILLIAN (BITTERLY)
Orion Dominguez... I never thought I'd see your smug face again after what you did last time

ORION
(cutting her off smoothly)
Enough chit-chat already we don't have much time before departure.
(turns sharply toward Sergei)

Captain Volkov will brief us now about our next expedition together aboard The Tempest .

Sergei nods politely then gestures toward the ship's lounge area nearby where several crew members stand waiting

Right this way , please follow me .

They move inside while Orion shoots one last cool glance at Lillian . She meets it head-on without flinching , lips pressed tight in defiance .

INT. SHIP LOUNGE - DAY

The lounge is spacious, with sunlight filtering through large windows. A detailed map of the sea route hangs on the wall.

SERGEI

Captain Dominguez, esteemed guestsths expedition will take us to the ancient ruins of Eldara Island.

LILLIAN (V. O.)

Eldara? That place has a reputation for being cursed...

Sergei's tone shifts to excitement as he points at the map.

SERGEI

These ruins hold artifacts that could change our understanding of historyand fetch an astronomical price!

ORION (COLDLY)

We're not here for profit. Our mission is strictly archaeological preservation and information gathering.

Lillian raises an eyebrow but stays silent.

SERGEI (SMILING)
Of course, Captain! But I'm sure everyone understands that such treasures don't come without... incentives.

He glances meaningfully at Lillian and then around the room where several crew members nod eagerly or exchange sly looks toward her.

LILLIAN (DEFENSIVE)
Incentives? What are you implying?

Before anyone can answer, footsteps echo in from outside. The door swings open dramatically revealing JACOB HUNTERa tall man in his forties with sharp features and a smug expression. He strides in confidently toward them all.

JACOB
Ahhh so this must be my new team officially assembled by Sergei Volkovthe great explorer himself!

The room falls silent except for faint murmurs among remaining crew members who clearly recognize Jacob's name: "Hunter Expeditions", "Mythical relics", etc. he's famous for chasing legends regardless of legality or safety concerns.)

Jacob hands Sergei a thick dossier brimming with documents before turning his attention directly toward Lillianhis gaze filled with disdain mixed amusement .

JACOB
And you... little mercenary girl? Trying out archaeology now?

LILLIAN
What does it matter to you?

JACOB (SMIRKING)
It matters because you'll tarnish this expedition if anything goes wrong . You have no qualifications whatsoever , unlike me a real professional !

Orion steps forward immediately , blocking between them .

ORION
Enough . She'll be part of this team whether you like it or not .

Jacob laughs mockingly , unfazed by Orion's authority .

JACOB
Oh really ? And what makes YOU think she belongs here ? Unless ... there's some ulterior motive behind your insistence ?

Orion narrows his eyes coldly , gripping Lily 's shoulder firmly before speaking quietly :

ORION
Her skills are invaluable . Period . If we succeed togetheryou'll get your share toobut if she fails...

His voice turns icy sharp ; Jacob visibly flinches under its pressure .

ORION
You won't even make it back home alive.
A tense silence follows after Orion finishes speaking .

INT. HOTEL ROOM - NIGHT

Lillian stares at the door, her face pale.

LILLIAN DOYLE
Is it really him?

The door opens. Orion steps in, his expression cold and unyielding.

ORION DOMINGUEZ
You're coming with me.

Lillian's eyes widen in shock.

LILLIAN DOYLE
What? I'm not going anywhere!

She grabs a nearby vase and hurls it toward him. It shatters against the wall inches from his head.

ORION DOMINGUEZ (CALMLY)
I told you don't resist me.

He crosses the room in two strides, grabbing her wrist with one hand and pressing a finger to her lips with the other to silence any scream. His grip tightens as he drags her out of the hotel room without ceremony or explanation.

EXT. LUXURIOUS VILLA - NIGHT

The villa is grandiose but eerily silent under a full moon. Orion pushes open the heavy front gate and pulls Lillian inside.

INT. VILLA FOYER - CONTINUOUS

Orion releases Lillian abruptly, turning on his heel to face her squarelyhis gaze sharp as steel.

ORION DOMINGUEZ
This is my place nowand so are you.

He hands over an ornate key card embossed with gold lettering: "D-001."

ORION DOMINGUEZ (CONT'D)
That's your new home address.

Before she can react, he slams the gate shut behind themlocking her inside like a prized possession ora captive.

INT. DOMINGUEZ VILLA LIVING ROOM DAY

Lillian, still in her casual clothes from yesterday, rushes down the stairs.

She reaches the front door and tries to open itlocked.

Her eyes dart around in panic as she yanks on every handle, pushes and pulls at each locked exit.

Her breath quickens. She slams a fist against the doorframe.

LILLIAN (V. O.)
No way I'm trapped here?

Frustrated, she spins toward the grand staircase and marches back upstairs.

INT. DOMINGUEZ VILLA STUDY ROOM DAY

The study is lined with floor-to-ceiling windows that look out over the estate grounds. The late afternoon sun pours gold light into every corner of the room.

Lillian stands by one window, staring outside while tracing invisible lines on her reflection's face in the glassher brow furrows in thought.

Suddenly, she whirls around to face Orion sitting across from her at an antique deskthe sunlight casting sharp shadows behind him. His expression is unreadable but coldly amused as he watches her move restlessly about his home like a caged animal pacing its cage.

ORION

You know there's no escape within ten miles of my property boundaries without permission and you have none right now.(beat)So why bother? Just stay here until further notice... or until I decide otherwise.(smirks)

LILLIAN
(eyes blazing)
That won't happen! There has to be a way outI'll find it!

Orion rises slowly from his chair; his tall figure looms closer until he stands inches away beside her reflection in glass surface . He leans forward slightly , fingers brushing lightly against hers .

ORION (SOFTLY)
If you truly want freedom , then maybe we can make deal

His voice drops low ; breath warms skin near ear . Their reflections overlap momentarily before separating again .

Orion steps back smoothly , hands folding behind him with cool composure once more .

Orion's gaze sharpens, his posture regal. He steps closer to Lillian, voice smooth yet commanding.

ORION
A night with me in my bed.

LILLIAN (DISBELIEF)
Are you insane? You're asking me for that?

Her eyes dart toward the doorlocked and unyielding.

LILLIAN (V. O.)
There's no way out

She turns back to him, defiance flickering across her face.

LILLIAN
Fine. I'll play along.
But don't think for a second I'll go easy on you!

Orion smirksa predator amused by its prey.

ORION
I wouldn't expect anything less from you.

He extends a hand toward her, palm upan unspoken command wrapped in elegance and dominance. The gesture is deliberate; he expects compliance without resistance.

INT. ORION'S ESTATE - LIVING ROOM NIGHT

Lillian hesitates, then slowly places her hand in Orion's. He grips it firmly.

Good girl.

He pulls her into a deep kiss, one hand sliding to cup her breast while the other trails down to slip beneath her skirt, fingers teasingly probing.

LILLIAN (V. O.)
This bastard not only is he strong and ruthless, but he knows exactly how to touch me

Her body betrays her defiance as she moans softly against his lips. Suddenly, the sound of footsteps echoes from outside the room Sergei's voice cuts through the tension.

SERGEI (O. S.)
Mr. Dominguez! There's an urgent matter that requires your attention!

Orion freezes mid-kiss. His eyes snap open; he releases Lillian with a sharp shove.

ORION
What now?

The door bursts open Sergei storms in, breathless and flushed with urgency.

SERGEI
Captain! The expedition team has encountered serious trouble at their base camp on Raven Island!

Orion grabs his coat from a nearby rack and throws it on without hesitation. He strides toward the door but pauses briefly to glance back at Lillian with a smirk that makes her blood run coldand strangely hot all over again.

ORION
Looks like our little game will have to wait for another night... unless you want me dead before dawn?

He winks and disappears out the door without waiting for an answer.

