EXT. CITY ROOFTOP - NIGHT

ARIA, early 20s, in a sleek but slightly bulky hero suit, crouches on the edge of a rooftop. Her eyes scan the dark streets below.

A sudden explosion lights up an alley nearby.

JORDAN CLARKE, mid-30s, confident and composed in his high-tech armor, lands beside her with a soft thud.

JORDAN
You're watching too much from above. You need to be in the thick of it.

ARIA
(annoyed)
And get myself blown up? No thanks. I'm here to observe first learn how you handle this.

Jordan smirks but doesn't reply immediately. He gestures toward the chaos down below: smoke rising from burning cars; people running scared.

JORDAN
Watch closely then. This is what experience looks like.

They leap off together toward the street level as sirens wail in the distance.

EXT. CITY STREET - CONTINUOUS

The two heroes land amid panicked civilians fleeing a group of masked villains armed with strange energy weapons.

ARIA moves cautiously behind Jordan as he charges forward without hesitation and disarms one attacker swiftly with precise strikes.

ARIA
(calling out)
Wait! Let me try

She rushes at another villain but hesitates just long enough for him to counterattack fiercely, knocking her back against a wall hard enough to crack plaster.

Jordan spins around sharply and grabs Aria's arm before she falls completely over.

(grim)
You can't hesitate when lives are on the line!

ARIA
(breathless)
I'm not ready yet... But I will be!

BLAISE CRAWFORD appears suddenly from an alleywaylate 20s, warm smile beneath his casual hero gearand helps Aria steady herself gently by her shoulders.

BLAISE
Hey, rookie doesn't mean helpless. You've got heartthat counts for something here.

Aria looks between Blaise and Jordan tension thick between them all.

INT. ABANDONED WAREHOUSE - LATER

The three regroup inside dim shadows cast by broken windows and flickering overhead bulbs.

JORDAN
(skeptical)
Heart won't save you if you don't listen or follow orders next time.

BLAISE
(calmly)
Maybe she needs space to find her own waynot just copy your playbook every time?

Aria meets Blaise's gaze gratefully while Jordan clenches his jaw silently.

ARIA
(firmly)
I want bothyour guidance and my own style... If we work together right, maybe we can actually protect this city better than anyone else has before.

Jordan studies her seriously for a beat then nods slowlya silent truce forming between them all now that battle lines have shifted into something new: partnership mixed with rivalry

EXT. CITY SKYLINE DAWN

Aria stands alone on another rooftop watching sunrise paint gold across glass towers belowthe weight of tonight settling deep inside her chestbut also hope sparking quietly there too.

INT. CITY CENTRAL COMMAND - DAY

The next day, Aria enters the sleek, modern command center. She spots Jordan sitting at a desk, reviewing reports.

ARIA
(cheerful)
Morning! Ready for another day of saving the city?

Jordan looks up, expression unreadable.

JORDAN CLARKE
(flatly)
You're not officially part of this team yet. You need to learn protocol first.

Aria's smile fades slightly but she nods politely.

ARIA
Of course. I just thought

Before she can finish, Blaise Crawford strides in from an adjacent room and immediately notices her.

BLAISE CRAWFORD
(grinning warmly)
Hey there! You must be Ariaheard you're the new recruit!

He extends his hand enthusiastically. Aria shakes it with a bright smile.

ARIA HERRERA
Nice to meet you!

Blaise turns toward Jordan and then back to Aria casually.

BLAISE CRAWFORD

Don't mind him; he's been here forever and still acts like he owns everything. I'm your partner on patrol todaylet me show you around later!

Jordan clears his throat sharply and steps closer to them both.

JORDAN CLARKE
(interrupting coldly)
That is not how things work here! Rookie mistakes could cost lives

Before tension escalates furt her, an ALARM BLARES throughout the building. Red lights flash urgently as emergency sirens echo through the hallways.

COMMANDER (V. O.)
All units report immediatelydangerous situation unfolding downtown!

Without hesitation, Blaise grabs Aria's arm firmly but gently while Jordan quickly moves toward their vehicle parked outside nearby building entrance .

BLAISE CRAWFORD
(excitedly reassuring)
Come on rookie , let's kick some villain butt !

Aria glances briefly at Jordan before breaking into a confident run alongside Blaise . The two dash out together , ready for action .

INT. CITY HALL - LOBBY - DAY

6

Aria and Blaise rush through the crowded lobby, urgency in their steps.

BLAISE
You okay? You look like you haven't slept in days.

ARIA
I'm fine. I just need to get back to my apartmentmy dad's waiting for me.

They exit into the street.

EXT. CITY STREET - DAY

The city is alive with morning energypeople commuting, vendors setting up stalls. Aria and Blaise weave through the crowd toward a sleek black car parked by the curb.

As they approach, two SECURITY GUARDS block their path, arms crossed sternly.

SECURITY GUARD 1 (GRUFF)
Hold it right there. No one gets near Mr. Clarke without proper clearance.

Blaise steps forward immediately, raising his hands placatingly.

BLAISE
Hey! We're here on official business

Before he can finish, Security Guard 2 grabs him by the collar and shoves him roughly against a nearby wall with a loud thud .

SECURITY GUARD 2 (SNARLING)
Didn't hear you!

7

Aria freezes for half a second before springing into actionher eyes flashing as she slaps Security Guard 2 across the face hard enough to stagger him backward onto his partner. Both men groan in pain but quickly recover and advance menacingly toward her side-by-side position beside them is Jordan Clarke himselfthe epitome of cold authorityand behind him stands Vanessa Davis , poised yet impatient .

