EXT. LUXURY ISLAND RESORT - DOCK - EARLY MORNING

Daisy Romanova stands at the edge of the dock, notebook in hand, eyes scanning the restless ocean. The sun rises behind her, casting long shadows.

GAVIN ORLOVA approaches briskly, his security uniform crisp despite the early hour.

GAVIN
You're up early. Still chasing sea monsters?

DAISY
(doesn't look up)
The ocean's been acting strange. I want to know why before it gets worse.

GAVIN
(smirks)
Or maybe you just like stirring trouble around here.

DAISY turns sharply to face him, steady and unflinching.

DAISY
I'm here to protect this place as much as you are. Maybe more soscience can save lives too.

ANDRES SUN arrives from a nearby path with a warm smile and a basket of fresh fruit.

ANDRES
Morning! You two already at it? Daisy, Gavin don't scare off all my guests before breakfast.

GAVIN shoots Andres a quick nod but keeps his gaze on Daisy.

GAVIN
We'll see who scares who once night falls around here again.

DAISY frowns slightly but closes her notebook with resolve.

INT. RESEARCH LAB - DAY

Daisy examines water samples under a microscope while monitors display unusual wave patterns and sonar blips near the reef outside the resort's shore window.

Her phone buzzes a message from Andres: "Meet me by the cove."

She grabs her jacket and heads out without hesitation.

EXT. SECLUDED COVE - DAY

Andres waits beside rocky cliffs overlooking turbulent waters where dark shapes briefly surface beneath waves crashing violently against rocks below them.

ANDRES
Something's wrong down there... locals say they've seen shadows bigger than any whale or shark lately.

DAISY
(focused)
That matches my readings something large is moving through these waters unpredictably.

Suddenly Gavin appears behind them, arms crossed sternly.

Talking about monsters again? You're scaring people away from their vacation.

DAISY
This isn't about fearit's about safety. If we ignore this creature...

She stops mid-sentence as ripples surge violently nearby; everyone freezes watching massive tentacles break surface for an instant before disappearing back into depths.

ANDRES (whispers)
It's real

Gavin steps forward instinctively reaching for radio on his belt but hesitates looking at Daisy then back at Andres.

GAVIN
Alright... looks like we need each other after all.

DAISY meets his gaze firmlyno longer rivals but uneasy allies facing what lurks beneath their paradise island.

EXT. LUXURY ISLAND RESORT - BEACHFRONT - EARLY MORNING

Daisy kneels by the water's edge, scanning the ocean with a handheld sonar device.

The waves ripple gently, but Daisy's eyes narrow at an irregular blip on her screen.

Gavin approaches from behind, arms crossed, watching her closely.

GAVIN
Still chasing ghosts out here?

DAISY
Not ghosts. Something big moved through last night. Look.

She points to the sonar readout.

GAVIN
(skeptical)
Could be anythingwhales, currents... not your monster story again.

DAISY
It's not a story. The patterns don't match any known marine life around here.

Andres arrives carrying two cups of coffee. He sets one down beside Daisy and leans in to look at the screen.

ANDRES
Whatever it is, it spooked my fishing crew yesterday morning. They swear they saw something huge near the reef before their nets got shredded.

Gavin stiffens but says nothing as Daisy sips her coffee thoughtfully.

DAISY
That matches my data perfectly. This creature isn't just disturbing fish; it could threaten everyone on this island if we're not careful.

Then I'll double security patrols tonight. No one gets close to the water after dark without clearanceespecially you and your team of scientists causing trouble out there.

INT. RESORT SECURITY OFFICE - DAY

Monitors display various camera feeds: beach areas, docks, dense jungle paths leading inland.

Gavin studies them while Andres stands nearby holding a map marked with recent sightings and incidents.

ANDRES
If we set traps along these points where fishermen reported damage...

He taps several spots on the map.

GAVIN
Traps or no traps first sign of that thing near shore and I'm evacuating everyone immediately.

Suddenly an alert flashes on one monitor showing ripples spreading rapidly across shallow waters near a private villa dock.

DAISY (V. O.) (through radio)
I'm heading there now might be our chance to see what we're dealing with up close!

EXT. PRIVATE VILLA DOCK - DAY

Daisy arrives just as Gavin pulls up in his jeep behind her vehicle.

Waves crash violently against pilings; debris floats past like driftwood caught in current chaos.

Suddenly something massive breaks surface brieflya shadowy shape thrashing underwaterthen vanishes beneath waves again leaving only foam trails behind.

DAISY
(excited yet tense)
There! Did you see that?

Andres jogs up breathless from another direction holding waterproof cameras ready for action.

ANDRES
We need evidence fast before management shuts us down for scaring guests!

Before anyone can respond loud crashing sounds erupt from underfootthe wooden dock shakes violently as if gripped by unseen jaws.

GAVIN
(yelling)
Everyone back! Now!

They scramble away just as part of dock collapses into churning sea below.

INT./EXT. MOBILE COMMAND CENTER / BEACHFRONT CLIFFS SUN SET

Daisy pores over footage captured earlier while Gavin coordinates security teams via radio headset nearby.

Andres sits quietly watching both carefully sensing tension between them rising beyond professional limits.

DAISY
(softly to Andres)
This thing... It's more than just dangerous wildlife nowit feels personal somehow...

Suddenly Gavin steps closer interrupting their quiet moment

GAVIN
You think this is personal? You brought this mess onto our island with your reckless research!

His voice lowers but burns with frustration mixed oddly with concern.

ANDRES
(calmly intervening)
Maybe instead of fighting each other

He looks between them both seriously

we focus on finding what this creature really wants before someone else gets hurt?

Daisy meets Gavin's gaze sharply then nods reluctantlyboth knowing Andres may be right despite their rivalry.

EXT. OCEAN CLIFFS OVERLOOKING THE RESORT NIGHT

Daisy, Gavin, and Andres stand at the edge of the cliff, gazing out over the dark waters below.

(tense)
Those glowing shapes they're moving toward shore. Whatever that thing isit's coming here.

GAVIN
(irritated)
Andres, why haven't you evacuated the guests yet? This place needs to be cleared now!

Andres SUN (30s), calm but firm, shakes his head.

ANDRES
It's not that simple. The storm hit faster than expectedsome guests are still scattered across the resort grounds.

Gavin steps closer to Andres, lowering his voice slightly but with an edge of impatience.

GAVIN
We don't have time for delays! That creature could strike any moment!

DAISY
(cutting in sharply)
Calm down! Panicking won't help anyone. We need a planand fast. I'm heading back to my lab to analyze these readings again. Maybe there's something we missed about its behavior patterns or weaknesses.

She turns on her heel without waiting for a response and strides off toward the research building at full speed.

Gavin watches her go, clearly frustrated but unable to interrupt her momentum. He exhales sharply and turns back toward Andres as Daisy disappears into the distance.

GAVIN
You said this island hosts VIPs regularly... Why hasn't security been tightened?

Andres lets out a tired sigh before explaining patiently.

ANDRES
This is one of Earth's last untouched islandsa secluded paradise mainly reserved for elite members who seek privacy above all else... Security measures have always been minimal by design; most prefer discretion over strict protection protocols...

A sudden LOUD CRASH echoes from behind themthe sound of breaking glass reverberates through the air

Both men spin around instinctively just as Daisy stumbles clumsily against Gavin's chest , knocking him backward onto his rear end .

Daisy freezes mid-step eyes wide with embarrassment then quickly pushes herself upright .

DAISY (CONT'D)
(panicked whisper)

I-I thought I saw someone sneaking up on us Sorry

Her hands instinctively grip Gavin's shoulders tightly as she steadies herself . His shirt collar loosens slightly under her touch ; their faces are inches apart .

For a brief second , time seems suspended between themthey lock eyes intenselybut then reality snaps back .

With a soft "oof," both tumble awkwardly onto the rocky ground together , tangled limbs sliding dangerously close near the cliff edge

The two struggle briefly amid flailing arms until finally Daisy manages to push Gavin upright . She stands first , offering him an apologetic smile while helping him regain balance .

DAISY (CONT'D)
Sorry about that Guess adrenaline got me too jumpy today

She brushes dirt off her pants nonchalantly before turning away again without waiting for replythis time striding confidently towards her laboratory like nothing happened.

EPISODE 4

EXT. LUXURY ISLAND RESORT BEACH - EARLY MORNING

Daisy kneels near the water's edge, examining strange claw marks in the sand.

Gavin approaches, arms crossed, watching her with a skeptical glare.

11

You really think this is from that creature people are whispering about?

DAISY
(quietly)
It has to be. Nothing else fits these patterns or the timing of the disturbances.

GAVIN
(smirks)
Or maybe you're just seeing monsters where there aren't any.

Andres walks up behind them, holding two steaming cups of coffee.

ANDRES
Maybe it's not about what we see but what we don't yet understand.

He hands Daisy a cup; she accepts it gratefully but keeps her eyes on the marks.

DAISY
Thanks. I need all the clarity I can get right now.