LILLIAN (V. O., SMIRKING)
Damn him... I'll be ready when you get back.
She straightens her clothes and calmly walks toward another exitthe kitchen door leading outside.

INT. ORION'S ESTATE - LIVING ROOM - NIGHT

Lillian struggles against the ropes binding her wrists, but the grip is tight.

LILLIAN
Let me go!

The door slams shut behind her. She spins around Sergei stands there, arms crossed, a dark smirk on his face.

SERGEI
Well... what a surprise. Didn't expect to see you here tonight.

He steps closer with predatory grace.

LILLIAN (COLDLY)

14

You're not supposed to be back for another week...

SERGEI (SMIRKING)
Plans change when unexpected guests arrive. And it seems I've found something far more interesting than business meetings tonight.

His eyes roam over her body before settling on her face again with an unsettling smile.

He reaches out and grabs one of her tied hands roughly, forcing it between his legs with deliberate force. Then he yanks hard making Lillian stumble forward onto the table in front of him.*

She gasps from the sudden impact.*

SERGEI (LOW AND THREATENING)
Looks like Captain Dominguez has been playing games... and now I get to join in too.
Before she can react or pull away, Sergei presses down on her back firmly pinning Lillian's body flat against the table surface.
Her tied wrists scrape sharply across its rough wood grain as she tries to resist.*
The sound echoes through the room.*
At that moment*
A shadow moves swiftly behind Sergei.
Orion appears instantly beside him.
Without hesitation
His hand snaps forward in a brutal punch straight into Sergei's jaw.
Sergei reels backward from the strike*

15

With terrifying strengthhe lifts him off his feet.* His entire body rises into midair as Orion squeezes harder and harder...
Sergei chokes violently under Orion's grip.* His face turns red then purple then pale Finally
His limbs go limp
And he drops lifelessly onto the floor below.*

ORION
(to Lily)
Are you alright?

Lillian lets out a shaky breath and slowly nodsbut before she can speak

SUDDENLY

A second figure bursts through another doorthe main entrance leading outsidefrom deep within shadows beyond

Wielding two gleaming daggers,

Rose Vanderbuilt charges at them botha wild look in her eyesand slashes violently toward their backs!

ROSE

Freeze! Nobody move!

Both Orion and Lillian instinctively spin around

But they are too slow

One blade catches Orion squarely across his chest

BLOOD SPLATTERS EVERYWHERE

16

He staggers backwardwith blood pouring down from his wound

Falling heavily onto one knee by Lillian's side!

INT. ORION'S ROOM - NIGHT

The door bursts open, and Lillian rushes in.

She immediately kneels beside Orion, her hands trembling as she tries to stop the bleeding.

LILLIAN
Orion! Stay with me!

Her voice cracks with desperation.

ORION (WEAKLY)
Lilly it hurts so much

Tears well up in Lillian's eyes as she leans closer, her forehead nearly touching his.

LILLIAN (SOFTLY)
I know... I know

17

Suddenly Orion's hand tightens around hers. He squeezes once, twice...

Then he lets go. His body goes limp against hers.

A long beat of silence follows before tears break free from Lillian's eyes

And then Orion coughs violently. Blood sprays across both their faces.

He groans weaklybut slowly, his fingers twitch again. One last squeeze on Lillian's handa silent promise that he isn't leaving her just yet.

Her heart shatters into a million pieces at the sighttheir foreheads still pressed together, blood mingling between them

But thenhis chest rises and falls steadily with each breath.

Relief crashes over her like a tidal wave. She clutches his face tightly against hers,

Eyes burning through tears but filled with fierce determination:

LILLIAN (VOICE BREAKING)
You're not going anywhere... Not tonight...

She lifts him gently into her arms without hesitation,

Turning on her heel and rushing toward the balcony door

Still cradling him close to her chest like a precious treasure,

Unwilling to let go for even one second.

EXT./INT. BALCONY CONTINUOUS

The moment they step onto the balconythe sea wind hits them full force

Chilling them instantlyand making Orion wince in pain.

ROSE (V. O.)
No way you'll escape now!

Rose appears behind themher lips curling into a cruel smile.

ORION (COLDLY)
Do you really think I'd fall for such an obvious trick?

His voice is ice-coldand deadly calm.

ROSE (SNARLING)
So what if it's not real? You're done either way!

Before Rose can react further Orion suddenly shifts weight effortlessly,

He grabs Lillian by the waistand kicks off hard from their feet

Launching forward over the railingwith brutal precision...

They fly through mid-airin perfect unison

Landing safely on another balcony three floors down below.
Their bodies hit solid groundbut neither breaks contact.

Rose stands frozen abovethe sound of distant sirens growing louder behind them.

INT. ABANDONED WAREHOUSE NIGHT

The cold night air presses against their skin, mingling with the heat of their rapid breaths. Orion holds Lillian in his arms, both drenched in sweat.

ORION
(urgently)
We can't stay here.

LILLIAN
(breathless)
I'm fine I just need a moment to catch my breath.

Orion's eyes flicker with concern. Without hesitation, he hoists her onto his shoulder again.

ORION
Then let's move before they come back!

23

He strides toward the exitsuddenly, a figure steps out from the shadows: Sergei VOLKOV (40s), tall and imposing in a sleek suit).

SERGEI
(smiling smoothly)
Well... well... what do we have here?

Orion freezes mid-step, turning slowly to face him. His jaw tightens instantly.

ORION
(low growl)
Sergei...

LILLIAN (CONFUSED)

Who is he?

Before anyone can respond, Sergei claps his hands together mockingly.

SERGEI
Bravo! Bravo! What an escape performance!

He takes a slow step forwardand then anotherclosing the distance between them like a predator stalking prey.

Sergei lifts one hand gracefullythe other follows quickly behind ita sharp slap lands hard across Lillian's cheek without warning or mercy. Her head snaps sideways violently as she cries out in shock and pain. Blood drips from where her lips split open by forceful impact .

She stares at him wide-eyed , stunned beyond words .

LILLIAN (SHOCKED)

24

What? Why did you hit me?!

Her voice trembles slightly but burns with disbelief; rage simmers beneath each syllable .

Sergei tilts his head toward Orion , smirking smugly while brushing off imaginary dust from his cuff .

SERGEI

You've caused quite an inconvenience for me tonight , old friend and this woman too . You should be grateful that I spared your life ... twice already !

His gaze shifts deliberately back to Lillian with venomous intent etched deep within every word that follow s :

SERGEI

And as for you ? How dare you interfere between two men engaged in business ?

His fingers curl into fists ; knuckles whiten visibly under strain when he speaks next :

SERGEI

Consider yourself lucky ! If not for Mr. Domínguez ' intervention earlier todayyou'd be nothing more than ash scattered by wind right now

A slow smile curls across Sergei 's lips one filled entirely with arrogance mixed heavily tinted by malice toward everyone present at scene .

25

Then suddenly -he raises fist high above head : ready strike downward towards Lilian again -

But Before blow falls - Orions hand shoots up fast without hesitation gripping tightly around wrist stopping attack dead center motion

Their gazes lock fiercely once more; tension thick enough cut through atmosphere itself ..

ORION SERGEI

ORION
Let go of her immediately!

Sergei struggles, eyes blazing with rage.

SERGEI

26

Who do you think you are?! You're nothing compared to me Lillian belongs to the Volkov family!

He attempts to pull free, but Orion's hold is unyielding. Their bodies press together in a tense standoff.

Suddenly, without warning, Lillian pushes hard against Orion's chesther voice sharp and commanding.

LILLIAN
Enough! Let him go!

The room falls silent as everyone turns toward her. She glares at both men with unwavering defiance.

She steps between them and slaps Sergei across the facea crisp sound echoing through the space. Then she storms out without looking back.

Orion blinks in stunned silence before instinctively releasing Sergei's arm. The moment their skin separates, he moves forwardbut it's too late; she has already disappeared down the hallway.

ORION (SOFTLY)
Lillian...