JORDAN CLARKE (COLDLY)
Who are these people?

Vanessa leans slightly closer to Jordan Clarke while scanning Aria from head-to-toe dismissively .

VANESSA DAVIS (SMIRKING)
Oh great... another hero wannabe who thinks she can waltz into our territory uninvited...

Jordan raises an eyebrow at Vanessa's tone but remains silent for now .

Security Guard 1 points accusingly at Aria while gesturing toward Blaise Crawford lying on ground nearby .

SECURITY GUARD 1
This little girl just assaulted one of us! And her friend tried talking his way past security!

Jordan narrows his gaze sharply at both guards before turning attention fully onto Aria . His voice is ice-cold yet commandinga statement that brooks no argument .

JORDAN CLARKE

8

Enough talk. Escort them out immediatelyor better yet... have someone teach them respect properly !

He glances briefly over Vanessa , then turns back firmly towards the Guards

VANESSA DAVIS (SNEERING)

My apologies Sir ... I'll take care of it myself ...

She strides forward swiftly , grabbing hold of Aria 's arm tightly without warning Her grip firm enough to draw gasps from those watching nearby .

AVA JONES watches intently from afar , lips curling upward as if savoring some delicious spectacle unfolding before her very eyes

The moment tension thickens furt her suddenly

A sharp CRACK echoes through air

EVERYONE SPINS AROUND INSTINCTIVELY

From atop adjacent building rooftop A lone figure stands silhouetted against bright sunlight : Aria'S FATHER JOHN HERRERA !!!

His presence commands immediate attention ; The entire scene freezes mid-motion under weighty impact

John Herrera steps forward, his presence commanding silence.

JOHN HERRERA
Enough! What the hell is going on here?

Aria's eyes widen as she stares at her father in disbelief.

ARIA (V. O.)
Dad? How did he even get here?

Jordan Clarke stiffens, quickly regaining composure.

JORDAN CLARKE
Mr. Herrera This is a misunderstanding

Before Jordan can finish, John cuts him off with a sharp glare.

JOHN HERRERA
Misunderstanding? My daughter was just kidnapped!

He strides over to Aria and Blaise, pulling them into a protective embrace.

JOHN HERRERA (CONT'D)
I'm so sorry I wasn't here sooner. This won't happen againI swear it!

Blaise looks relieved but tense. Aria's expression softens slightly as she leans into her father's embrace.

Suddenly, Vanessa steps forward with an exaggerated bow toward John.

VANESSA RAYMOND
Mr. Herrera! It's an honor to meet you! Iuhwas just trying to help your daughter

She glances nervously at Jordan for support. Jordan clears his throat awkwardly and nods impatiently toward the exit guards behind him.

JORDAN CLARKE
Yeah about that "helping" part maybe we should go back inside now?

Vanessa freezes for a moment before sheepishly retreating after the guards' signal. The doors close behind her with a heavy thud.

John immediately shifts his attention back to Jordan, voice cold and authoritative.

JOHN HERRERA
You're fired! All of youguards included!

Jordan blinks in shock but quickly masks it with forced professionalism.

JORDAN CLARKE
Mr. Herrera, please understand

BEHIND THEM

The two security guards exchange nervous glances before hastily turning around and sprinting out of City Hall without looking back or flinching once under their boss's stern gaze.

BACK TO SCENE

John points directly at each guard through the glass door like thunderbolts from Olympus himself.

Outside City Hall - Day

The two security guards run down the sidewalk side by side when suddenly one trips over uneven pavement.
He crashes hard onto the street curb while his companion comes to an immediate halt.

GUARD 1
(grimacing in pain)
Ah... damn sidewalk!
Guard 2 looks down at Guard 1 then turns away without hesitation.
GUARD 2
(rolling up sleeve)
I don't want no part of this...
Guard 2 walks away confidently leaving Guard 1 sitting on street curb forlornly watching him walk away.
GUARD 1
(shouting)
Hey man wait!
Guard 2 ignores him completely while walking fart her down road until out of sight leaving Guard One alone feeling abandoned.

INSIDE CITY HALL LOBBY - CONTINUOUS

Jordan takes several hesitant steps backward under John's furious stare.

JORDAN CLARKE
Sir... Please reconsider...

Before he can finish pleading,

John slams his palm against Jordan's chest with authority, stopping him dead in place.

JOHN HERRERA
That incident nearly cost my daughter's life because you were incompetent enough not notice something was wrong until too late!!

12

Aria watches silently beside her father, her arms crossed tight across chest showing clear disapproval towards Jordans actions earlier today .

Her eyes flicker briefly towards Blaise who stands nearby quietly observing everything happening around them .

Then finally ,

with perfect timing ,

she speaks up loudly breaking tension hanging thick air between all parties involved .

ARIA

Dad ! You don't need punish everyone else just because I'm angry . I am fine now .

Her tone carries maturity beyond years , subtly reminding both men present they shouldn't dwell too long on past mistakes

JOHN

Daughter ... Sorry if I upset you . But this matter concerns your safety first above all else .
He straightens once more fixing piercing stare firmly upon Jordans face .

JOHN

And as far as I'm concerned , anyone responsible will pay dearly regardless how much power influence wealth they possess !

Mr. Herrera ...
His voice cracks slightly betraying inner turmoil brewing beneath composed exterior .

JORDAN

Please give me chance prove myself worthy serving alongside Miss Herrara once again !
He lowers head respectfully awaiting final judgement from highest authority within walls city hall building itself .