Gavin watches them both for a beat, then steps closer to Daisy's side reluctantly.

GAVIN
Fine. Let's say you're rightwhat do you want me to do? Patrol more? Set traps?

Daisy looks up sharply at him, surprised by his sudden cooperation but wary still.

DAISY
We need surveillance underwater and around key points tonight. And no distractions this isn't just some rumor anymore. It's real danger now.

INT. RESORT SECURITY OFFICE - DAY

Monitors flicker with live feeds from cameras placed around docks and shallow waters nearby. Gavin stands over Andres who operates controls expertly while Daisy studies maps spread across a table cluttered with research notes and ocean charts.

ANDRES
(pointing at screen)
Theresee that shadow moving fast past buoy three? That wasn't a boat or fish.

Daisy leans forward intensely as Gavin narrows his eyes on the screen too.

GAVIN
I'm sending patrols out immediately along that route tonight.

Suddenly an alarm blares from one monitora loud splash followed by static interference disrupts all feeds briefly before returning distorted images of something massive thrashing below surface level.

ANDRES
(frowning)
That was close... too close.

Daisy bites her lip nervously but squares her shoulders determinedly.

DAISY
This confirms itwe have no time left to argue or doubt each other anymore.

EXT. RESORT DOCKS - NIGHT

Floodlights sweep over dark waves as security boats circle cautiously near buoys marked earlier by Daisy and Andres' observations.

13

Daisy stands beside Gavin on one boat deck; tension between them is thick yet charged with urgency under moonlight reflecting off restless sea water below their feet.

Suddenly water erupts violently nearbya monstrous silhouette breaches partially above surface: huge tentacles writhe wildly before crashing back into depths amid roaring splashes and startled cries from crew members aboard boats nearby.

Gavin grabs Daisy's arm tightly pulling her back just as another wave hits hard against their vessel causing everyone to stagger momentarily shaken but alert.

ANDRES SHOUTS OVER CHAOS

ANDRES
Hold steady! Don't let it get close enough for damage!

Suddenly, the lights flicker. The ocean outside rumbles faintly.

Gavin enters briskly, his presence sharp in the cramped lab.

GAVIN
Still chasing shadows, Daisy?

DAISY
Not shadowssomething real beneath those waves.

GAVIN
You're risking too much with these theories. The resort can't afford panic.

DAISY
And ignoring it risks lives. You want to keep guests safe? Help me understand what we're dealing with.

A tense beat as Gavin studies her determination.

EXT. BEACHFRONT PATH - NIGHT

Andres walks along the shore, lantern in hand, scanning footprints pressed deep into wet sandtoo large for any known animal here.

15

He stops as distant crashing sounds echo from the waterlinethen silence again.

ANDRES (TO HIMSELF)
It's coming closer...

INT. SECURITY OFFICE - LATE NIGHT

Gavin reviews security footage on multiple screens; static and interference distort some views near the docks.

Daisy bursts in holding a tablet showing sonar readings spiking wildly underwater nearby.

DAISY
Look at this! Something massive is moving under Dock 3 right now!

Gavin frowns but nods sharply toward radios on desks around them.

GAVIN
Alert all patrols immediately no one near that area until we know more!

They exchange a brief looka fragile truce forming amid urgency.

EXT. DOCK 3 - MOMENTS LATER

Security guards spread out cautiously along dimly lit piers; waves slap against pilings ominously close by.

Suddenlya monstrous shadow surges beneath surface waters, ripples exploding outward like an earthquake.

A guard yells and fires a flare overhead.

16

The creature's roar vibrates through air and water alike.

Daisy grips Gavin's arm instinctively as Andres rushes up behind them.

ANDRES
We need to get everyone off these docks now!

DAISY (URGENT)
If we trap it here without knowing its patterns... it'll only get angrier!

GAVIN (COMMANDING)
Then lead us somewhere safer fast!

They sprint together away from chaostheir rivalry forgotten for survival's sake.

EXT. CLIFF OVERLOOKING OCEAN - DAWN

The three stand panting atop jagged rocks overlooking calm sea now tinged pink by sun rise.

Daisy watches horizon intently while Andres scans below nervously; Gavin leans heavily on railing beside them.

DAISY
This isn't just an animalit's territorial... intelligent even.

ANDRES
I've heard legends of something like this protecting these waters long before resorts existed...

I've been wanting this for a long time.

DAISY (heart pounding, voice trembling)
But I just met you today

GAVIN (leaning in closer, his breath warm against her skin)
That's more than enough reason.

He pulls her into a heated kiss. Daisy instinctively wraps her arms around his neck, responding passionately as they lose themselves in each other.

SuddenlyTHUD! A loud noise comes from outside.

Both freeze and turn toward the door. Their breathing is heavy and uneven.

ANDRES (OUTSIDE, SHOUTING)
Daisy! Are you okay? We need to get out of here now!

DAISY (panicked, breaking away from Gavin)
What?! What happened?!

She rushes to open the door Andres pushes past her without hesitation.

18

EXT. RESORT VILLA - NIGHT

The storm rages fiercely outsidethe wind howls and rain lashes down in sheets. Lightning flashes illuminate a monstrous

You're burning up. You need immediate medical attention!

Before he can lift her properly, a massive tidal wave crashes through the villa's outer wall with deafening force. Debris flies everywhere as water surges inward like a beast unleashed.

Gavin instinctively shields Daisy behind his broad frame. The three of them are slammed sideways by the impact Andres falls hard against scattered rubble beside them; Gavin grips Daisy tightly amidst the chaos.

Gavin approaches silently, arms crossed.

GAVIN
You're up early. Still chasing ghosts?

DAISY
The ocean's not a ghost story, Gavin. Something's stirring out there.

He smirks but watches her closely.

Andres appears from behind palm trees, carrying diving gear.

ANDRES
Morning. Heard you two talking about the disturbances again?

DAISY
We need to understand what's causing those waves before someone gets hurt.

GAVIN
Or before it ruins this place's reputation.

Andres sets down his gear and looks toward the horizon thoughtfully.

ANDRES
Local fishermen say they've seen shadows beneath the wavesbigger than any shark or whale around here.

DAISY (NODDING)
That matches my sonar readings last night. There was something massive moving just beyond the reef line.

GAVIN (FIRM)
Then we find it fast before it finds us first.

INT. RESORT SECURITY OFFICE - MIDDAY

Monitors flicker with underwater camera feeds and radar blips. Gavin studies them intensely as Daisy enters with a laptop showing data graphs.

DAISY
I cross-referenced tidal patterns with seismic activity nothing explains these sudden surges except... something alive down there.

GAVIN
If that thing breaches near guests... chaos will follow.

Suddenly an alarm soundsa red warning flashes on screen: UNIDENTIFIED OBJECT APPROACHING SHORELINE

Andres rushes in breathless from outside.

ANDRES
It's close! I saw huge ripples heading this way!

They exchange tense glances; time is running out.

EXT. RESORT PIER - MOMENTS LATER

Guests scream and scatter as enormous waves crash against docks; dark shapes swirl beneath churning water near boats.

DAISY (SHOUTING OVER NOISE)

Gavin grabs a flare gun while Andres helps evacuate people calmly but urgently.

22

A monstrous silhouette rises briefly above watera massive creature covered in barnacles and glowing eyesthen vanishes below again.

INT. UNDERWATER OBSERVATION ROOM - NIGHT

Daisy reviews footage of the creature's brief appearance on screen; her face is pale but determined.

DAISY
This isn't just some animalit has intelligence maybe even territorial reasons for attacking us here.

GAVIN (LEANING CLOSER)
So what? We negotiate?

She meets his gaze steadily despite exhaustion and fear.

DAISY
We survive first then figure out how to coexist without destroying each other.

EXT. BEACH BONFIRE AREA - LATE NIGHT

Andres sits quietly by firelight when Daisy joins him; Gavin watches from nearby but keeps distance tonight.

DAISY
Not shadows. Something real. The readings don't lie.

He steps closer, lowering his voice.

GAVIN
You're stirring up panic again. We can't afford thatnot here.

DAISY
Then maybe you should listen instead of shutting me down every time.

A distant splash echoes from the ocean. Both freeze and look out toward the darkening sea.

Andres appears behind them, carrying a flashlight and looking concerned.

ANDRES
That wasn't just waves... I've lived here all my lifenever heard anything like that before.

Daisy stands quickly, urgency rising in her voice.

24

We need to check it out nowbefore whatever it is gets closer to shore.

Gavin hesitates but nods sharply at Andres to follow Daisy as they head toward the dock.

INT. RESORT SECURITY ROOM - NIGHT

Monitors flicker with grainy footage of empty beach areas and stormy waters beyond the resort perimeter.

EXT. DOCK AREA - NIGHT

The trio arrives at a small boat tied loosely to the pier; waves crash violently nearby under moonlight.

ANDRES
This way there's a cove where I saw strange ripples earlier today.

They push off into choppy water; tension thick between Gavin and Daisy as Andres rows steadily.