His jaw tightens as he clenches his fistshis gaze locking onto Sergei once more with cold authority.

ORION (CONT'D)
You will never lay a hand on her again or I'll make sure your entire family pays for it.
A slow smirk spreads across Sergei's face as he straightens his tie and leans casually against the wall behind him.
SERGEI

Oh? And what exactly can you do about that?
Before Orion can respond, there's a sharp knock at the door.
MALE ASSISTANT (O. S.)
Sir! Someone here wants to see you!
Orion frowns slightly but doesn't turn away from Sergei.
ORION
Fine... let them in.
The door opensand Julian enters smoothly into view under bright overhead lights.

JULIAN
Dominguez!

Orion's eyes flash cold as he rises from the couch, crossing his arms.

ORION
What are you doing here?

Julian smirks, stepping closer and lowering his voice into a taunt.

JULIAN

28

Heard about your little "arrangement" with Lillian. Thought I'd see if you're really that desperate for money... or just missing my touch.

Sergei stiffens beside Orion, fists clenching in silent warning. Julian deliberately flicks a glance at him before turning back to Orion.

JULIAN (CONT'D)
You know how it worksone night only. Don't start thinking you can replace me with some mercenary wannabe.

Orion's jaw tightens; the room hums with tension between them like a storm ready to break.

LILLIAN (V. O.)
So this is who he was talking about Damn it!

She forcefully shoves Sergei aside and storms forward, standing directly between them without hesitationher gaze sharp and unyielding toward Julian.

LILLIAN
I don't care who you think I am! And I'm not here because of himI have my own reasons for working on this ship!

Her words hit like thunder. For a moment, even Julian falters under her fierce glare before recovering smoothlyand then leaning in slightly toward her with mocking charm.

JULIAN
Oh? A woman wandering into danger all alone? That sounds more like someone looking for trouble than running from it

29

The edge in his tone makes Lillian bristle instantlyanger flaring behind her eyesbut before she can respond

A loud knock interrupts the charged atmosphere again. The door swings open swiftly

And Chloe enters immediately afterwith haste written all over her face as she rushes straight past everyone toward Lillian without missing a beat or acknowledging anyone else present first.)

CHLOE
Miss Doyle! You left so suddenly yesterdayI've been worried sick!(grabs Lillian's hands tightly)

LILLIAN
Chloe?! What are you doing here?

CHLOE
I came straight from work when I heard you'd gone missing! Thank God you're okay...

As Chloe speaks softly to comfort Lillianthe tension among the others remains thick but unspokenthe door slams shut once more behind them.

Then footsteps echo down the halland another figure appears: Emily Walker strides confidently into view.
Emily's sharp gaze sweeps across everyone inside lingering briefly on Chloe before settling firmly on Lillian.

EMILY

EMILY
Let's be clearif you want to stay here, you'll follow my lead. Otherwise, there are plenty of other places that would love to have a woman like you

Lillian exhales slowly, her eyes cold but steady.

LILLIAN (COLDLY)
I'm not here because I need anything from any of you. I came back for one reason: to confront him.

Her gaze locks on Julian across the room.

31

And if he won't face me? Then I don't belong anywhere near someone who runs away from their own wife.

Julian stiffens, his expression darkening instantly as he steps forward.

JULIAN (SNAPPING)
You think this is about you? You're pathetic! Just another spoiled little brat who thinks the world owes her something!

He moves closer, voice low but venomouseach word designed to cut deep into Lillian's pride and self-worth.

JULIAN (CONT'D)

The room falls silent againthe tension thick enough to choke onas everyone watches the simmering confrontation unfold between them...

SUDDENLY

A loud THUD echoes through the hallway outside. The door bursts open with a violent crashand two shadowy figures step inside: masked thugs flanking Chloe Doyle's bodyguard Sergei Volkov .

Their presence immediately shifts the atmospherea dangerous undercurrent rippling beneath every breath...

GUEST 1
This isn't your fight anymore.(smirks)we're taking Ms. Doyle with us now...

32

Sergei steps protectively in front of Lillian , his stance firm and unyieldingbut even then, the power imbalance feels overwhelming. Lillian glances at him briefly before turning back toward Emily. Just as she opens her mouth, to speak

The lights suddenly CUT OUT plunging everything into darkness . The sound of heavy footsteps fills the hallway outside.

The door slams shut once more ---and then silence

Everyone freezes mid-motionthe uncertainty hanging thick in the air like smokeuntil finally

The emergency light flickers back on revealing Chloe standing calmly at center stage. Her arm rests casually around a tall figure behind her : Orion Dominguez .

CHLOE
Well welllook what we have here. A lost little lamb finally showing up at our doorstep.(smirks)

Emily gasps quietly, Amazed by Chloe's unexpected appearance. Chloe walks over confidently , her eyes locking onto Lily with thinly veiled disdain..

CHLOE
No way... you really did come all this way just for me?

She leans close, speaking softly, but every word drips with mockery .

33

How flattering... but sorry. I already made myself perfectly clear last time. You've got no chance against menot now , not ever

Her tone cuts through Lily like ice shards . Lily exhales slowly---steadily regaining control---

Before she can respond,

Chloe suddenly reaches out ---grabbing hold of Lillian 's hair. She yanks hard --twisting violently--

CHLOE (SNEERING)
Looks like you're still too dumb--to know when it's time to give up!(laughs cruelly)

She shoves hard---sending Lillian to stumble backward. Falling straight into Emily 's waiting arms --

EMILY (ACCUSINGLY)
What do YOU want?(snarls) You worthless bitch, you've been chasing after my man for years. Can't get it through your thick skull that he's mine?

Emily leans closer, Lilly shrinks instinctively --eyes wide. Unable or unwillingto move--

Take careof her. Make sure she never sees Orion again!

Chadley nods eagerly. Moving forward without hesitation. He grabs holdof Lilly ' s arm ---pulling tight---

His grip sends pain radiating upwards. Lilly grits her teeth. Tears forming. But refuses to break eye contactwith Emily ...

Before anyone can react,

A sudden commotion erupts outside

Heavy FOOTSTEPS pounding against concrete walls. Screams echo down narrow hallways. The unmistakable sounds of chaos and destruction spreading rapidly throughoutthe building

Everyone freezes mid-actionthe shockwave hitting them all at once. The atmosphere shifting instantly from tense confrontationto outright panic

SERGEI (ALARMED)
What's happening?!

Orion narrows his eyes. Immediately reaching out. He grips Lilly ' s wrist firmly. And pullsher close. Protectively

His voice calm but commanding :

ORION (LOW & FIRM)
Move. Now !

He takes off running towards an exit pulling Lilly along behind him. Every step deliberate, every movement precise. As if they were bornfor moments exactlylike this ...

INT. ABANDONED WAREHOUSE - NIGHT

The building shakes violently as the explosion rips through it. Debris rains down, and dust clouds fill the air.

SERGEI (PANICKED)
This place is coming down!

LILLIAN (STRUGGLING)
Sergei, help me! I can't move!

Orion pulls Lillian close to his chest in one swift motion.

He grabs her legs with one arm and hooks them around his waist.

With a single powerful leap, he clears the crumbling stairs and lands on solid ground outside.

He drops to one knee, then stands without breaking stridehis grip never faltering for even a second.

ORION
We're not safe yet. Move quickly!

He turns back toward the warehouse entrance at onceleading everyone away from dangerbut stops abruptly when he sees

Emily standing defiantly in front of himwith Julian by her sidetheir eyes full of cold calculation.

EMILY (SMIRKING)
Thought you could just walk out like that?

36

No way we're letting you escape this time. You'll all pay for what you did to Chloe!

BEFORE ANYONE CAN REACT

Julian suddenly lunges forwardand slams into Orion's back with brutal force.

The impact sends Orion crashing forward onto his kneesthen face-first against the pavement below.
Silence falls over everyone except for Orion's ragged breathing

His hand instinctively reaches behind himselfto grab hold of whatever had hit him...