Before anyone could respond,
A LOUD COMMOTION erupts outside followed by panicked SHOUTS echoing through hallway corridors.

Everyone turns sharply toward entrance where Security Chief Lucas bursts breathless into room waving frantically.

LUCAS (BREATHLESS)

Boss!! Something terrible happened downtown--there's been another attack!!

His words hang heavily suspended midair sending chills rippling every spine standing still within confined space

Surrounded by the security team, Jordan lowers his head in shame.

JORDAN
I'm sorry, sir! This won't happen again!

John's expression is cold and unyielding.

JOHN
You're fired. All of you.

Jordan's face turns ashen; he falls to his knees, desperate.

JORDAN
Please, Mr. Herrera! I've been loyal for yearsI can explain!

John doesn't flinch; he gestures sharply to the guards behind him.

JOHN
Take them away. Now!

The guards seize Jordan and the team members one by one. They struggle but are dragged out of sight.

Aria watches quietly from the sideher eyes flicker with something unreadable as she steps forward toward her father.

ARIA
Father... I'll handle this from now on.
She pauses briefly before adding softly:
ARIA (CONT'D)
Thank you for coming back for me...

John looks at Aria with deep affection and pridebut then a guard rushes in, breathless and panicked.

INT. CITY HALL LOBBY - DAY

Everyone freezes, stunned and silent.

ARIA (V. O.)
Dad? What is he doing here?

John strides in with authority, his presence commanding the room. He stops beside Aria, placing a firm hand on her shoulder.

JOHN
(voice cold but proud)
Aria, I'm sorry for being late. But now that I'm here, everything will be taken care of.

Jordan's expression shifts instantlyhis desperation replaced by respect and relief.

JORDAN
Mr. Herrera! Thank God you're safe!

Before John can respond fully, Vanessa steps forward again, her tone sharp and impatient.

VANESSA
Enough pleasantries! There's been another attack downtowna much more severe one this time! We need to move immediately!

16

The room falls into tense silence once more as everyone processes the news.

Another attack? This city... it never gets a break...

John's gaze hardens as he turns toward the exit without hesitation.

JOHN
(to Aria)
We'll discuss this later. Right now we have a city to protect.
He gestures sharply at the guards around him.
JOHN (CONT'D)
Move outnow!

The guards snap to attention and rush toward the door first. John leads them without looking back; Aria follows closely behind him.

(uneasy)
Another attack? What kind of threat are we facing?

17

Jordan glances at her with concern but says nothing, following John quickly out of the lobby.

EXT. CITY HALL DAY

The team bursts through the doors into the bright sunlight. The streets buzz with tension as emergency vehicles race by, sirens blaring.

Blaise catches up to Aria outside and falls into step beside her, his voice calm but urgent.

BLAISE
Aria I know you want to prove yourself, but don't be reckless out there. You're not ready for this level yet.

ARIA (FIRM)
I'm readyI've trained hard enough!

Before she can finish, Jordan steps forward and gently places a hand on her shoulder.

JORDAN
(interrupting softly)
It's not about trainingit's about experience. And sometimes that comes from knowing when not to rush in headfirst.

Aria stiffens at his words but nods reluctantly as they all begin walking briskly down the street together toward where chaos awaits.

The team moves in formation, tension thick as they navigate the crowded streets.

ARIA
(steely)
Downtown's a war zone right now. We need to split up and cover more ground.

JORDAN
(frowning)
That's reckless. The civilians there are already panickedwe can't afford mistakes.

BLAISE
(calm, logical)
Aria has a point. If we stick together, we'll only slow down our response time.

Jordan hesitates, glancing at Aria with silent concern before nodding reluctantly.

JORDAN
Fine. But stay within comms rangedon't take unnecessary risks.

Aria nods sharply and dashes off without waiting for another word from Jordan or Blaise. Jordan sighs heavily and starts running after her but stops when Blaise catches his arm firmly to hold him back.

(sincere)
She'll be fine out there... She just needs someone to believe in her don't you?

Jordan clenches his jaw tightly, conflicted emotions flickering across his face before he finally exhales slowly and turns toward the chaos ahead of them with renewed focus.

ARIA (V. O.)
I need to find my dad. I can't let anything happen to him.

Suddenly, she spots a familiar figure in the crowdJOHN HERRERA, 60s, composed and commanding even in chaos. Relief washes over her face.

She breaks into a run toward him.

BEFORE SHE REACHES HIM

A SHADOWY FIGURE lunges at John from behind!

Without thinking, Aria dives forwardher body slamming into his as they hit the ground with a dull thud.

The attacker stumbles but regains balance quickly and kicks out hard toward them both.

John instinctively shields Aria with his armbut he takes the brunt of it. He cries out in pain as blood seeps through his sleeve.

Aria screams and grabs John's injured arm tightly while glaring fiercely at their assailanta tall woman wearing sunglasses and an oversized coat: LEXI WINTERS (THE GUNNER).

LEXI
(smiling coldly)

20

Well done for protecting your old man... now you're both mine!

Lexi pulls out a pistol aimed directly at themthe barrel gleams ominously under the sunlight. The surrounding crowd gasps in terror; some begin to scatter frantically while others freeze in shock.

Aria's heart pounds like thunder as she stares down Lexi every muscle tensed for action but unable to move fast enough against that gun pointed straight at John's chest...

THEN SUDDENLY

Jordan CLARKE appears beside her like nightfall itself answering dawna shadow stepping into lightand without hesitation,

He raises his hand sharply toward Lexiwith one swift motion

ARIA
I'm his daughter! And I won't let anyone hurt him!