EXT. OCEAN COVE - NIGHT

Suddenly, something massive breaks beneath their boata shadow larger than any known creature surges upward briefly before vanishing beneath them.

DAISY (WHISPERING)
It's bigger than we thought

Gavin grips an oar tightly but doesn't speak; Andres stares wide-eyed into black water swirling around them.

DAISY
It's here somewhere The creature wouldn't strike without reason.

Suddenly, a faint rumble shakes the ground beneath them. They freeze.

ANDRES
That wasn't an earthquake was it?

DAISY (V. O.)
The seismic activity matches that of underwater caverns

She pulls out her tablet again, swiping through data rapidly.

DAISY
There! Those readings match what we saw yesterday near those cliffs to the norththere's a hidden cave entrance submerged during high tide but exposed now with low water levels. We have to move fast before it rises again!

GAVIN
(nods sharply)
Lead on. I'll cover our rear.

They sprint toward the cliffside as waves crash rhythmically against jagged rocks in front of themthe ocean's pulse echoing

EXT. CLIFFSIDE MOMENTS LATER

27

Breathless and wind-tousled, they reach a narrow crevice partially obscured by overgrowth and debris at its basea perfect hiding spot for something like this island's secret predator den.

Andres steps forward cautiously but instinctively halts when he notices movement behind him two figures emerge from shadows nearby: Marina Romanova flanked by security guards blocking their path.

MARINA
(smugly triumphant)
Well well... Looks like you've found us after all.
Daisy stiffens instantly upon seeing her mother; disbelief flashing across her face as she stammers
DAISY
Mom? What are you doing here?
MARINA
(smirking coldly)
I'm glad you could finally join meand your father has been waiting impatiently for your return too.
Her eyes flick disdainfully toward Gavin then back at Daisy with thinly veiled contempt.)
As for this useless piece of trash beside you? Consider him discarded already!
Marina gestures dismissively toward Gavin; one guard steps forward menacingly while another moves closer behind Daisy protectively blocking Gavin between them both.
Gavin glowers silently watching Marina's every move closely calculating potential threats or weaknesses in their formation.

INT./ EXT. VARIOUS LOCATIONSFLASH BACK SEQUENCES [EP 10]

A low rumble vibrates through the air. Both turn toward the water as ripples spread unnaturally fast across the surface.

Andres arrives breathless from behind them, holding a flashlight and a radio.

ANDRES
The fishermen spotted something strange near Coral Baygiant shadows moving under the water!

Daisy looks at Gavin sharply; he nods once and pulls out his radio.

GAVIN
All units, secure perimeter around Coral Bay immediately. No one in or out without clearance.

Daisy steps closer to Andres, urgency in her voice.

DAISY

INT. LUXURY RESORT VILLA - NIGHT

Marina sits on the sofa, holding a glass of wine with a self-satisfied smile.

MARINA
(raising her glass)
Cheers. To my daughter's downfall.

She downs the wine in one go, then reaches for another bottle nearby and drinks again.

Suddenly, she hears footsteps outside and quickly hides the empty bottles behind cushions. The door opens Daisy walks in and freezes at the sight of Marina, eyes wide with shock.

DAISY
Mom?!

MARINA
(smirking)
Surprised to see me?

36

DAISY (V. O.)
What is she doing here? And why does it feel like something bad is about to happen?

Daisy steps forward instinctively, but before she can react, two guards appear from behind her mother and grab Daisy's arms tightly. She struggles violently but can't break free.

GUARD 1 (LOWER BODY GUARD) & GUARD 2 (UPPER BODY GUARD) (IN UNISON)
Quiet now!

DAISY (V. O.)
I'm trapped... this was all planned...

Andres follows close behind Daisy but stops abruptly when he sees her restrained by guards beside Marina. His face pales as realization dawnshe's been lured into an ambush too.

ANDRES (V. O.)
No... I've walked right into their trap...

Gavin arrives just after Andres, his expression darkening instantly as he takes in the scene: Daisy held captive between two guards by Marina's side.

GAVIN
(furious)
You're really pushing your luck!

Marina raises an eyebrow smugly at Gavin's outburst before turning back to Daisy with a cold smile her gaze sharp enough to cut through steelbefore speaking:

37

MARINA
Daisy Romanova you belong to me!

EXT. LUXURY ISLAND RESORT - DOCKS - EARLY MORNING

Daisy stands at the edge of the dock, notebook in hand, eyes scanning the restless ocean.

Gavin approaches briskly, his security badge glinting in the dawn light.

GAVIN
You're up early. Still chasing those waves?

DAISY
The disturbances aren't random. Something's out theresomething big.

GAVIN
Big enough to sink boats? Or just your imagination running wild again?

DAISY
(snarling)
I'm not imagining anything, Gavin. The sensors picked up massive movement last night near sector seven.

Andres arrives quietly behind them, holding a steaming cup of coffee.

ANDRES
Maybe it's just whales passing through? They've been spotted before around here.

DAISY
Whales don't cause tidal surges that knock over buoys and scare guests away.

38

Gavin shoots Daisy a skeptical look but says nothing as Andres hands her the coffee with a warm smile.

ANDRES
Here. You'll need this if you're going to keep staring at that water all day.

She accepts it gratefully but keeps her gaze fixed on the horizon where dark clouds gather ominously above the sea line.

INT. RESORT SECURITY OFFICE - DAY

Monitors display live feeds from cameras along the shoreline and docks. Gavin watches closely while Daisy pores over data charts spread across a table cluttered with equipment and maps.

DAISY
(pointing)
See these spikes? They coincide exactly with when guests reported hearing strange noises underwater last night.

GAVIN
(frowning)
Could be sonar interference or some kind of glitch in your gear.

DAISY
No glitches here I triple-checked everything myself overnight.

Suddenly an alarm blares from one monitor showing ripples expanding rapidly beneath a boat moored nearby.

GAVIN
That's our cue.

EXT. NEAR SHORELINE - MOMENTS LATER

39

Daisy and Gavin rush toward frantic staff trying to secure boats swaying violently as huge shadows move under water nearby.

Andres appears beside them carrying ropes and emergency gear without hesitation.

ANDRES
Whatever it isit's closeand angry.

A monstrous silhouette breaches brieflya massive tentacle slams into a yacht hull sending splinters flying.

DAISY
(urgent)
Everyone back! Keep clear of the water!

Gavin grabs Daisy's arm firmly pulling her away from danger despite her protests.

GAVIN
We need to regroup before this thing destroys half our resort!

They retreat together toward safer ground as Andres helps evacuate panicked tourists.

EXT. CLIFF OVERLOOKING THE OCEAN - SUN SET

The trio stands watching turbulent waters below where faint glowing eyes pierce through waves intermittently revealing parts of an enormous creature lurking beneath surface foam.

DAISY
(softly)
It's real... and it knows we're watching now.

40

Andres looks between Daisy and Gavin who exchange tense glancesrivalry momentarily paused by shared fear.

ANDRES
We have to find its lair before more damage happensor worse gets hurt.

Suddenly Gavin steps closer to Daisy lowering his voice so only she can hear.

GAVIN
If we don't work together on thisyou won't survive what comes next.

Daisy meets his gaze steadily despite pounding heart; determination flickers stronger than ever within her eyes.

Daisy strides in, her gaze scanning the room.

DAISY
(urgently)
Where's Andres? He was supposed to meet me here.

GAVIN
(casual, leaning on the reception desk)
Why are you looking for him?

DAISY
(suspicious)
What do you mean?

GAVIN
(teasing)

41

You're always asking about him. Who is he to you, really?

Before Daisy can respond, a loud commotion erupts outside.

VOICE (O. S.)
Someone get a doctor! Someone get a doctor!

Everyone turns toward the sound of panic and chaos.

EXT. RESORT ENTRANCE - CONTINUOUS

A man rushes into viewit's Andres SUN, covered in blood from head to toe. Two guests follow closely behind: one holding a first aid kit.

ANDRES
(breathless and frantic)
Doctor! We need help immediately!

The crowd parts as Andres stumbles forward, his face pale but determined.

Andres collapses near the entrance where two other staff members quickly assist him with medical supplies. The atmosphere is tense as everyone watches anxiously. Daisy pushes through the gathering crowd and reaches Andrés side immediately upon seeing he has been injured badly and bleeding profusely from his forehead wound..

(shocked)
Andres! What happened?!

ANDRES
(struggling to speak)
There's there's something wrong at sea

42

He suddenly loses consciousness again before she can ask more questions.

Gavin steps forward swiftly, his expression grim as he kneels beside Andres,

GAVIN
(frowning deeply)
We need to stabilize him first.
I'll call an ambulance right now!
(turning sharply towards nearby staff)

Send someone outnow!

Two security guards nod immediately, exchanging quick glances before bolting out of sight without hesitation.

Daisy watches them leave, her eyes narrowing with suspicion,

DAISY (V. O.)
Something's not right... Why would they send security guards instead of doctors?

Suddenly,

Marina appears gracefully by her side,

MARINA
(smiling sweetly yet coldly)

Oh darling, don't be so worried about your precious boyfriend.