Only to find nothing but empty air.
Julian smirks triumphantlyand moves closer stillto deliver another punishing blow

But before he can land it

A shadow suddenly sweeps across himfrom above
Chloe drops straight down from a nearby ledgein perfect formand drives both fists into Julian's chest with explosive power.
She strikes again and again until Julian collapses onto the ground like broken machinery.
Everyone watches stunnedas Chloe rises slowly from their fallen foe
Her hair loose around her shouldersher expression calm but fierceher body radiating raw energy

CHLOE

You should have stayed dead.
Orion stares at Chloe in disbelieffor several seconds too long...
Then something snaps inside him
Without hesitation or thought

37

He rushes forwardand throws himself into Chloe's embrace.
ORION (whispering)
My darling... my beloved...
Forgetting everything else forgetting who they are forgetting where they stand
They cling together tightlya man and woman reunited after years apart...
Their bodies pressed so close that every breath feels shared,
Every heartbeat synchronized,
Every lingering touch igniting flames beneath their skin...

And no matter how much chaos surrounds themthey remain lost within each other's arms

UNTIL FINALLY
Orion lifts his head slightly, and looks deep into Chloe's eyes

ORION
Let's go home now... please?
Chloe nods softly. Like she's been waiting forever just to hear those words. She leans up kisses him deeply

Then takes Lillian's hand firmly in hers. And together. They turn toward freedom.

EXT. CITY STREET OUTSIDE THE WAREHOUSE - NIGHT

Police sirens wail faintly in the distance. The crowd disperses quickly. As officers arrive. Chloe leads Lillian away calmly. Orion follows closely behind. His gaze flickers briefly toward Emily. And then settles fully on Chloe. He smiles. A smile meant only for her.

Lillian and Chloe sit on the couch, both in pajamas. A plate of cookies rests between them.

CHLOE
This is good! Who made it?

LILLIAN
I did. I used my mom's recipe.

Chloe takes another bite, smiling warmly.

CHLOE
You're full of surprises, Lillian.

They share a quiet moment, their eyes meeting softlythen suddenly

A LOUD CRASH echoes from the bedroom!

Both women jump up instinctively and rush to the door it's locked from inside.

LILLIAN (CONT'D)
Orion? Are you okay?!

No response. Just silence.

39

The two exchange worried glances before they force the door open together

Inside, Orion lies sprawled across the bedcompletely nakedwith his arms wrapped tightly around a pillow as if hugging someone else

His breathing is heavy his body slick with sweat

Chloe freezes mid-stepthe sight hitting her like a punch to the gut

She stares at him for a long beat before letting out an anguished cry:

CHLOE
Orion!!

She throws herself onto him without hesitationtears streaming down her face as she clings desperately to his bare chest

He jolts awake instantlyeyes wide with shockand grabs her shoulders firmly:

He pulls her closer, kissing her neck deeply. Chloe lets out a soft moan, running her fingers through his hair.

CHLOE
(teasing)
You're insatiable tonight

ORION
(grinning)
Only for you.

They kiss again fiercely. Suddenly, the door bursts open Lillian stands there, eyes red from crying but burning with rage and heartbreak.

LILLIAN (V. O.)
This is my home too I deserve answers!

She steps inside without hesitation or permission. Orion freezes mid-kiss; Chloe's eyes widen in shock.

ORION
(coldly)
Did you really think I'd choose you over Chloe?

Lillian's breath catches. Her fists clench at her sides.

(bitter smile)
No I just thought

Before she can finish, he steps forward and grabs her wrist roughly. The sudden contact snaps Lillian out of her daze. She stumbles slightly but keeps her balance.

ORION
(firmly)
She's everything to methe only one worth saving my life for!

He yanks her toward him violently, pinning one side of her waist against his own chest while twisting the other arm behind her back like a weapon lock. Lillian struggles instinctively but finds no leverage against his superior strength;

she grits her teeth and stays silent insteadher body pressed tightly into his chest as he leans down close enough that

I just wanted to see your face one last time...

47

Her body slumps to the floor as she drifts into sleep.

Suddenly, a hand grips her shoulder tightlyORION stands behind her, his expression cold and unreadable.

ORION
(firmly)
You're not going anywhere tonight.

He lifts her effortlessly into his arms and carries her toward the bed. He sets her down gently but firmly, leaving no space between them as he pins her beneath him. His fingers grip hers tightlytoo tightand she bites back a sharp cry of pain.

Lillian's eyes widen in shock; she struggles weakly under his weight but can't break free from his hold or grip on hers. Her breath catches at every movement he makes; despite herself, desire flickers through fear and confusionbut then reality hits again

Her gaze locks onto Orion's lips inches awaytheir shadows mingling in dim moonlightand suddenly everything explodes inside her head:

She jerks violently upward with all remaining strength!

Their lips crash together hard rough force meets desperate will a brutal kiss that leaves both gasping for air

For a moment neither moves. Then slowly

Suddenly, she stirs and sits up abruptly.

LILLIAN (V. O.)
Where am I? Why do I feel so strange?

She glances down at herself naked under the sheets.

Her eyes widen in shock as she recalls flashes of memory: their kiss... Orion's hands...

Oh my god... Did we?!

Before she can fully process, the door swings open. The curtains flutter with a sudden gust of wind.

Orion steps inside calmly and closes the door behind him without locking it.

He approaches the bed slowly, his gaze fixed on her bare skin exposed above the blanket.

ORION
You're awake?

A mix of panic and embarrassment floods Lillian's face instantly. She grabs a pillow from beside her and holds it tightly against her chest while sitting forward on top of the covers determined to cover herself completely but still trembling nervously.)

LILLIAN

INT. LOWER DECK - NIGHT

Lillian stumbles into the dimly lit lower deck, her bare feet hitting the cold floor.

She glances around nervously, then hurriedly slips into a small storage room at the end of the corridor.

The door creaks shut behind her.

ORION (O. S.)

Lilly!

He rushes down the stairs but stops when he hears nothing more than silence.

Orion's jaw tightens in frustration as he scans his surroundings, then turns back upstairs to search elsewhere on the ship.

His footsteps fade away.

LILLIAN (V. O.)

I can't go back out there... not like this...

Her eyes land on a stack of old crates and barrels tucked in one corneran idea strikes her.

52

Without hesitation, she grabs an empty barrel and drags it toward herself. She pulls herself inside it like a makeshift hiding place, curling up tightly as best she can within its narrow confines. Her hair spills over one side of the barrel's rim.

Then she holds her breath and listens intently through slitted eyes

Silence fills the room for long moments before faint footsteps drift past outside again growing distant with each step until they vanish completely .

Only then does Lillian finally exhale slowly , allowing herself to relax just slightly .

Suddenly from deep within that hidden storage space comes a soft sound :

A low groan . A cough . Then quiet breathing .

Startled , Lillian freezes momentarily realizing something else is here too . She carefully peeks over edge of barrel

Beneath stacks of crates nearby lies Sergei VOLKOV (40s), injured but alive , wrapped loosely in blankets with bruised face partially visible under shadows . He shifts uncomfortably before his eyes open fully and focus directly on hers .

Sergei's gaze sharpens, scanning her from head to toe.

SERGEI
(quietly)
Why are you dressed like that? And why hide here?

Lillian glances at the barrel she emerged from, then back at Sergeiembarrassed and defensive.

LILLIAN
I was hiding from Orion! I didn't want him to find me

She hesitates, then blurts out.

LILLIAN (CONT'D)
And maybe I wanted a place to rest my legs

Her face flushes red as she realizes what she just said. She quickly turns away in shame.

SERGEI

(COCKING AN EYEBROW)

Rest your legs? What do you mean?

Before Lillian can respond, a loud KNOCK echoes through the hold. Both freeze instantly.

ORION'S VOICE (O. S.)