Her voice is fiercetoo fierce.

BLAISE (O. S.)
Aria!

Blaise rushes in, placing a steady hand on her shoulder.

BLAISE (CONT'D)
Let me handle this one.

Before Aria can protest, Blaise turns to Jordan with a warm smile that contrasts sharply with the tension in the air.

BLAISE (CONT'D)
Hey there. I'm Blaise Crawfordthe new member of City Guard Team 1... and Aria's teammate now.

Jordan studies him for a moment before nodding slightlynot quite trusting but acknowledging the introduction nonetheless.

JORDAN
Fine. But if anyone steps out of line...

He glances back at John and then at Vanessa on the ground nearbyhis warning clear without needing words: Don't mess up again like she did today.

John quickly grabs Jordan's arm, urgency in his tone as he speaks over everyone else's tension-filled silence.

We need your help immediately! There's another attack downtowna massive explosion just happened!

Jordan stiffens instantly at the news. His demeanor shifts from cold authority to sharp focus as he listens intently while pulling out his communicator device.

JORDAN
Understood. Lead us there now.

Jordan steps up beside her, arms crossed, calm but firm.

JORDAN
You're rushing in again. That's not how we handle this.

ARIA
(firm)
If I wait for backup every time, people get hurt. We need to act fast.

Jordan shakes his head slightly, watching a distant flicker of movement down below.

JORDAN
Speed without control gets you killed or worse, innocent bystanders caught in crossfire.

Aria clenches her fists but holds back a retort as Blaise approaches from behind them quietly.

BLAISE
(softly)
Maybe there's a middle ground? Aria's instincts are rightsometimes quick moves save lives. But Jordan has experience too...

Aria looks at Blaise gratefully; Jordan studies Blaise with an unreadable expression.

ARIA
Thanks for saying that. I'm not trying to prove anything except that I can protect this city too.

24

Jordan nods slowly and gestures toward the street where shadows shift dangerously near civilians gathering outside a club.

JORDAN
Alright then show me your plan before you jump in next time?

Aria exhales sharply but agrees with a determined nod.

INT. ABANDONED WAREHOUSE - NIGHT

The trio moves cautiously inside amid crates and broken machinery sounds echoing faintly around them.

Blaise shines his flashlight over graffiti-scarred walls while Aria checks her comms device nervously.

Suddenly footsteps approach rapidly from behind; Aria spins just as two masked thugs rush out.

She reacts instantly: punches one hard; Jordan tackles the other expertly.

Blaise pulls out non-lethal stun darts and fires quickly to disable another attacker sneaking up nearby.

After subduing all three assailants, they regroup breathless but alert.

ARIA
(panting)
That was close... Thanks for covering my blind spot.

JORDAN

Stay close. Watch for secondary blasts or traps.

BLAISE
(grabbing Aria's arm gently)
I'm with you, always.

They sprint toward the chaos as sirens wail in the distance. Firefighters and police flood in, but panic is spreading among civilians.

CIVILIAN 1
(shouting)
There's another bomb! It's set to go off any minute!

CIVILIAN 2
(frantically pointing at a nearby building)
The old warehouseit looks unstable! If that collapses...

Aria glances at Jordan and Blaise, determination flashing through her eyes.

ARIA
(pointing decisively)
That must be itthe source of those bombs. Let me handle it; I can disarm whatever's inside.

JORDAN
(cutting her off firmly)

27

No way. This isn't just about brute force anymoreyou don't have enough intel on what we're dealing with here yet.

BLAISE

(stepping forward calmly)

Aria has instinctsand heartthat no one else has. She should lead this one together with Jordan's experience guiding her moves... And I'll cover your back both of you.

Jordan studies them for a moment before nodding reluctantlybut his gaze lingers on Aria longer than usual, respect softening

INT. CITY CENTRAL COMMAND - NIGHT

Aria stands before a large, digital map displaying the city grid. She holds a tablet, swiping through data with determination.

ARIA
(serious)
The bomber's patternthree more attacks in the next hour. We need to cut off his escape routes and evacuate key areas immediately.

30

Jordan leans against the console, arms crossed, watching her with a mix of skepticism and concern.

JORDAN
(gruff)
You're still thinking like an amateur hero chasing glory instead of focusing on strategy. Evacuations take timewe don't have that luxury for all three locations simultaneously.

Blaise steps forward calmly, placing a hand on Aria's shoulder.

BLAISE
(supportive)
Let me handle it. I'll coordinate with local units and start evacuation protocols now. You focus on tracking him down.

Jordan exhales sharply but doesn't interrupt furt her as he watches Aria nod at Blaise gratefully before turning back to him.

(firmly)
And you? You're coming with me this timeno exceptions! This is too important for us to split up again!

Jordan hesitates briefly but finally relents under her unwavering gaze.

Jordan steps up behind her, calm but firm.

JORDAN
You're too exposed out here. You need cover if you want to last past round one.

ARIA
I'm not here to hide. I'm here to act fast before they spread chaos downtown.

32

Jordan shakes his head slightly, then points toward a nearby alley lit by flickering streetlights.

JORDAN
Speed's useless if you get cornered. Follow methere's a better vantage point with backup ready.

Before Aria can respond, Blaise appears beside them, hands in pockets and an easy smile playing on his lips.

BLAISE
Or... we could split up? Cover more ground that way?

Jordan glares at Blaise but says nothing. Aria looks between them tension thick as smoke.

ARIA
We don't have time for debates. Let's movetogether or notI'll handle my side of this city my way.