HE'S JUST FINE

Her voice cuts off abruptly when Gavin's phone rings loudly.

He answers it quickly, listens intently for several seconds, and then hangs up without saying anything furt her.

HIS GAZE DARKENS INSTANTLY

before locking onto Marina.

The tension between them escalates visibly.

INT. RESORT ENTRANCE - DAY

Gavin's phone call ends abruptly. He turns to Daisy, his face darkening.

GAVIN
(to Marina)
You've crossed the line this time.

MARINA
(smiling coldly)
What are you going to do about it, Orlova?

Before Gavin can respond, a sudden commotion erupts behind them. A group of guards rushes in and surrounds Daisy.

(urgent)
Miss Romanova! We need to escort you back immediately!

DAISY
(struggling)
What? Why? I'm not going anywhere!

Marina steps forward, her expression smug as she gestures towards the guards.

MARINA
See? You belong to me now. Let's go home togetheryour place is with me.

Daisy glares at Marina defiantly but is forcibly pulled away by the guards. She tries to resist but fails as they drag her off-screen.

DAISY (V. O.)
(furious)
This isn't over... not by a long shot...

The camera lingers on Gavin and Marina standing opposite each other, tension thick in the air.

GAVIN
(low, dangerous)
You're playing a very dangerous game, Marina...

MARINA
(teasingly innocent)
Oh come on aren't we all just here for fun?

She turns sharply and strides out without looking back at himher heels clicking ominously against the marble floor.

EXT. RESORT ENTRANCE - MOMENTS LATER

Andres stumbles into view againbarefooted and disheveled from earlierand freezes when he sees Daisy being dragged away by security guards under Marina's watchful eye.

ANDRES (V. O.)

No... This can't be happening...

45

His eyes lock onto hers for an instanta silent plea before she disappears around the corner.

Daisy stands by the water's edge, clutching a waterproof notebook. The sea is calm but an uneasy silence hangs.

Gavin approaches, arms crossed, eyes sharp.

GAVIN
You're still poking around here? It's not safe after what happened this morning.

DAISY
I'm collecting samples. If we don't understand the creature, no one will be safe.

(grim)
Understanding won't save you if it decides to attack again tonight.

46

Andres walks up from behind them, carrying diving gear with a reassuring smile.

ANDRES
Maybe I can help both of you. I know these waters better than anyone here.

Daisy looks at Andres gratefully; Gavin remains skeptical but listens.

DAISY
We need someone who can guide us close enough to track it without getting eaten alive.

ANDRES
I'll take you out at first lightquiet and careful. But tonight... (he glances toward the darkening ocean) something feels off.

Suddenly, a distant splash echoes across the bay. Both men tense; Daisy's eyes widen in alarm.

GAVIN
That wasn't fish jumping...

Daisy steps closer to the water, scanning the horizon as waves ripple unnaturally beneath fading light.

INT. RESORT SECURITY ROOM - NIGHT

Monitors flicker showing various angles of the shoreline and ocean surface disturbed by ripples and shadows moving fast underwater.

Gavin watches intently while speaking into his radio headset.

GAVIN
All units stay alert! Any sign of that thing near shorereport immediately!

47

A sudden loud THUD on glass makes him spin around Daisy stands behind holding her soaked notebook.

DAISY
It hit my boat dock earlier... We're running out of time before it comes back for more.

She meets Gavin's gaze defiantly despite exhaustion and fear.

EXT. BEACHFRONT BAR - NIGHT

Andres waits alone under dim lights sipping coffee when Daisy arrives breathless with urgency in her step.

DAISY
We need your help nownot tomorrow morning anymore.

GAVIN
You're still here? Shouldn't you be resting?

DAISY
Rest won't tell me what's causing this. Something's wrong beneath those waves.

Gavin steps closer, lowering his voice.

GAVIN
We've had reports of strange noises underwater. Security is on edge.

DAISY
Then maybe it's time we listen to what the ocean's trying to say instead of just guarding tourists.

Suddenly a deep rumble shakes the dock. Both look toward the water as something large stirs below the surfaceripples spreading fast.

Andres arrives hurriedly from shore, breathless but calm.

ANDRES
The fishermen saw it again tonightsomething massive moving near Coral Point. We can't ignore it anymore.

DAISY
(urgent)
I need to get samples and sonar readings there first thing tomorrow morning.

Gavin frowns but nods reluctantly.

GAVIN
Finebut I'm coming with you. No surprises this time.

49

Andres glances between them, sensing tension yet hopeful for cooperation.

INT. RESEARCH LAB - EARLY MORNING

Daisy sets up equipment by a large window overlooking the sea while Gavin watches her work silently nearby.

DAISY
(pointing at screen)
See these patterns? They're unlike anything naturala pulse repeating every few minutes under Coral Point.

GAVIN
(skeptical)
Sounds like interference or faulty gear.

DAISY
(shaking head)
Noit matches eyewitness accounts perfectly.

Andres enters with coffee for Daisy and Gavin; hands shake slightly as he places cups down.

ANDRES
If that creature is real... we need a plan beyond research and security patrols.

Daisy looks up sharply at Andres' words; Gavin meets her gaze with unexpected concern.

EXT. CORAL POINT CLIFFS - DAY

The trio stands overlooking turbulent waters below where dark shapes move beneath foam.

DAISY
(to Andres)

Can your boat handle rough seas if we have to chase after it?

ANDRES
(smiling faintly)
It'll holdand I know these waters better than anyone else here.

Suddenly a loud splash echoes nearby; all three tense instantly.

A shadowy form breaches brieflya monstrous fin cutting through water before vanishing again.

Gavin clenches fists; Daisy scribbles notes rapidly; Andres grips railing tightly.

GAVIN
(low growl)
This changes everythingwe're not just chasing rumors anymore.

GAVIN (TENSE, PROTECTIVE)
It doesn't matter what it is. If that thing shows up again, we evacuate immediatelyno questions.

ANDRES (CAUTIOUS YET HOPEFUL)
I don't think running away will solve anything. There has to be a way to understand it first.

Daisy glances at Andres, then back toward the ocean horizon where waves crash relentlessly against jagged rocks below.

DAISY
Agreed. This isn't just some random marine lifeit's something much bigger... ancient even.

Gavin folds his arms tightly across his chest, eyes narrowing as he scans the water uneasily.

GAVIN
Ancient or notit's a threat. And threats get dealt with swiftly and decisively on this island.
(beat)

You twostop obsessing over mysteries and start thinking about survival protocols!

Andres steps closer to Daisy, lowering his voice slightly but keeping firm resolve in his tone.

ANDRES
Daisywe've been through so much already because of you chasing these legends

52

He hesitates for a moment before continuing more softly:

ANDRES (CONT'D)
But I can't deny seeing you like thisso passionate about your workthat means something too

Before Daisy can respond, Gavin interjects sharply between them:

GAVIN
Enough! Focus on what mattersthe creature could strike again any minute!

He turns abruptly and strides off down the path without looking back, leaving an awkward silence hanging in his wake between Daisy and Andres.

DAISY (frowning thoughtfully at Gavin's retreating figure)
Maybe maybe someone should remind him that sometimes understanding comes before action.

Andres smiles faintly at her wordsa brief connection forming amid rising tension as dark clouds gather overhead once more.

SUDDENLY

A monstrous wave crashes violently against Coral Point's cliffs nearby.

Both gasp instinctively their attention snapping instantly toward its source.

ANDRES
(grimly)
It only shows itself during storms like this. We're not prepared for something that big.

GAVIN
(tightening his grip on Daisy's arm)
We need to get out of here. Now.

The wave surges again, crashing over the rocks with brutal force. The trio scrambles backward up the cliffside as water sprays around them.

DAISY (V. O.)

54

This is itthe proof I needed. But if we don't survive

Suddenly, a shadow shifts beneath the surfacea second fin cuts through the waves just behind them.

ANDRES (PANICKED)
There's more than one! This isn't normal behavior!

GAVIN (URGENT)
Move! Follow me!

They sprint toward higher ground, but another towering wave rises behind themits crest curling violently toward Coral Point Lighthouse below.

DAISY (DETERMINED)
If we can reach that lighthousewe might be able to signal for help or at least take shelter...

Gavin glances back at her briefly before pushing forward without hesitation.

DAISY
Not shadows. Data. The ocean's readings spiked again an hour ago.

GAVIN
And you think that means what? Another monster story to scare guests?

DAISY
It's not a story when equipment picks up something massive moving beneath us.

Gavin steps closer, lowering his voice.

GAVIN
You're stirring panic before dinner service. We can't afford that.

Daisy looks up sharply, eyes fierce despite exhaustion.

DAISY
I'm trying to keep everyone alive. That includes your precious guests and staff.

GAVIN
You want my security team or just your boat?

Daisy hesitates then nods reluctantly.

DAISY
Both. And Andrescan you guide us through those reefs safely?

Andres smiles warmly and nods without hesitation.