INT. DECK - NIGHT

The ship rocks gently under the moonlight. Lillian and Sergei walk side by side, their expressions unreadable.

LILLIAN (V. O.)
Sergei is hiding something, I can feel it... But what?

Her gaze drifts to the horizon.

LILLIAN
And Orion? He's different from you colder somehow.

SERGEI (CHUCKLING SOFTLY)
He's just a bit more stubborn than me.

They share a brief smile before falling into silence again.

Suddenly from behind them comes an eerie sound: a faint whispering carried by the wind, almost like chanting...

56

Both freeze in place, eyes scanning the darkness beyond the deck railing. The murmurs grow louder haunting and unnatural sending chills down their spines.

Lillian grips Sergei's arm instinctively as they turn toward each other in alarm

A SHADOWY FIGURE suddenly emerges from between two barrels nearby!

It moves swiftly and silently towards them

Before either reactsthe figure lunges forwardgrabbing Lillian firmly around her waist with one hand while covering her mouth tightly with the other!

She lets out a muffled scream

Sergei immediately spins aroundand swings hard at their attackerbut misses completely as he crashes against another barrel instead! The shadowy figure vanishes back into darkness without even looking back

Sergei scrambles to his feet quicklyhis eyes dart frantically across every inch of space surrounding him

But no sign remains of whoever had attacked them moments ago

Only empty barrels standing still beneath cold moonlight

His breathing ragged nowfrom exertion or fearit's impossible to tell

He turns abruptly toward Lillianhis expression sharp yet urgent:

SERGEI

57

Are you okay?!

Still shaken but otherwise unharmed, Lilian nods slowly

Then glances downward at herselfrealization dawning on her face:

LILLIAN
Wait where did that guy go?!

She looks up again towards Sergeiwith sudden panic flashing across her features:

LILLIAN (CONT'D)
Oh my godI'm so sorryI forgot! I promised Mr. Domínguez I'd meet him here fifteen minutes ago for some important business...

Her voice trembles slightly as she takes hesitant steps backward away from Sergei

SERGEI
What are you talking about?! We need to get off this ship right now!!

Before she can respondor make another movethe distant sound of hurried footsteps echoes through the night air once more...

This time much closer than before

Both spin around simultaneouslyto see ORION DOMINGUEZ striding purposefully onto deck at full speed,

His coat flaring wildly behind him,

Eyes blazing red-hot fury straight ahead -

Toward nothing else but LILIAN DOYLE .

ORION
You bitch!!! How dare you run away from me!!!

58

Without hesitation , Orion charges forward -

Grabbing hold of Lilian's wrist tightly with both hands -

Their fingers locking together violently -

As if trying to crush hers completely within his iron grip !

The impact sends shockwaves rippling through both bodies instantly-

Leaving neither able nor willing anymore try resisting fate itself .

Still think you can resist?

He kisses a trail from her mouth down to her neck. Lillian bites back a moan and twists in his grasp.

LILLIAN
(gritting teeth)
I'm not yours I don't belong to anyone!

Orion chuckles darkly, leaning closer until their noses almost touch.

ORION
(firm yet playful)
Then why do you keep coming back?

Before she can answer, he captures her lips againthis time deeper, more possessive. His tongue brushes hers lightly; she gasps involuntarily against it.

Her resistance crumbles for just a seconda flicker of hesitation before snapping back into control as she shoves him hard in the chest.

LILLIAN (CONT'D)
(breathless but steady)
Enough games! You want answers? Fine. But not like this!

She pushes past him toward the doorbut Orion moves faster. With effortless strength, he sweeps her up into his arms

The crew member who called them is visibly shaken, pacing back and forth.

CREW MEMBER
It's Miss Lillian! She she fell overboard!

Sergei immediately rushes toward the deck. Orion grabs his shoulder firmly, stopping him.

ORION
Waithow did this happen?

CREW MEMBER (NERVOUSLY)
I don't know! There was a strugglebetween her and that woman you brought aboard, Captain!

He points shakily toward LILLIAN'S CABIN at the end of the hall.

CREW MEMBER (CONT'D)
They were fightingthe door slammed shutand then suddenly there was a loud crash. When we broke in... she was gone!

68

Orion's eyes darken with shock as he processes this information. He glances briefly at Sergei before sprinting toward Lillian's cabin without another word.

SERGEI (ALARMED)
Captainwait!

But it's too late; Orion disappears around the corner like a shadow in motion.

Sergei hesitates for only a moment before following him without question, both men charging through the ship with urgency etched into every step.

INT. LILLIAN'S CABIN CONTINUOUS

The door bursts open. Orion and Sergei rush inside.

Orion scans the room, eyes narrowing in frustration.

ORION
Where is she?!

SERGEI
(panicked)
Captain! There's a window leading to the deck!

Orion bolts toward the window, yanks it open, and looks outempty ocean below.

His jaw tightens. He slams his fist against the wall.

ORION (V. O.)
Damn it... if I'd been just five seconds faster

69

He spins around, eyes blazing with fury as he turns back to Sergei.

ORION (COLDLY)
Find her! Every crew member who was near this cabintrack her down now!

Sergei nods immediately and dashes out without hesitation.

Orion stands alone in Lillian's cabin, fists clenched tightly at his sides. His gaze lingers on a photo of him and Lillian resting on a shelfa rare moment of softness flickers across his face before hardening again into determination.

He strides purposefully toward the doorand freezes when he spots something small lying on the floor by the window: A pendant glinting faintly in sunlight, half-buried under shattered glass from outside wind pressure.

He picks up the pendant slowly. His breath hitches for just an instantthen snaps back into sharp focus as realization hits him like a thunderclap:

ORION (SHOCKED)
This This is Lily's necklace!

His fingers tighten instinctively around itbut then he notices something else: The way shards of glass scatter outward from where she disappearedthe pattern clearly points away from the ship...

A slow dawning horror spreads across his features as all pieces click together

ORION (HORRIFIED)
She didn't fall overboard... She was pushed off this ship!!

EXT. DECK CONTINUOUS

Orion freezes mid-stride when his gaze falls on the scattered glass againtheir angles suddenly clicking into place in his mind like a cruel puzzle piece snapping shut.

His eyes widen in shock and horror as realization hits him full force

ORION (HORRIFIED)
She didn't fall overboard... She was pushed off this ship!!

He spins sharply around to face Sergeihis voice low but burning with rage and disbelief.

ORION (CONT'D)
There was no way she could have jumped by herself Someone here betrayed us!

Sergei stiffens instantly at Orion's accusationbut before he can respond

Suddenlytwo crewmembers burst back onto deck panting heavily, their faces pale with urgency. One holds up Lily's bracelet high for both men to seea vivid splash of red paint smeared across its surface: "TRAITOR" scrawled boldly across it in black letters.

EXT. SHIP DECK - NIGHT

The crew members fall silent, the bracelet hanging between them like a noose.

ORION (COLD, COMMANDING)
Everyoneshow me your wrists.

One by one, the crew raise their arms. Each wrist bears an identical tattoo: a single red dot encircled in black.

Orion's eyes narrow as he steps closer to each member, scanning every detail with precision and suspicion.

ORION (CONT'D)
No one else could have pushed her off... Unless it was someone among us.

He turns sharply toward Sergei, his gaze sharp and accusing.

ORION (CONT'D)
Sergei! You were closest to her when she fell!

SERGEI
(shaking head firmly)
I swearI would never harm Lily!

Suddenlywhispers ripple through the crowd. One crewmember steps forward hesitantlya woman named CLAIRE WINTERS (30).

CLAIRE
(voice trembling)
Captain I saw something strange earlier

73

She glances nervously at another figure in the shadows behind them JAMES CARTER (40), cold and calculating before continuing in a hushed tone:

CLAIRE (CONT'D)
James was arguing with Lily about that pendant He looked furious Then suddenlyhe grabbed her wrist

Her voice falters as James lunges forward violently toward Claire's throatbut Orion reacts instantly. He grabs James' collar with one hand while yanking him backward across his body like a rag dolland slams him hard against the ship railing behind them.