INT. ABANDONED WAREHOUSE - NIGHT

Aria slips inside quietly; shadows cling close around her as she moves deeper into the maze of crates and broken machinery.

Suddenlya shout from outside breaks the silence:

INT. SAFE HOUSE ROOM - NIGHT

The trio stands in the room, tension thick in the air.

JORDAN (APPROVING, SLIGHTLY AMUSED)
You handled that well.

ARIA (CAUTIOUSLY HOPEFUL)
Thanks... I guess.

BLAISE (TEASING, OPTIMISTIC)
I knew you could do it!

Suddenly, a phone on the table rings loudly. Aria jumps and quickly answers it.

VOICE ON PHONE
Aria Herrera? You have an urgent call at headquarters immediately!

Aria's expression shifts to concern as she listens. She ends the call abruptly and turns to Jordan and Blaise.

ARIA
Something's come upI need to go back right away.

Jordan steps forward, his gaze intense yet calm. He places a hand on her shoulder lightly but firmly.

JORDAN
Stay here tonight. We'll leave first thing in the morningtogether.

36

Aria looks at him, hesitant but trusting his judgment. She nods reluctantly.

Before she can say more,

BLAISE (SMILING WARMLY)
Don't worry! I'll keep you both company until morning!

He playfully nudges Jordan toward one of the beds nearby the one with extra spaceand then sits down himself on another bed across from them. Both Aria and Jordan glance at each other awkwardly before settling onto their respective beds opposite each other as Blaise watches with amusement.

She glances at the clock and sits uprealization hits.

ARIA
Oh no, I have to go back to HQ right now!

Without thinking, she leaps out of bed and rushes toward the door.

BEFORE SHE REACHES IT

JORDAN (O. S.)
You're not going anywhere.

37

Aria freezes in her tracks. She turns slowly to see Jordan standing there, arms crossed, expression unreadable but firm.

Their eyes lock for a long moment before Aria finally breaks away and runs out of the room without looking back.

INT. SAFE HOUSE ROOM - MORNING

Sunlight filters through the curtains. Aria, disheveled and sleepy, sits up in bed.

ARIA (V. O.)
I have to get back to HQ immediately!

She swings her legs over the side of the bed and rushes toward the dooronly to collide with Jordan standing there.

JORDAN
Where do you think you're going?

Aria freezes, eyes wide with shock.

ARIA
You... you're not here for me? You're actually just guarding this place?

Jordan crosses his arms, blocking her path without a hint of apology.

JORDAN
The mission isn't over yet. You need rest before we head out again.

Aria's panic shifts quickly into frustration as she stares at him in disbelief.

ARIA

38

Rest?! There are lives on the line! I can't waste time sleeping!

Her voice rises with urgency as she tries to push past himbut he remains unmoved, firmly planted like a wall between her and freedom.

JORDAN (CALM BUT FIRM)
This is an official safe house. No unauthorized departures until furt her notice. End of discussion.

He turns sharply on his heel and walks away without looking backleaving Aria fuming behind him, trapped by rules she refuses to accept.

EPISODE 19

INT. SAFE HOUSE ROOM - NIGHT

Aria's eyes widen in shock, her voice trembling.

ARIA
You're telling me my superpower is a joke?

JORDAN
(leaning against the door frame, arms crossed)
I'm just saying if your power was truly unique and strong, you wouldn't need to rush back to HQ every time something happens.

Aria clenches her fists, frustration boiling over.

ARIA
That doesn't mean I'm weak! Just because my ability isn't flashy or loud doesn't mean it's less effective. But sometimes you have to admit that being different comes with challenges. Not everyone understands your strength yet.

39

JORDAN
(interrupting smoothly)

Aria huffs defiantly but then notices Jordan's calm expression no mockery, just quiet observation.

She exhales sharply and slumps onto the bed with a heavy sigh.

ARIA (V. O.)
Maybe he has a point... maybe I do need more training...

Suddenly, she sits up straight and glares at him playfully.

ARIA (CONT'D)
But don't think for one second that means I'll take orders from you!

Jordan smirks slightly but remains composed as he steps closer into the room and shuts the door behind him firmly without locking it signaling control but leaving an escape route visible nonetheless.

JORDAN
Relax. You've done enough for today. Rest is part of training tooand tomorrow we continue where we left off at lunch... on those reflex drills in the gymnasium hallway

He turns toward the window and glances out casually before heading for his own room down the hall without looking back at Aria directly.

BEFORE DISAPPEARING AROUND CORNER

40

JORDAN (O. S.)
And if you try anything again tonight well let's just say there will be consequences waiting in your dreams

The sound of his footsteps fades away as Aria seethes quietly on her bed alone under dim light trapped between stubborn pride and reluctant obedience.

INT. SAFE HOUSE ROOM - DAY

Aria sits on the bed, her arms crossed tightly, eyes burning with silent fury.

ARIA (V. O.)
He's just keeping me here to show off his power... I'm not some pet he can control.

The door creaks open. Jordan steps inside smoothly, closing it behind him without a word.

JORDAN
I know you're upset. But this mission isn't over yet.

He walks closer, gaze steady and unyielding.

JORDAN (CONT'D)
You had no right to break protocol last nightendangering yourself and everyone else. If you act out again tonight...

His voice lowers intentionally, heavy with implication.

JORDAN (CONT'D)
There will be consequences you won't like. Do I make myself clear?

41

Aria stiffens but doesn't respond immediatelyher glare says everything she feels.

Jordan turns on his heel and leaves without another word. The door locks with a soft click behind him.