INT. RESEARCH BOAT - DAY

Daisy pilots while Gavin watches her instruments skeptically from beside her seat. Andres leans over the railing, eyes scanning below for signs of movement in the water.

Suddenly, sonar beeps sharply an enormous shape moving fast underwater toward them.

GAVIN (TENSE)
That's no fish...

DAISY (FOCUSED)
Hold steady... whatever it is wants to stay hidden until now.

EXT. OCEAN SURFACE - CONTINUOUS

A massive shadow breaches brieflya monstrous creature with glistening scales and glowing eyes before diving back into darkness.

ANDRES (WHISPERS)
It's real...

71

Daisy grips the wheel tighter as waves rock them violently.

INT./EXT. RESEARCH BOAT MOMENTS LATER

The boat shudders; alarms blare as Gavin rushes to stabilize controls.

GAVIN
We're taking damage! Get ready to abandon ship if it gets worse!

DAISY
No wayI'm not leaving without evidence!

ANDRES
There might be another wayfollow me!

EXT. NEARBY COVE DAY

Andres leads Daisy and Gavin into a narrow cove where calmer waters hide natural caves beneath cliffs.

ANDRES
If we can trap it here temporarily I know how to keep us safe long enough for you to gather data.

They exchange looks tension mixed with reluctant trust then follow him inside as dark shapes swirl outside near cave entrances.

INT./EXT. CAVE ENTRANCE TWILIGHT

Inside shadows deepen; Daisy sets up equipment quickly while Gavin keeps watch at entrance armed with flare gun

Suddenly distant roars echo through cavern wallsthe monster circles outside waiting...

DAISY (BREATHLESS)

72

This is our chance... let's prove what everyone thinks is impossible isn't true yet dangerous too.

She locks eyes briefly with Gavin who nods grimlyand both glance toward Andres standing calm between them like an anchor amid chaos.

EXT. LUXURY ISLAND RESORT - DOCKS - EARLY MORNING

Daisy stands at the edge of the dock, clutching a waterproof notebook. The ocean is restless, waves lapping aggressively.

Gavin approaches from behind, arms crossed.

GAVIN

You're up early. Still chasing that sea monster theory?

DAISY

It's not a theory anymore. Something's stirring out theresomething big.

GAVIN

Big or not, we can't have guests panicking because you spooked them with your stories.

DAISY

I'm trying to protect everyone by understanding it first.

Andres walks up with two coffees, offering one to Daisy and then Gavin.

73

Morning tension as usual? Maybe this will help cool things down.

Daisy accepts the coffee gratefully; Gavin nods curtly but takes his cup anyway.

ANDRES (CONT'D)
The fishermen reported strange sounds last night near the reef again. Could be linked to what you're tracking?

DAISY
Exactly why I want to set sensors around that area today before anyone else gets hurt.

GAVIN
Sensors won't stop an attack if that thing decides to come ashore. We need a plan B security measures in place now.

Daisy looks at Gavin sharply but holds her ground calmly.

DAISY
Plan A is prevention through knowledge. Plan B is reaction which means I need access out there immediately before you lock everything down for good.

EXT. OCEAN REEF - DAY

Daisy and Andres prepare equipment on a small boat while Gavin watches from shore skeptically via binoculars.

ANDRES
You sure about these readings? They don't match anything normal here.

DAISY
That's why they matterthey could tell us where it hides or moves next.

74

Suddenly, water churns violently nearby; something massive breaches just beyond sighta shadow beneath the surface.

ANDRES (ALARMED)
Did you see that?

Daisy grabs her radio urgently.

DAISY
Base! Something just surfaced near our position! Request immediate backup!

INT. SECURITY ROOM - RESORT - DAY

Gavin listens intently over radio static as alarms flash red across monitors showing turbulent waters outside resort boundaries.

GAVIN (INTO RADIO)
All units mobilize perimeter defense now! No one goes near water until furt her notice!

EXT. OCEAN REEF - BOAT DECK CONTINUOUS

Waves slam against their boat; Daisy steadies herself gripping equipment tightly as Andres maneuvers nervously through rough seas.

Suddenly a huge tentacle slams onto their boat's side throwing both off balance.

ANDRES (SHOUTING)
Hold on!

They scramble back aboard as another monstrous limb rises threateningly close.

Daisy locks eyes with Andres fear mixed with fierce determination.

INT./EXT VARIOUS LOCATIONS QUICK CUTS

- Resort guests hurried inside by security staff led by Gavin.
- Fishermen pulling boats away frantically.
- Daisy analyzing data rapidly on handheld device despite shaking hands.
- Andres helping stranded tourists find shelter amid growing panic.

EXT. BEACHFRONT CLIFF SUN SET

The storm calms but tension remains thick in the air.

Daisy stands beside Gavin looking out toward darkening ocean horizon.

GAVIN
We underestimated it... You were right all along about how dangerous this was going to get.

She meets his gaze steadily without lowering hers.

DAISY

Gavin, I don't want to lose you. Not like this.

GAVIN (sighs)
You really care about me?

DAISY
Of course I do! You're my teammate... my friend...

Their eyes meet for a brief moment before Daisy quickly looks away.

Suddenly, she feels her phone vibrate in her pocketshe pulls it out and checks the screen: "Emergency Alert."

She glances at Gavin.

DAISY (CONT'D)
Looks like we have another incident. Let's go!

They rush out together.

EXT. BEACHFRONT CLIFF AT SUN SET MOMENTS LATER

The sun dips toward the horizon, casting warm hues across the sky as they reach the cliffside.

Andres is already there, pacing anxiously with his phone pressed to his ear.

ANDRES
(into phone)
Yes... Yes... Okay... Got it!

He hangs up and turns around sharply when he spots them approaching.

ANDRES (CONT'D)
Urgent news! The sea creature has appeared again!

77

Daisy stiffens slightly but remains composed as she steps forward calmly. She takes Andres's arm gently but firmlyher voice steady and reassuring despite her inner tension.)

DAISY
How bad is it?

ANDRES
It's attacking boats off shore two vessels have been damaged so far! The storm's coming back strong too...

DAISY (TENSE)

It's here again.

ANDRES (anxious, scanning the horizon)

I don't see it! Where is it?

GAVIN (concerned, stepping closer to Daisy)

78

Any idea what it wants?

Daisy studies the waves intentlyher eyes sharp, calculating.

DAISY

This creature It doesn't just attack randomly. It's drawn to disturbances in its territory. If we can minimize those Suddenly, a massive wave crashes against the cliffside with a deafening roar.

WAVE CRASHES

The group stumbles back as water sprays over them. The sea creature emerges briefly from behind a rock formationa monstrous silhouette against the stormy skythen vanishes beneath the surface again.

ANDRES (SHOUTING OVER WIND AND WAVES)

There! Did you see that?!

DAISY (NODDING GRIMLY)

Yes... That was close enough. Its body markingsthey're unique to this individual!

GAVIN (urgently turning toward Daisy)

Then you know how to stop it? Tell me what to do!

Before Daisy can respond, another thunderous splash echoes nearby the creature surfacing once more, its enormous form breaching briefly before disappearing into deeper waters with a final swirl of white foam.

GAVIN (URGENT)
We need to evacuate everyone now. No one stays out here after dark.

ANDRES (NERVOUS)
But the storm's about to hit full force. If we move too late...

DAISY
Exactly. We can't risk getting caught in this weather with that thing lurking around.

Andres glances at Daisy, worry etched across his face.

ANDRES
Then what do we do? The resort's evacuation route is exposedno shelter until we reach the main building, and even then

He trails off, eyes scanning the horizon as wind picks up.

Gavin!

She rushes to the door and opens it. Gavin steps inside, his expression tense as he scans the room.

GAVIN
Where's Andres? Is he safe?

DAISY
(panicked)
I don't know... I lost him in the dark just now.

Suddenly, footsteps echo from outsidethe sound of running feet and heavy breathing fill the air.

Andres stumbles into view, breathless and terrified.

ANDRES
Daisy! They're coming for usthose people from your team!

He collapses against Daisy's shoulder. She supports him instinctively, her eyes darting toward Gavin as she speaks softly:

DAISY (CONT'D)
They must have found out about me somehow...

Her gaze hardens instantly when she spots two figures emerging from the shadows behind Andres: LENA ROVANNA and JOHN

82

ROVANNA. Their faces are twisted with malice under their dim flashlight beams.

Lena locks eyes on Daisy first; her lips curl into a cruel smirk before she lunges forwardher hand reaching straight for Daisy's neck like a viper striking its prey.

LENA
You little bitch

Before Lena can land a blow, John grabs her wrist roughly and shoves her back toward where they came from. His voice is sharp but controlled:

JOHN (sharply)
Stop it!

John swings his arm toward Daisy slowlyas if performing some calculated gestureand slaps Daisy hard across both cheeks in one smooth motion that echoes through the silent night air like thunderclaps followed by lightning strikes of humiliation .