JAMES
(struggling weakly)
Let go of me!!

Orion presses down on James' shoulder mercilesslythe man groans under his grip but refuses to break eye contact with Lillian's fallen form nearby on deck where she lies motionless...

ORION
(grim expression)

You're under arrest for attempted murder against Miss Doyle!

James struggles againbut before anyone can react further

A sudden shout cuts through the tension from above:

GREGORY VANCE

(POINTING FRANTICALLY)

74

Look out!!

Everyone snaps their heads upward just as several heavy crates topple overboard from The Tempest 's upper deck railingswith deadly force crashing downward straight toward Lillian below... Her lifeless body remains stillunaware of the imminent

(VOICE BREAKING)

No... Lily!

Orion's face drains of color. He lunges forward without hesitation, ripping at the wreckage with desperate hands.

ORION DOMINGUEZ

(GRUNTING)

Lily! Hold onI've got you!

He pulls her free and slams into the deck hard beside her. Time seems to stop as he cradles her fragile form against his chest.

Her eyelids flutter slightlybarely perceptible movement.

Sergei rushes over from behind him, crouching beside Orion. His voice is strained but urgent.

SERGEI VOLKOV

She's breathing... just barely! We need to get her below decknow!

As Sergei moves to lift Lillian carefully, Orion grabs his wrist firmlynot letting go of her for even a second.

ORION DOMINGUEZ

(FIERCE DETERMINATION)

I'm not handing her over until she wakes up in my arms againand I know she's okay!

JAMES WILSON steps forward cautiously, guilt flashing across his features as he stammers

JAMES WILSON

Captain this was all my fault

Before anyone can react further

A faint sound escapes Lillian's lipsa soft moan mixed with a shuddering breathand suddenly,

HER EYES SNAP OPEN WITH A JOLT OF SHOCKED AWARENESS!!

Her gaze locks onto Orion instantlytheir eyes snapping together like two magnets pulled tight by an invisible force...

LILLIAN (V. O.)
Why am I looking at him again? Damn it! My head is spinning...

ORION stares back, equally stunned. Their eyes meet the tension between them crackles like static electricity.

SUDDENLY

The door bursts open with a bang.

Sergei storms in, his face pale and panicked.

SERGEI
Captain! The cargo hold is flooding!

Orion snaps out of his daze immediately. His body tenses like a coiled spring before he bolts toward the door without hesitation.

ORION
Stay here!

77

He slams the door shut behind him and rushes out into darkness.

Lillian exhales shakily, her heart pounding wildly in her chest. She presses both hands to her temples, trying to steady herself but failing miserably dizziness clouds her mind even more than before.

She sinks slowly down against the wall, sliding until she's sitting on the floor defeated and disoriented.

Her thoughts spiral uncontrollably:

LILLIAN (V. O.)
What just happened?! Why did my lips move on their own? No... I didn't mean to say anything... And why does he look soso

Before she can finish thinking it through,

A sharp CRASH echoes from outside glass shatters somewhere nearby with a deafening smash!

Her breath catches instantly. She jolts upright in terror before stumbling clumsily toward the window frame beside her seat; gripping it tightly for support as fear courses through every nerve ending

LILLIAN (SCREAMING)

James!!

She rushes forward, but the crowd blocks her path.

CROWD MEMBER 1

It's no use! He's gone!

LILLIAN (shaking her head, refusing to accept it)

No... no...

Her gaze sweeps desperately through the wreckagethen freezes on a small movement beneath the debris.

A hand twitches.

LILLIAN (VOICE BREAKING)

James?

Suddenly, James stirs violentlya sharp cry escaping his lips as he struggles against the crushing weight of wood and metal. His body convulses uncontrollably under the pressure.

JAMES (GROANING WEAKLY)

Ah... ahh...

Blood drips from his forehead onto the planks below him. His legs kick spasmodicallybut he can't move an inch forward or backward; trapped completely by fallen crates above and behind him.

His face twists in agony

THEN SUDDENLY STILLNESS AGAIN

The crowd gasishes around themhelpless, frozen in shock at what they just witnessed

Orion collapses to his knees beside James' crushed formhis chest rising and falling rapidly from exertionand places both hands on top of James' shaking shoulders,

ORION

Hang on hang on I'm here now

He pulls at James' shoulders with all his strength

ORION (CONT'D)

You're going home tonight!

But there is nothing left to pullthe crate stacks are immovable; solid walls made of broken timber blocking every direction except downwards

ORION EXHALES SHARPLY

81

His fingers tremble violently against James' skin

ORION (CONT'D)

I'll save youI swear itI will find another way!

He looks up toward Lillian then back down at James without hesitation,

ORION
(urgent)
Tools! Anything sharp or heavy!

He spots a toolbox near the railing and grabs it.

ORION (CONT'D)
(to himself)
Come on... come on...

He hurries back below deck.

INT. SHIP - BELOW DECK - NIGHT

82

The cargo hold is dimly lit by flickering lanterns. Orion bursts in with toolbox in hand. Lillian's face lights up with hope.

LILLIAN
(firm)
You found themgood.

She snatches a crowbar from the box and moves toward James, who groans softly under the crates.

JAMES (pained)
Orion help me

Before they can start working, footsteps echo above deckthe ship creaks violently as wind howls through cracks in the walls.

SUDDENLY

A massive crate topples over from above, smashing into Lillian's side with brutal force. She crashes against James beneath it, both gasping in pain as blood seeps from her temple wound once againthis time much heavier than beforeand she collapses unconscious immediately after impact..

(shocked)
Lilly!!

His voice breaks; he struggles to move but his body won't respond too crushed beneath fallen woodwork .

ORION
(frantic)
No! I'm coming just hang on!

83

Without hesitation , Orion drops everything . He charges straight at those collapsing crates overhead , fists pounding relentlessly until they finally give way piece by piece .

One last blow shatters what remains . The path clears .

Orion lunges forward without pause , arms wide open ready to catch Lilly

INSTEAD

Her body twists sideways mid-air , landing hard against nearby barrels stacked along wall .

The impact sends splinters flying everywhere .

Lilly collapses motionless among broken wood shards ; blood pooling rapidly around her head wound which bleeds heavily now due to severe trauma caused by repeated impacts ..

James watches helplessly as Orion freezes beside him neither daring move closer fearing another collapse might bury them both alive forever next second ...

SUDDENLY

The entire cargo hold trembles violently again !

More crates shift precariously overhead

AND THEN

84

You're safe now.

LILLIAN (V. O.)
Orion... he saved me again. But why?

She studies him carefullyhis sharp profile, his piercing gaze softened by concern.

Could... could this be love? No, I can't afford distractions right now.

She turns away slightly, curling into herself to hide her face.

ORION notices and hesitates before sitting beside her. He places a hand lightly on her shoulder.

ORION
You've been through hell tonight... We'll get you cleaned up soon. Rest for now.

He stands and exits quietly as she exhales in relief but quickly closes off again turning back toward the wall with arms crossed tightly over her chest.

LILLIAN (V. O.)
I shouldn't let my guard down around him...

Suddenlyher stomach rumbles loudly from hunger. She freezes in embarrassment and glances at the door just as it opens again

JAMES enters carrying food wrapped in cloth.

JAMES
Captain told me to bring this here for you...

93

He hands it over awkwardly then lingers near the doorway nervously before retreating when their eyes meet briefly both uncomfortable but unwilling to leave first.

ORION
(cold, dismissive)
The crew doesn't need me right now. Someone else does.

Sergei's eyes narrow as he steps closer, anger radiating from every pore.

SERGEI

98

Are you seriously putting her above your duty? You think she needs protection more than the crew needs leadership?

Before Orion can respond, Lillian appears behind himher expression calm but unmistakably commanding.