Alone now, Aria exhales sharply and slams her palm against the wall in frustration before collapsing back onto the bed in defeat.

INT. SAFE HOUSE ROOM - CONTINUOUS

Aria's fingers tap the locked door in frustration.

ARIA (V. O.)
How could I be so stupid? If only I'd known about her...

She sighs, leaning against the wall.

Suddenly, a soft knock comes from outside. The door unlocks.

Blaise CRAWFORD (30s), warm and composed, steps in with a gentle smile.

BLAISE
Hey... figured you might need some company.

Aria's eyes widen in surprise but she quickly composes herself, crossing her arms defensively.

ARIA
Who are you? And how did you get past Jordan?

42

Blaise chuckles softly and sits beside her on the bed without waiting for an invitation.

BLAISE
I'm Blaise Crawford. I work at Metropolis Central Command toomostly behind the scenes coordinating missions. As for Jordan well, let's just say he trusts me enough not to lock me out of places like this anymore.

He glances at Aria with genuine concern before continuing more seriously.

BLAISE (CONT'D)
Look... I know things have been rough between you two lately. But trust me Jordan isn't trying to hold you back or belittle your abilities. He just wants to keep everyone safe during missionsincluding you.
(beat)
And honestly? Your potential is incredible once it fully awakens

Aria stiffens slightly but listens intently as Blaise speaks earnestly beside hertheir shoulders almost touching now under the dim room light.

ARAI
What do you mean by "once it fully awakens"?

BEFORE BLAISE CAN ANSWER

The TV screen flickers on automatically with urgent static noise before stabilizing onto a NEWS REPORTER'S face on screen:

NEWS REPORTER (O. S.)

Breaking news! A group of unidentified super-powered individuals has suddenly appeared downtownthey're wreaking havoc and causing mass panic!

Onscreen footage shows several shadowy figures moving swiftly through city streetsone figure distinctly wearing Aria's signature outfit color scheme: teal accents against black leather armor .

News anchor gasps dramatically upon recognizing them:

NEWS ANCHOR (O. S.)
That looks exactly like one of our own heroes!

Realization hits both Aria and Blaise simultaneously as they stare wide-eyed at the screen

EXT./INT. VARIOUS CITY LOCATIONS DAY

movements

Her heart pounding louder than ever , she turns sharply toward Blaise :

Aria She's not one of us . They're impostors !

A SPLIT SECOND LATER

The apartment window shatters violently outward as wind rushes through , scattering debris everywhere !

Two identical copies of Aria barreling straight into them each flanked closely by TWO OTHER IMPOSTORS dressed similarly .

Their faces distorted beyond recognition but unmistakably malicious

They land hard inside , kicking open space like predators closing in for blood .

IMPOSSIBLE . THEY CAN'T BE REAL !!

Aria's eyes widen in shock as the two impostors push their way inside, their malicious allies close behind.

ARIA
(voice trembling)
How did you find me?

The first impostorher face a perfect mirror of Aria'ssteps forward with a cruel smile.

IMPOSTOR 1 (ARIA'S COPY)

45

Because this city is ours now. And your little act? It ends here.

Blaise stands protectively beside Aria, his expression calm but firm.

BLAISE
You won't get away with this. I'll make sure

Before he can finish, the second impostor lunges at him. Blaise reacts instantly, blocking the attack and shoving them back toward their allies.

BLAISE (CONT'D)
(to Aria)
Stay behind me!

Aria watches helplessly as chaos erupts around herthe room becomes a battlefield between her doppelgangers' faction and Blaise's protective stance. Suddenly, she catches sight of something on one of the ally's armsa tattoo identical to hers.

Her breath catches in her throat as realization dawns on her face: these aren't just random impersonatorsthey're part of something much bigger... someone orchestrating from the shadows for personal gain through destruction and chaos!

Suddenly, there's a loud BANG outsidethe door bursts open againand Jordan Clarke strides into the room without hesitation or fear! His gaze sweeps over everyone present; his presence alone commands authority and control over what happens next...

46

Enough!

His voice cuts through the tension like steel. The room falls silent instantly at his command. The opponents falantly freeze in place under his intense stare before finally retreating out of fear or submission...

Jordan walks straight up to Aria their eyes lock for an instant then he turns calmly towards Blaise Crawford:

JORDAN CLARKE
(to Blaise)
Is she alright?

Blissful relief washes over both Aria & Blaise when they realize how much trust Jordan places upon them despite everything that has happened so far

Their bond runs deeper than anyone could imagine

EPISODE 23

INT. SAFE HOUSE ROOM DAY

Jordan's commanding presence fills the room as his voice cuts through the tension.

JORDAN CLARKE
Retreat. Now.

The impostors hesitate, their resolve wavering under Jordan's authority. One of them snarls before they all turn and flee, disappearing into the shadows outside.

47

Aria exhales deeply, her knees nearly buckling from relief. Blaise immediately steps forward to steady her, placing a firm hand on her shoulder.

BLAISE CRAWFORD
Are you okay? Did they hurt you?

ARIA HERRERA
(shaking off dizziness)
No I'm fine now that they're gone.

She turns toward Jordan with gratitude in her eyes but also a flicker of frustration lingering beneath the surface.

ARIA HERRERA (CONT'D)
Thank you for coming... But why did it take so long? And where was your backup team?

Jordan's gaze sharpens slightly at Aria's tone he knows she isn't just questioning logistics; she's challenging him personally.

JORDAN CLARKE
I handled this myself because I knew it wouldn't last long once I arrived. My team wasn't needed yet and by the time they are... we'll be ready to end this properly.