Daisy staggers backward slightly , stunned . Her hands automatically rise to cradle both cheeks , pressing lightly against them then slowly drifting downward along each side of her jawline until finally settling at base of throat . The faint glow cast by nearby lamps reveals tiny traces of red marks left behind by John 's brutal slap .

Her breath comes unevenly now ; every inhale feels heavier than last . Yet despite everything happening so suddenly Daisy stands at the water's edge, notebook in hand, eyes scanning the restless waves.

Gavin approaches from behind, arms crossed.

GAVIN
You're up early. Still chasing sea monsters?

DAISY
(doesn't turn)
If it's not a monster, then what caused those tidal surges last night? You saw the damage.

(grim)
Security reports say no natural cause. But that doesn't mean we panic.

DAISY
We don't have time to wait for your "security protocols." This island is vulnerable.

84

Andres appears nearby with two coffees, handing one to Daisy and one to Gavin.

ANDRES
Morning. Thought you both could use this before another argument starts the day.

Daisy takes her coffee gratefully but keeps her gaze on Gavin.

DAISY
Thanks, Andres. We need answers fast or more guests will get hurt if that thing comes back tonight.

Gavin takes a sip but his jaw tightens as he looks out over the ocean horizon where dark clouds gather ominously.

INT. RESORT SECURITY OFFICE - DAY

Monitors show live feeds of beach areas and underwater sonar scans pulsing erratically beneath the surface.

Gavin studies them intensely while Daisy leans over his shoulder pointing at irregular blips on screen.

DAISY
See here? The creature isn't just passing through; it's circlinglike it's hunting something or someone on this island...

Suddenly an alarm sounds loudly from a sensor near the docks. Both jump back toward controls as red warnings flash across screens.

GAVIN
(to radio)
All units report! Intruder alert at dock seven!

85

EXT. DOCK SEVEN - MOMENTS LATER

Daisy and Gavin arrive breathless amid panicked staff evacuating boats hastily tied up along piers battered by rough waves crashing violently against pilings below them.

A shadow moves swiftly beneath churning watera massive shape barely visible under moonlight breaking through storm clouds above.

Andres rushes up beside them holding a flare gun tightly in trembling hands.

ANDRES
It came close again... I swear I saw eyes glowing down there!

Daisy steps forward determined despite fear flashing across her face.

DAISY
We can't run anymorewe have to confront whatever is down there before it destroys everything.

Gavin nods reluctantly but pulls out his radio headset urgently calling backup security teams into position around perimeter points facing oceanfront access routes.

The three share tense glancestheir uneasy alliance forged stronger by immediate danger closing in fast like tides pulling relentlessly inward toward shorelines they must defend together now more than ever.

EXT. BEACH CLIFF OVERLOOKING OCEAN - NIGHT around submerged rocks marking territory boundaries unknown until now...

Her breath catches when she spots movement: huge tentacles curling slowly upward from depths toward anchored yachts bobbing helplessly nearby...

Behind her footsteps approach softlyit's Andres standing silently watching beside her with quiet concern etched deep into his expression.

ANDRES
Whatever lives down there... it's old magic mixed with raw power something even Gavin might underestimate if we're not careful.

Daisy's eyes widen, scanning the crowd nervously.

DAISY (V. O.)
So many people know me... I can't just leave now.

She steps forward, clearing her throat.

DAISY
Yes, I am Daisy Romanova. The only difference between you and me is that my father taught me to respect nature. Mother Nature gave us this island as a gift we should cherish it, not exploit it for profit like some people here today!

Applause breaks out from some guests; others exchange uneasy glances.

LENA (WHISPERING)
This isn't good

GAVIN (COLDLY)

Enough! You're all here for one reasonto finalize your investments in Coral Bay Resort. Stop wasting time on childish theatrics!

He strides over to Daisy and grabs her arm roughly.

GAVIN (CONT'D)
And youstop pretending like you're better than everyone else just because of your lineage! We have no place for spoiled rich kids here!

INT. RESORT BEACH - DAY

Daisy and Gavin stand at a distance, watching the approaching boat.

ANDRES (V. O.)
The sun is setting... The storm will be here soon.

DAISY (UNEASY)
Gavin, do you think Lucas suspects anything?

GAVIN (COLDLY FOCUSED)
I don't know. But I'll make sure he doesn't get away with it.

107

Andres approaches Daisy from behind, his expression tense but controlled.

ANDRES (LOW VOICE)
Miss Romanova...

DAISY (TURNS TO HIM IMMEDIATELY)

What? Did something happen?

Andres shakes his head slightly, glancing toward Gavin before lowering his voice furt her.

ANDRES
It's Mr. Orlov again He's not happy about me tagging along with you two. I'm afraid things might escalate between us if we keep this up...

Daisy looks thoughtful for a moment, then smiles reassuringly at Andres.

DAISY
Don't worry about that now just focus on getting the guests inside safely once they arrive. That's what matters most right now!

She pats Andres lightly on the shoulder before turning back toward the dock where Gavin stands waiting for LUCAS' arrival .

EXT./ INT . HOTEL LOBBY - MOMENTS LATER

Lucas steps off the boat and strides into the hotel lobby , flanked by several BODYGUARDS . His eyes scan quickly across everyone present until landing squarely on Gavin standing near reception .

LUCAS walks straight over without hesitation , stopping directly in front of Gavin .

LUCAS (SHARP TONE )
Orlov ! What are you doing here ? You're supposed to be protecting me !

Gavin meets Lucas' gaze evenly , unflinching .

GAVIN
I am protecting you but also making sure no one tries anything stupid while you're here . If that makes me your bodyguard today ... so be it .

Lucas scoffs dismissively , then suddenly points accusingly at Gavin's chest ,

LUCAS
You've been spying on me ever since we got here ! Admit it !

Before anyone can react furt her ,

SOPHIA enters briskly through another door nearby her face flushed with anger as she storms directly toward them all without hesitation or pause ..

SOPHIA
Enough! Stop pretending like nothing happened!

Her words slice through tension instantly; every eye snaps towards her direction as she closes distance rapidly between herself and Lucas/Gavin groupings respectively

SOPHIA
Enough of this charade! Lucas and Gavin are the same person!

The room falls into stunned silence.

DAISY (UNEASY)
What do you mean?

SOPHIA (POINTING AT LUCAS)
I've known him for years. He's a fraudhe's been pretending to be someone he's not, and now he's trying to steal your identity too!

Lucas sneers, his composure cracking.

LUCAS
You think I care about any of you? This whole act was just to get close enoughto take control.

GAVIN (COLDLY)
Daisy, stay back. Don't let him manipulate you anymore.

DAISY (FIRMLY)
Who is he really?

SOPHIA (BITTERLY)
He's an ex-con artist who got kicked out of every decent place. Now he's using fake identities to climb the ladderand drag innocent people down with him!

Lucy smirks maliciously toward Daisy.

LUCAS
Believe me or notit doesn't matter. Soon enough, everyone will see who I really am when I have all the power here on Blackstone Island Resort!

110

Gavin steps forward protectively between Daisy and Lucas.

GAVIN
We won't let that happennot while we're still standing here today! You're done playing games in our world!

Before anyone can react furt her, security personnel rush in and escort Sophia out forcibly as she protests loudly against their actions.

SOPHIA
Lucas is an impostor! He's a fraud!

Security Guard 1 slams the door shut behind them with a cold finality.

SECURITY GUARD 1
Quiet for now. The real Mr. Orlov will be here soon.

The guard exits, leaving Sophia alone and helpless in the empty lobby.

SOPHIA (V. O.)
Damn it! It's only a matter of time before he's exposed... but what if by then it's too late?

She sits down heavily on one of the chairs, her fingers trembling as she pulls out her phone and dials quickly.

he scans each person in turn until settling on Daisy across the room like a beacon amid chaos.

DAISY
(relieved)
Andres finally...

Before she can move forward furt herher legs give way beneath her suddenly. She collapses back onto her heels with a soft thud pain radiating sharply from where Lucas had struck earlier.

ANDRES
(alarmed)
Daisy! Are you okay?!

He rushes to support her immediately; their eyes lock brieflya silent reassurance passing between them before

Andres shifts focus instantly to Lucas.

Gavin approaches silently from behind.

GAVIN
You shouldn't be out here alone at night.

DAISY

114

I'm tracking the disturbance patterns. If we wait for daylight, it might be too late.

He steps closer, eyes sharp but concerned.

GAVIN
This isn't just ocean currents anymore. That thing's dangerousmore than you realize.

DAISY
Then help me figure it out instead of standing guard like a jealous cop.

Their gazes lock tension crackling between them as waves crash louder nearby.

INT. SECURITY OFFICE - NIGHT

Andres watches multiple monitors showing various parts of the island and ocean surface flickering with strange shadows beneath the waterline.

His phone buzzes a message from Gavin: "Daisy's on her own near docks."

ANDRES (MUTTERING)
Not again...

He grabs his jacket and rushes out.

EXT. BEACH PATHWAY NEAR DOCKS - MOMENTS LATER

Andres arrives breathless to find Daisy crouched by tide pools examining something glowing faintly in her handa bioluminescent fragment torn from seaweed or maybe... something else?