LILLIAN (V. O.)
Let's see how far his loyalty really goes...

She leans in close to Orion and whispers just loud enough for Sergei to hear:

LILLIAN
Captain if protecting me means risking the ship or endangering anyone elseyou know what I'll do.

She turns on her heel and walks out without another word.

Sergei watches her retreating figure with disbelief before slamming a fist against the wall beside Orion's headthen spins

SERGEI
This is madness! You're letting yourself be manipulated by a mercenary who just happened onto our path!

Orion meets his gaze steadily, unflinchingas if Sergei's entire argument were laughable nonsense.

ORION
And you're still too blind to see it: she saved my life today. Twice overand that wasn't part of any plan or deal

Your word? You're nothing but a coward who ran away from your responsibilities!

ORION (CALMLY)
And you're just bitter because I won't let you bully her anymore.

He turns to Lillian, his tone softening slightly yet firm in conviction.

ORION (CONT'D)
Lillian once we reach the ruins, I'll make sure you get everything you deserve. But until then

His eyes lock onto hers with quiet determination.

ORION (CONT'D)
You stay hereon this shipand nowhere else. Understood?

LILLIAN
(smiling teasingly)
What if I don't want to?

She steps forward and brushes lightly against his chesta deliberate move that sends a ripple of tension through the room.

Her fingers linger for just a moment before she pulls back with playful defiance in her eyes.

Just testing your resolve Captain Dominguez seems quite firm tonight.
She turns toward the door but pauses at the threshold, glancing over her shoulder one last timewith an irresistible smile.
Then she leaves without another word.

Orion exhales slowly as soon as he hears the door close behind her.

His gaze shifts sharply to Sergei every inch the commanding officer again.

Her gaze drifts toward the door as she finishes eatingstill no sign of him returning.

Suddenlythe room grows cold. The lights flicker and go out completely.

A heavy silence fills the spacea faint rustling sound emerges from somewhere dark nearby...

Lillian stiffens instinctively as her eyes dart around wildly in fear!

The shadows shift again! A figure suddenly lunges forward

It's ORION! His arms wrap tightly around hers from behind!

He pulls her close against his chest their breathing ragged their faces inches apart

His lips brush lightly against hers...

102

Then he lets go abruptly and spins away without another word before disappearing into thin air like smoke...

The lights snap back on instantly leaving only stunned silence behind

LILLIAN
What the hell just happened?!

Before she can react furtherher phone vibrates urgently in her pocket:

MALE CREW MEMBER (TEXT)
Captain! Someone sabotaged the ship's power system!

LILLIAN (V. O.)
That must have been Orion... but why?

Her mind races with possibilities

SLOWLY REGAINING COMPOSURE

She grabs her coat and rushes toward the deck without hesitation...

EXT./INT. SHIP DECK - CONTINUOUS

The wind whips fiercely across open water -

Moonlight shimmers off restless waves -

Just ahead: an island covered by dense jungle lies within sight-

Crew members scramble nervously along rails while others work frantically below decks trying to restore power -

A tense atmosphere hangs thick over everything tonight

103

Only one person remains perfectly composed amidst chaos

ORION stands alone near bow rail staring intently through darkness towards shore---

WHEN LILLIAN APPROACHES--

ORION looks back calmly --

Their eyes meet briefly before shifting immediately away again --

No words exchanged between them---

ONLY UNSPOKEN TENSION REMAINING---

They both know exactly what just happenedand neither is ready yetto face it head-on.

INT. THE TEMPEST - CAPTAIN'S QUARTERS - NIGHT

LILLIAN enters, finding ORION seated at his desk, a map spread before him.

LILLIAN
(surprised)
Captain? It's late. What are you still doing here?

ORION looks up, his expression unreadable but calm.

ORION
The ship's systems were sabotaged earlier. I needed to ensure everything is secure before we sail.

He gestures toward the map.

104

And plan our route carefully given the circumstances.

Lillian steps closer, her gaze lingering on him longer than necessary. She leans in slightly just enough to catch his attention without overtly crossing any boundaries.

LILLIAN
(teasing)
You've been acting strange lately... Is there something you want from me?

She brushes past him deliberately, her scent lingering in the air as she moves toward the doorthen pauses and turns back with a playful smirk.

LILLIAN (CONT'D)
Or maybe... someone else caught your eye?

Before Orion can respond, Lillian exits confidently and closes the door behind her with a soft click.

Orion exhales slowly and returns his focus to the maphis jaw tightening ever so slightly as he contemplates what lies ahead for them both.

EPISODE 50

INT. ORION'S CABIN - NIGHT

Orion remains silent, staring at the map with a faint smile lingering on his lips.

ORION (V. O.)
Lillian's jealousy is so obvious... and yet, it makes me happy.

He looks up toward the door one last time before turning back to the map, lost in thought.

ORION (V. O.) (CONT'D)
Sooner or later she'll realize that I'm not interested in anyone else only her...

Suddenly he grabs a nearby pen and quickly scribbles something down on a piece of paper. He slips it into an envelope, seals it carefully with wax, then places it prominently atop the map.

Satisfied, he finally stands and heads for the doorpausing briefly to glance back at the sealed letter before quietly exiting without making a sound.

CUT TO

EXT. SHIP DECK - NIGHT

The moonlight bathes everything in silver as Orion steps out onto deck just as Lillian appears from below stairs and walks toward him. Their eyes meet instantly; tension crackles between them like static electricity.

without warning Lillian crosses distance between them in two quick strides grabbing Orion by both shoulders with forceful urgency while pulling his face closer until their noses almost touch.

LILLIAN
(angry)
Why did you sabotage The Tempest?! Who was behind this?!

106

Orion stares deep into her eyes for several long beats before finally answering calm but firm:

ORION
It was me. I didn't want anyone else aboard except you...

His words hang heavy in silence between them neither willing to break eye contact first.
Then suddenly:

LILLIAN
(scoffs)
You idiot! You could've gotten us all killed!

She shoves him hard against railingsending him stumbling backward over edge into water below with splashy finality

Her fury spent she turns sharply away without another word

Only then does she notice something strange lying forgotten near where they'd stood: The sealed letter resting atop navigation table inside cabin

Curious despite herself Lillian picks up envelopebreaks sealpulls out paperand begins reading aloud hesitantly:

LILLIAN (CONT'D)
(reading) "Dear Miss Doyle"

Her voice falters completely when she reaches final line:

"... Please accept my marriage proposal."

Shock freezes expression solid across face as realization dawns fully

107

She spins around abruptlystorming straight back toward captain's quarters without hesitation

EPISODE 51

INT. ORION'S QUARTERS - NIGHT

The door slams shut behind her.

LILLIAN (V. O.)
What the hell is this?! Orion... why would he propose?

She paces, running her hands through her hair.

Her fingers tighten around the proposal letter. She exhales sharply and storms back out.

EXT. SHIP DECK - NIGHT

The moonlight glints off the restless waves as Lillian strides toward the bow, clutching the paper like a lifeline.

ORION stands at the prow, his coat flapping in the windeyes fixed on nothing but distance.

LILLIAN
(voice sharp with anger)
Orion!

He turns slowly, expression unreadablethen freezes when he sees her face.

Before she can say anything else

ORION

108

(cutting in coldly)
You should've been asleep hours ago. What are you doing here?

His gaze flicks over to her hands holding something unseen by him yet utterly infuriating to Lillian herselfand then back up into her eyes with subtle suspicion laced beneath his tone.

LILLIAN
I think we need to talk about what's inside this envelope!

She shoves it toward him without hesitation or gracethe wind catches loose papers from within them fluttering across deck boards like mocking leaves scattered by fate itself

Orion's eyes snap downward instinctivelyand freeze again as realization hits hard: one of those flying sheets was clearly a marriage proposal addressed "To Miss Doyle."