Aria crosses her arms defiantly, standing taller despite still feeling weak from earlier events.

ARIA HERRERA
You always keep us waiting while villains get bolder. Maybe if someone else showed up sooner

48

Before she can finish, Jordan interrupts smoothly but firmly with no sign of impatienceonly controlled authority mixed with subtle challenge:

JORDAN CLARKE
Enough talk about timing and backups! This is not about speed or numbersit's about strategy and control!

He steps closer to Aria, lowering his voice so only she can hearhis tone shifts slightly softer but remains unwavering in command:

JORDAN CLARKE (CONT'D)
And right now controlling you is part of my strategy tooto protect youand everyone else out there who depends on me being in charge!

For a brief moment after he speaks these wordstheir faces inches aparta charged silence hangs between them: His control clashes against hers; respect battles desire; duty conflicts with unspoken attraction...

Then suddenlywithout warningthe safe house door bursts open again

A NEW IMPOSSIBLE THREAT storms inside...

EXT. CITY ROOFTOP - NIGHT

Aria perches on the edge, scanning the streets below. Her hands twitch with restless energy.

Jordan steps up behind her, calm but firm.

49

JORDAN
You're too close to the edge again. Focus.

ARIA
I'm watching every corner. Unlike you, I don't wait for trouble to find me.

Jordan smirks, folding his arms.

JORDAN
Experience teaches patience. You rush in and get yourself hurt or worse, someone else does.

ARIA
Maybe if you moved faster instead of brooding over every step

A sudden EXPLOSION echoes from a nearby street. Both snap into action instantly.

EXT. CITY STREET - CONTINUOUS

Smoke curls as debris litters the road. Civilians scatter in panic.

Blaise arrives swiftly beside Aria, offering a reassuring smile despite the chaos around them.

BLAISE
We need a plan that keeps everyone safe including us two arguing heroes upstairs.

ARIA (GLANCING AT JORDAN)
Glad you showed up before he lectured me some more.

Jordan shoots Blaise a sharp look but says nothing as they assess the scene together: trapped people near unstable rubble and flickering fires blocking escape routes.

INT. ABANDONED WAREHOUSE - LATER

The trio moves cautiously inside where shadows shift unpredictably among broken crates and shattered glass.

JORDAN (WHISPERING)
Stay closethere's more than just fire here tonight.

Suddenly an ENEMY THUG lunges from behind cover toward Aria with a crowbar raised high.

Aria ducks low; Blaise intercepts smoothly, grabbing the thug's arm and twisting it until he drops weaponized rage like hot coal.

BLAISE
Easy there... We're not savages.

Jordan watches silently then nods approvingly at Aria's quick reflexes.

ARIA (BREATHING HARD)
Thanks for stepping in... I almost got careless.

EXT. CITY STREET - DAWN

Sunlight breaks through smoke haze as emergency crews arrive to secure damage zones.

Aria stands between Jordan and Blaise; tension still hums beneath their exhausted faces but something softer lingers nowrespect earned through shared danger.

BLAISE (SMILING GENTLY)
You both have strengths worth fighting for maybe together we can be unstoppable rather than divided?

Aria, Jordan, and Blaise stand united with a newfound respect and hope to fight together.

JORDAN
(serious)
We need to find the bomber before another attack happens.

ARIA
(nods)
Agreed. Let's split up Blaise, you come with me. I'll handle the lead.

BLAISE
(supportive)
Right behind you.

Jordan watches them leave, his expression thoughtful. He takes out his phone and makes a call.

(intense)
Get every hero available on this. No mistakeswe can't let our city fall apart like this again.

52

He hangs up and turns toward the horizon where Aria disappears in the distance conflicted but resolute as he prepares for what comes next. A faint smile crosses his lips when he thinks of her bravery today it surprises him more than he'd like to admit.

JORDAN (V. O.)
She's reckless... but maybe just maybe she has potential worth training after all

Suddenly his phone buzzes again another alert from headquarters signaling an incoming threat...

His face hardens instantly as he pulls out his communication device once more:

JORDAN
(commanding)
All units! Prepare for immediate deployment! The enemy is closing in!

The camera lingers on Jordan's determined profile against the rising sun unwavering dedication etched into every line of his

The room buzzes with activity as officers scramble to their stations.

EXT. CITY STREET DAWN

Aria and Blaise stride down the street together, determination etched on Aria's face.

ARIA

I'm going to find that bomber first and bring them down myself! I can't let anyone else get hurt because of me!

BLAISE

(supportive)

Then I'll go with you. You're not doing this alone.

They reach a corner where two police officers are chatting about something unusual.

OFFICER 1 (V. O.)

Did you hear? Some guy was bragging about being able to take out every hero in this city within three days!

OFFICER 2 (V. O.)

What an idiot! That's suicidethere's no way he'd survive that long against heroes like us.

Aria freezes mid-step, her eyes narrowing as she processes their words.

ARIA (V. O.)

Could this be him?

She grabs Blaise's arm firmly, pulling him toward the officers without hesitation.

54

(excited)
That sounds exactly like our guy! Let's talk to themthis could be our lead!

Blaise follows closely, glancing at her with concern but matching her pace without question.

INT. ABANDONED WAREHOUSE - NIGHT

Aria crouches behind a stack of crates, her eyes scanning the shadows.

Jordan steps into view, arms crossed, watching her with a critical gaze.

JORDAN
You're too exposed. They'll spot you from across the street.

ARIA
I'm baiting them. If I stay hidden, they won't take the risk.