DAISY
Look at this glowit wasn't here before last week's storms.

115

ANDRES
Could be linked to that creature stirring up trouble underwater?

Before she can answer, heavy footsteps approach fast Gavin appears with two security guards flanking him sternly.

GAVIN
Enough wandering around in danger zones! You're coming back nowthis is not safe for solo research missions!

DAISY (DEFIANT)
If I don't understand what we're dealing with soon, more people will get hurt!

The guards shift uneasily; Andres steps forward calmly but firmly.

ANDRES
Let her finish tonight's survey firstwe'll all stay together after that.

EXT. OCEAN CLIFF OVERLOOKING RESORT LATER THAT NIGHT

The trio stands side by side watching turbulent waters below where eerie ripples spread outward under moonlight shimmering cold blue-green hues across their faces.

DAISY (POINTING)

Gavin approaches, his expression tense but controlled.

GAVIN
You shouldn't be out here alone this late.

DAISY
I'm tracking those ocean disturbances. The readings spiked again an hour ago.

117

GAVIN
That's exactly why you need backup, not solo dives in unknown waters.

DAISY
(eyes narrowing)
I don't need babysitting, Gavin. I need results.

A shadow moves beneath the water surface nearbya ripple too large for normal waves.

ANDRES (O. S.)
(cheerful but cautious)
Looks like something big is stirring tonight.

Andres steps onto the dock carrying diving gear and a lantern that casts long beams over the water.

DAISY
(turns to Andres)
Perfect timing. You ready?

ANDRES
Always ready when it comes to keeping you safe... and maybe scaring off whatever's lurking below.

Gavin watches them both with a guarded look, stepping closer to Daisy as she prepares her equipment on the dock floor.

INT. RESORT SECURITY ROOM - NIGHT

Monitors flicker with underwater camera feeds showing dark shapes moving beneath waves near coral reefs surrounding the island resort.

SECURITY OFFICER (V. O.)

118

Sir, we're picking up unusual sonar activity about 500 meters offshoresomething massive moving fast toward us.

INT. DOCKS - NIGHT

Daisy straps on her dive mask while Gavin checks communication devices clipped to their belts.

DAISY
We'll split up once underwatercover more ground quickly.

GAVIN
(skeptical)
Just stay within comm range; no heroics.

ANDRES
(grinning)
Heroics are your specialty, right Daisy?

They exchange brief smiles before slipping silently into dark water together under moonlight filtering through clouds.

EXT. UNDERWATER REEF - CONTINUOUS

The trio swims cautiously among swaying corals illuminated by their flashlights cutting through murky depths.

Suddenly a monstrous silhouette bursts from shadows tentacles thrashing violently toward Andres!

DAISY
(shouting)
Andres! Watch out!

She lunges forward grabbing one tentacle just before it strikes him directly; Gavin fires a flare gun into open water causing

I'll make sure backup arrives on time. We can't afford any mistakes this time.

They swim in unison, their resolve unwavering as they move toward the shoretheir final confrontation at sun rise imminent.

INT. RESORT VILLA - LIVING ROOM MORNING

Daisy enters first, dripping wet but composed. She quickly moves to her bag and pulls out a laptop, setting it down on the coffee table.

Gavin follows closely behind, already dressed in his sleek black suit from before.

Andres trails last, looking around nervously as he shuts the door behind them and locks it securely.

ANDRES

Is everyone here? No unwanted guests?

Daisy glances around casually before sitting on the couch next to Gavin calmly placing his laptop bag beside him while Andres stands awkwardly nearby watching them both .

Daisy opens her laptop screen revealing complex marine maps dotted with red circles representing potential attack points by sea creatures . She starts explaining methodically .

123

DAISY

These are all known habitats where ocean monsters tend to gather during storms like this one . If we place our traps strategically within these zones , there's a high chance of capturing or neutralizing whatever's causing those attacks .

Gavin leans closer , studying each point carefully while Daisy speaks confidently about tactics & strategies . Andres watches them intently , feeling slightly left out but trying hard not show discomfort .

Suddenly , loud knocking echoes through room followed immediately by gunshots shattering windows & doors alike !

Everyone freezes momentarily shocked before reacting instinctively : Gavin rushes forward grabbing Daisy tightly pulling her behind himself shielding protectively against incoming bullets ; mean while Andrés dives sideways rolling

EXT. LUXURY ISLAND RESORT - DOCKS - NIGHT

Waves crash violently against the pier. Daisy stands at the edge, clutching a waterproof case with ocean samples.

Gavin approaches, his expression sharp under the moonlight.

GAVIN
You shouldn't be out here alone. It's not safe with what's been happening.

DAISY
I'm fine. These readings could explain everythingif I get them analyzed soon.

(grim)

126

The creature's still out there. We can't afford risks.

Daisy looks away, frustration flickering in her eyes.

Andres appears behind them, holding a lantern that sways in the wind.

ANDRES
(softly)
Maybe it wants us to stop poking around?

DAISY
(snarling)
Or maybe it wants to be found before more people get hurt.

Suddenly, a deep rumble echoes from beneath the water. The dock shakes slightly; loose boards creak ominously.

Gavin steps forward protectively toward Daisy and Andres as dark shapes ripple just below the surface nearby.

INT. SECURITY OFFICE - NIGHT

Monitors flicker with static and sonar blips showing erratic underwater movement patterns near the resort perimeter.

Gavin watches intensely as an alarm blares softly.

Daisy enters hurriedly, breathless but determined.

DAISY
The creature isn't randomit follows something or someone down there.

GAVIN
Then we need to find out what before it strikes again.

127

Andres joins them by the console, pointing at one of the screens showing faint glowing trails underwater.

ANDRES
These aren't natural currentsthey look like signals maybe another creature?

Daisy leans closer to analyze data on screen while Gavin studies security footage for any signs of breach or sabotage.

EXT. BEACHFRONT CLIFF - LATER THAT NIGHT

Daisy stands alone looking over turbulent waters lit by lightning flashes far offshore.

Her phone buzzesa message from Gavin: "Meet me at control tower ASAP."

She pockets it and turns back toward shore when suddenly a massive shadow surges beneath waves close bywater explodes upward sending spray over her face.

INT. CONTROL TOWER - NIGHT

Gavin waits inside amid blinking consoles and maps pinned on walls marked with recent incidents locations.

Daisy rushes in dripping wet but alert.

DAISY
It came close... too close this time.

GAVIN
We're running out of optionsand time.

He pulls up live feeds showing multiple disturbances converging near resort docks.

128

Andres arrives quietly behind them holding two steaming cups of coffee.

ANDRES
If we can track those signals deeper into that trench area maybe we'll find its lairor what it's protecting.

Daisy exchanges a glance with Gavinhesitation mixed with resolve.

EXT. RESORT DOCKS - DAWN

The first light breaks over calm seas now eerily silent after last night's chaos.

Daisy loads equipment onto a small boat; Gavin checks weapons beside her silently watching every move.

Andres climbs aboard smiling reassuringly at both.

DAISY (V. O.)

Sometimes survival means trusting those you least expecteven if your heart is still tangled between fear and hope.

That's Dr. Romanova! The one who saved us!

GUEST 2
She looks so young for someone that accomplished... And she's married to Mr. Orlov!

GUEST 3
Wow, their kid must be adorable. Imagine growing up in a family like that!

Suddenly, footsteps approach swiftly.

Andres SUN rushes over from another direction.

ANDRES
Daisy! I've been looking everywhere for you

His words catch in his throat when he sees her surrounded by admiring fans snapping photos and asking questions.

FAN 1
Dr. Romanova! Can we get a selfie?

FAN 2 (O. S.)
I love your work! Can you sign my notebook?

Guest 4 steps forward awkwardly with an invitation card clutched tightly in hand.

130

GUEST 4 Please accept this VIP invitation to our gala tonightyou simply must attend!

Daisy freezes as Andres watches helplessly from behind the crowd. Suddenly,

Daisy ROMANOVA (V. O.)I'm sorry but I can't live this lie anymore

Her expression hardens as she raises both hands decisively toward the crowd.

Daisy ROMANOVA Enough! This isn't meI don't deserve any of your praise or admiration!

A stunned silence falls over everyone present before they quickly disperse without protest or question.

Gavin enters briskly, eyes sharp.

GAVIN
Still chasing shadows, Daisy?

DAISY
(sharp)
These aren't shadows. Something's moving out theresomething big.

GAVIN
Big enough to sink this place? Or just your imagination running wild again?

DAISY
I'm not imagining the damage to the docks last night. Or the missing divers.

A knock interrupts them. Andres steps in, holding a tablet.

ANDRES
Got new reports from the dive teams. They're spookedrefusing to go back down until we figure this out.

GAVIN
(smirks)
Maybe they finally grew some sense.

Daisy shoots him a glare but turns to Andres.

DAISY
Show me those reports.