Silence crashes between them like thunder before either reacts

THEN SUDDENLY

ORION lunges forward and pulls Lillian into an intense kiss that steals every breath from both their lungs at once his arms locking tightly around hers against gravity's call

For several seconds no sound exists beyond crashing waves and pounding hearts until finally

109

He breaks away abruptly leans close enough for warmth but keeps space enough for control

ORION (CONT'D)
(smooth yet commanding)
Enough nonsense tonight . You're tired . Go rest .

Without waiting for response , he steps back , voice dropping low

ORION (CONT'D)
And don't let me catch you sneaking around again .

With deliberate finality , he turns sharply on heel coat collar rising slightly against night air and strides purposefully down corridor leaving stunned silence where confrontation once threatened

A breeze picks up again scattering remaining papers further still

Among them lies one sheet folded carefully twice over: clear handwriting reads "Marry Me" next to small heart symbol below signature "Orion Dominguez".

It drifts lazily toward waterline just before ship tilts slightly under shifting current

INT. SHIP'S DINING ROOM - NIGHT

The room is dimly lit, the table set for two. Lillian enters, her face a mask of cold fury.

LILLIAN (V. O.)
Orionwhat's he thinking?

She slams the door shut behind her and storms to the table.

LILLIAN
(voice sharp)
Whoever you areyou're not my husband!

She throws down a napkin on his side of the table with deliberate force.

LILLIAN (CONT'D)
I'm leaving first thing in the morning. And don't expect me back anytime soon!

ORION stands from his seat, watching her with an unreadable expression.

ORION
(softly)
It's too late for that now.

He steps closer, closing the distance between them until there's barely any space left just enough for their shadows to mingle against the wall behind him.

ORION (CONT'D)
You wanted answers about why I proposed marriage right? Tonight at midnight come find me on deck. I'll tell you everything then.

Without waiting for a response, Orion turns and leaveshis footsteps echoing down the corridor as Lillian watches him go, tension still simmering beneath her skin.

EXT. SHIP DECK - MIDNIGHT

111

The ship creaks softly under moonlight. The wind carries salt and mystery through every breath of air as Orion leans casually against railing hands tucked deep into coat pockets gazing out toward horizon where sky meets endless sea

A slow smile curves across his lips when he hears footsteps approaching from behind

He doesn't turn immediately but lets anticipation build before finally pivoting around fully

His eyes lock onto hers instantly emotion flickering briefly before settling back into cool composure

ORION
(smoothly confident)
Here we are . Now let's talk about "us".

He gestures lightly toward nearby bench .

They sit facing one another , separated by only inches yet worlds apart emotionally

LILLIEON
(flat tone)
So... what exactly did you mean by this proposal ?

Her gaze remains steady , unflinching .

Orion exhales slowly , meeting it head-on without hesitation .

EXT. CITY PARK - NIGHT

112

The park is quiet, dimly lit by street lamps casting soft pools of light. The breeze rustles the leaves gently.

Orion leans back against the bench, his gaze drifting to the night sky.

ORION
(soft, nostalgic)
You know... when I was a kid, I used to think love was something you just feltlike magic.

LILLIAN
(skeptical)
So what changed?

Orion turns to her, his expression serious yet calm.

ORION
Life taught me it's more than just feelings. It's commitment trust responsibility. And yessometimes sacrifice too.

He pauses briefly before continuing with a slight smile.

ORION (CONT'D)
But meeting you again after all these years? That reminded me how real those feelings can behow much they still matter

Lillian studies him for a moment, then looks away toward the dark horizon beyond the city lights.

(resigned)
I've always known who you really arethe true heir of Ravenwood...

113

She takes a deep breath and exhales slowly as if letting go of something heavy within her chest.

LILLIAN (CONT'D)
(flatly but firmly)
And I've never been afraid of that truth... or what it means for us now...

Her eyes flicker back toward Orion's face with sudden clarity and resolve in them like she's made up her mind about something important .

Then without warning , Lillian suddenly stands from where she'd been sitting , swiftly turning around on one heel . She strides off into darkness without another word leaving Orion stunned behind on that lonely park bench .

INT. LUXURY HOTEL SUITE - NIGHT

The room is dimly lit, soft shadows cast by the city lights outside. The bed is unmade, sheets rumpled. Lillian lies on her side, eyes wide open and staring at the ceiling.

LILLIAN (V. O.)
What am I doing? This isn't me... I don't belong here.

She turns onto her back, sighing heavily.

I'm just a mercenary why did I come to such a place?

114

Her hand drifts down to touch the edge of the sheet covering her legs. She pulls it tighter around herself instinctively.

Suddenly, she bolts upright and swings her legs over the side of the bed.

LILLIAN
(whispering to herself)
No way in hell am I staying here tonight!

She grabs a bathrobe from nearby and wraps it tightly around herself before slipping out of the room quietly.

The hotel lobby is bright and bustling. Lillian enters, her hood still low.

Suddenly, the door swings open again Sergei storms in, eyes blazing with fury.

116

He strides over to the front desk and slams down a thick envelope.

SERGEI
Where's that woman I paid for?!

The RECEPTIONIST flinches but points toward the entrance.

RECEPTIONIST
She left early this morning without settling her bill

Sergei's jaw tightens. He scans the roomand his eyes lock onto Lillian.

His expression hardens instantly.

SERGEI (COLDLY)
You! Don't think you can run from me!

LILLIAN (SURPRISED)
What? Who are you?

Her instincts kick inshe pulls out a sleek handgun from inside her coat and levels it at him without hesitation.

LILLIAN (COLDLY)
If you don't walk away right now, I'll shoot!

Everyone freezesthe tension snaps like a wire stretched too tight. Sergei meets her gaze steadily, unfazed by the gun pointed at him.

SERGEI
You're braver than I thought or maybe just reckless enough to be dangerous. But make no mistakeI will find you again if it suits me. And next time? You won't get off so easily.

117

He turns on his heel and strides out of the hotel lobby with calculated authority as security guards follow close behind him

Lillian exhales sharply, lowering her weapon slowly before turning back toward reception to settle whatever mess she'd left behind.

INT. HOTEL ROOM - NIGHT

Lillian returns to the hotel room, exhausted and tense. She collapses onto the bed, letting out a long sigh.

The door suddenly opens Orion steps in without knocking.

He closes the door behind him and crosses his arms over his chest, eyes fixed on her with quiet intensity.

ORION (COLDLY)
You really think you can just disappear? Run away from everything like that?

LILLIAN (FROWNING)
I'm not your property. You have no right to control me.

Orion strides over, sits beside her on the edge of the bed.

His fingers brush lightly against hersa rare softness in his usually cold demeanor.

ORION (SOFTLY)

118

You're stronger than I thought But don't mistake my concern for ownership. I'm here because I care about your safetynothing more.

She stares at their intertwined hands for a moment before pulling away firmly.

LILLIAN (STEADY)
Then let's be clearI'll handle my own safety from now on. This isn't about love or obligation. It's business... pure and simple.

Orion rises smoothly, turns toward the window overlooking city lightshis voice low but unwavering as he speaks behind her back:

ORION (QUIETLY)
Understood. Just remember: if danger ever comes knocking againyou won't always be able to face it alone

Without another word, he slips out into night silencethe door clicking shut behind him.

Orion rushes in without hesitation. He scans the room quicklyhis eyes lock onto Lillian.

ORION (URGENT)
Lilly!

She looks up at him, startled but composed.

LILLIAN
(coldly)
Why did you come?

His expression softens instantly. He closes the distance between them in two strides and pulls her into a tight embrace.

ORION
(worried)
Because I need to know you're safe... because I care about you more than anything else in this world!

Her breath catches for a moment before she steps back slightly, holding his gaze firmly.

LILLIAN
(sincerely)
I've been running away from myself... from my past... from what I truly want deep down...

She hesitates for just an instant before reaching out and taking his hand again this time with conviction as she leans closer to him.

(soft smile)
And now? Now that I've faced it allI want you by my side. Always.