132

Andres hands over the tablet; Daisy scrolls quickly, frowning deeper as she reads anomalies and unexplained pressure spikes near the reef perimeter.

DAISY

139

I'm not afraid of some monster in the water, Gavin. You should worry about your own fears instead of mine.

Their eyes lockcharged with rivalry and something unspoken beneath it all.

Suddenly a distant splash echoes from the water. Both freeze, alert.

INT. SECURITY OFFICE - MOMENTS LATER

Andres is monitoring multiple screens showing different angles around the island shorelines and docks.

ANDRES (INTO RADIO)
All units stay sharp movement detected near Dock 3... No visual yet on what caused it.

EXT. DOCKS - CONTINUOUS

Daisy and Gavin move cautiously toward where Andres indicated; waves glow faintly bioluminescent under moonlight.

DAISY
That glow It matches my readings from earlier today whatever this thing is, it's adapting fast.

A massive shadow shifts beneath the surface nearbya ripple that sends chills down their spines.

GAVIN (WHISPERING)
We don't have much time before it surfaces again.

Suddenly a loud CRASH as part of a dock post splinters violently beside them; they jump back just in time.

140

ANDRES rushes up behind them breathless but steady-eyed.

ANDRES
It's bigger than we thought... We need to regroup with everyone else now!

DAISY hesitates then nods reluctantly; she glances once more at the glowing waters before following them away quickly.

INT. COMMAND CENTER NIGHT

Maps and sonar images flicker across screens as Daisy points out patterns rapidly while Gavin listens intently but guardedly beside her; Andres watches both carefully from behind control panels.

DAISY
This creature isn't randomit knows our movements now because someone or something has been feeding its location...

GAVIN
So you think there's a mole inside our team? Or worse?

ANDRES
Either way if we don't act fast, no one here will make it through another night like this.

They exchange grim lookstheir rivalry momentarily set aside by urgent necessity.

EXT. BEACHFRONT CLIFF LATER THAT NIGHT

Daisy stands looking over crashing waves below when Gavin quietly joins her holding two cups of coffee without askingan unexpected gesture that catches her off guard.

141

GAVIN
Thought you might need this after tonight's chaos...

She accepts one cup slowly meeting his gaze directly for oncenot hostile anymore but wary curiosity mixed with exhaustion.

DAISY
Thanks... For once I'm glad you're watching my back rather than trying to trip me up every chance you get.

Before he can replya deep rumble shakes the ground beneath their feet followed by an eerie silence over the ocean horizon.

INT. BEACHFRONT CLIFF - DAY

Daisy's eyes widen as the sea creature collapses in front of her.

DAISY
It's over... it's finally over!

Gavin exhales sharply, his tension visibly easing.

GAVIN
Yeah... we did it.

Suddenly, a deep rumble shakes the ground beneath them. Both Daisy and Gavin stumble slightly, their expressions shifting to alarm as they look toward the ocean horizon.

142

ANDRES (O. S.)
No! It can't be...

They turn just in time to see another massive wave surge forward from the ocean. The new sea creature emergesa towering

DAISY (STUNNED)
Another one?!

The second creature lets out a deafening roar, its body trembling with fury before slamming into the shore and rolling down toward them like a tidal wave of destruction.

Before Daisy or Gavin can react, Andres steps forwardhis face pale but determinedand grabs Daisy's hand tightly.

ANDRES
Come on! We have to move!

He yanks her away from where they stood moments ago. The wave crashes against the cliffside seconds later, sending debris flying everywhere. Dust billows through the air as both creatures now loom ominously behind them on landthe first one thrashing violently near their feet; this new beast roaring ferociously furt her up ahead by Andres' positionwith no sign of retreat in either direction.

INT. GUEST ROOM - NIGHT

143

The room is dimly lit, shadows flickering from the fireplace. Daisy sits on the couch, wrapped in a blanket, her eyes fixed on the door.

DAISY (V. O.)
Where is he? I need to tell him about that signal

Suddenly, Gavin appears at the doorway. He glances around cautiously before stepping inside and closing the door behind him.

GAVIN
Daisy I have something to say.

He takes a deep breath and steps closer.

DAISY (V. O.)
Finally he's here!

She stands up eagerly but freezes when she sees his expressionserious and tense.

GAVIN
I know you're upset with me right now... but please hear me out first.

DAISY (V. O.)
(pleased) He missed me too...

Before she can react furt her, Gavin grabs her hand firmly and pulls her into a kiss. Daisy is stunned for a moment but quickly melts into it. Their bodies press together as they lose themselves in each other's embracethe sound of their heavy breathing fills the room as passion ignites between them

EXT. BEACHFRONT CLIFF - CONTINUOUS

144

From outside, through an open window or gap near the cliff edge, Andres watches them intenselyhis face pale with shock and hurt.

ANDRES (WHISPERING TO HIMSELF)
Daisy how could you?

His hands clench into fists tightly as jealousy wells up inside him. But then his expression hardens with determination rather than despair.

ANDRES (QUIETLY)
No matter what happens next... I won't let anyone hurt you againnot even myself!

He turns away from the window abruptlyand walks off purposefully toward another part of the island

INT. GUEST ROOM - NIGHT

Daisy and Gavin break their kiss, both breathless.

DAISY (HOPEFUL)
Is this a second chance?

GAVIN (SERIOUS, PASSIONATE)
I'll protect you, no matter what.

Andres watches them from the shadows, his face a mixture of jealousy and determination.

ANDRES (V. O.)
No matter what I won't let anyone hurt her.

145

He turns away silently and leaves the room without making a sound. The door closes behind him with a soft click.

INT. GUEST ROOM - NIGHT

Andres stands frozen, watching Daisy and Gavin kiss passionately. His face twists in pain.

ANDRES (V. O.)
Damn it! I finally dared to confess my feelings for her... but now she's with him?

He clenches his fists, forcing himself to turn away.

ANDRES (V. O.) (CONT'D)
No matter what happens next, I have to protect her.

Without looking back, he quietly leaves the room.

146

INT. RESORT ENTRANCE DAY

Gavin's eyes darken, filled with desire and possessiveness.

GAVIN
(low, intense)
Damn it... If I can't have you, no one will.

He steps closer to Daisy, closing the distance between them. Daisy instinctively takes a step back but finds herself cornered against the wall.

DAISY
(panicked)
Gavin!

Before he can reach her, Andres suddenly reappears at the entrance. Without hesitation, he charges forward and slams his fist hard into Gavin's chest.

ANDRES
(furious)
Stay away from my girl!

The impact sends Gavin staggering backward several steps. He barely manages to catch himself before collapsing onto a nearby bench.

GAVIN (CONT'D)
(angry and breathless)
You really think you can stop me?

ANDRES
(defiant)
I don't care what it takesI'll protect Daisy till my last breath!

147

Daisy rushes over to help Andres steady himself.

DAISY
(grateful)
Thank you... Andres...

Her hand lingers on his arm for just a moment longer than necessary before she lets go. She turns sharply toward Gavin, her expression cold and resolute.

DAISY (CONT'D)
(firmly)
Andres is right! You're not fit to be by anyone's sidenot as a partner or even as an ally in this battle!

She glances briefly at Andrés with warmth before locking eyes with Gavin againher gaze steely and unwavering.

DAISY (CONT'D)
(calm but cutting)
I won't let your obsession ruin everything we've fought for here todayand trust me when I say that if push comes to shove I'll make sure someone far more worthy than you stands beside me instead.

Gavin clenches his jaw tightly but doesn't respond immediately; instead he looks down at the ring still on Daisy's fingera flash of regret crossing his face.

Suddenly there are loud shouts coming from insidethe staff rushing out in panicthey all look terrified towards the sea side of island.

STAFF MEMBER 1
(pointing frantically)

148

It came back! The monsterit's attacking again!

Daisy stiffens instantly; her scientific instincts snapping into action.

DAISY
(alarmed)
Everyonestay calm! Follow my leadwe need immediate evacuation procedures coordinated now!

She grabs Andrés arm firmly.

DAISY (CONT'D)
Let's go!

They quickly turn toward where everyone else is runningthe three main characters run together without looking back.

EXT. RESORT - SEASIDE - CONTINUOUS

The wind howls fiercely across jagged rocks lining shore, rain pelting sideways. Suddenly a large wave crashes violently against the cliffside, sending spray high into the air.

Atop one such rock formation stands DAWN-WHITE HAIRED MONSTER, the same creature who attacked earlier. It roars loudly as another massive wave surges behind it.

Daisy steps forward, her voice steady despite the storm.

DAISY
(calling out)
We've studied you. We understand your pain. We're here to help, not to fight.

Andres stands beside her, nodding firmly.

149

ANDRES
Together, we'll find a way to protect this islandand you.

The monster's roar softens, as if hearing their words. The storm begins to calm, the waves less violent.

Gavin watches from a distance, his expression conflicted but subdued.

DAISY (CONT'D)
(softly, to Andres)
This is just the beginning of healingfor all of us.

They share a hopeful glance as the rain eases and the first rays of sun light break through the clouds.