JORDAN
Risk? You're reckless is what that is. We need controlprecision.

Blaise appears quietly beside Aria, offering a small smile.

BLAISE
Sometimes control means knowing when to shake things up.

Jordan looks at Blaise sharply but says nothing.

ARIA
Thanks for the pep talk... But I'm not backing down just because you say so.

55

Suddenly, distant sirens wail closer. Shadows move near the warehouse entrancehostiles approaching fast.

JORDAN
Fine. But if you get caught

Aria interrupts him with a sharp look and springs forward toward an exit route Jordan hadn't noticed before.

EXT. CITY STREET - CONTINUOUS

Aria darts out into dim light as two armed thugs block her path; she flips backward narrowly avoiding their grasp and lands on one knee ready to fight back fiercely but controlled now more confident than before.

Blaise rushes in from behind one thug and disarms him smoothly while Jordan covers their flank with precise energy blasts.

ARIA (BREATHING HARD)
See? Sometimes shaking things up works better than standing still.

Jordan nods grudgingly but his eyes linger on Aria's determined face longer than usual.

INT. SAFE HOUSE - LATER THAT NIGHT

The trio gathers around a table littered with maps and data screens showing enemy movements.

JORDAN
Your improvisation saved us tonight I'll admit it was impressive...

But we can't keep relying on luck like this; next time could be worse.

BLAISE

56

Maybe what we need is both: your strategy plus Aria's instinct.

Aria meets Jordan's gaze steadily then turns to Blaise with gratitude shining through exhaustion.

ARIA
Then let's figure out how to make that workfor all our sakes.

EXT. ROOFTOP OVERLOOKING THE CITY - DAWN

Aria stands alone looking over the skyline as first light breaks through clouds; Blaise joins silently beside her holding two cups of coffee without interrupting yet clearly wanting to share this quiet moment together.

ARIA (SOFTLY)
I don't want to be just another rookie who gets crushed by expectations...

BLAISE
You saved me back there.

Aria turns to him, meeting his gaze with a faint smile.

ARIA
I've always got your back no matter what happens between us.

She reaches out and gently takes his hand in hers. Blaise's eyes soften as he looks at their intertwined fingers.

BLAISE
(whispering)
I know... I just wish you could see yourself through my eyeshow strong and incredible you really are.

They stand together in silence for a beat, watching the first light spill across the horizon. Then Blaise clears his throat awkwardly but earnestly shifts the conversation forward.

BLAISE (CONT'D)
Tomorrow is our final testthe one that'll get us into Alpha Squad if we pass it together...

Aria's gaze sharpens with renewed resolve as she straightens up, gripping Blaise's hand firmly in both of hers now.

ARIA
We will pass it. And when we do... I'll finally tell you how I feel about youto thank you properly for everything you've done for me

BLAISE
(struggling)
Jordan!

They crash into a steel pillar with a sickening thud.

Both men groan in pain, frozen for a moment.

THEN THEIR EYES LOCK

Recognition dawns instantly on both faces.

JORDAN (CONT'D)
You you're Blaise Crawford?

BLAISE
(horrified)
And you're Jordan Clarke?!

Their voices are filled with shock and disbelief.

JORDAN
I never thought I'd see you again not like this

ARIA
(whispering to herself)
Please... Jordan, you have to be okay.

Suddenly, she stops and looks toward the entrance, determination flashing in her eyes.

She pulls out a small device from her pocket and taps it twice.

A faint signal emits from the device. Aria clenches her fists tightly.

ARIA (CONT'D)
Come on Please respond

The flames roar around the building as smoke billows into the sky. Aria's breath quickens; she glances at nearby firefighters who are focused on their own taskstoo busy to notice her silent plea for help.

Her gaze hardens with resolve.

ARIA (V. O.)
If no one else is coming... then I'll go in myself!

62

Without hesitation, she steps forward toward the blaze. The heat hits her immediately; sweat beads on her forehead.

She shields her eyes against the smoke but keeps moving forward, unwavering.

SUDDENLY

A loud CRASH echoes through the firestorm behind themthe warehouse collapses completely in an explosion of sparks and debris!

Aria freezes mid-step, mouth open in shock as dust clouds rise where Jordan was just moments agoand he's nowhere to be seen.

Her heart drops instantly.

She rushes back outside and turns frantically toward every exit point visible through the flamesbut there's no sign of him anywhere within view.

Tears prick at Aria's eyes as panic sets deep into her chest. She grabs Blaise by his arm when he emerges from another side streethis uniform scorched but intactand throws herself against him without thinking twice about protocol or propriety:

ARIA (sobbing)
Blaise! Where is he?! You have to tell me!!

BLAISE
(struggling under weight of question)
I I don't know! The building collapsed too fastI couldn't see anything clearly! But we both saw him go down...

ARIA
I'll stay here tonight. Someone has to keep watch.

BLAISE
Aria, it's dangerousthere could still be another explosion!

ARIA
I don't care! I won't let anything happen to him!

Blaise hesitates but nods reluctantly. He looks at Claire for support; Claire places a comforting hand on Aria's shoulder.

CLAIRE
You're strong, Aria. We'll take turns resting nearby and keeping watch together.

64

The group settles down around the perimeter of the rubble-strewn site, their faces illuminated by flickering flames and lingering smoke plumes drifting into the sky.

Suddenlyanother EXPLOSION erupts inside the ruins!

Everyone jumps up in shock. The fire blazes higher as debris rains down like deadly confetti around them.

Outside the room, footsteps approachsoft and familiar.

BLAISE (O. S.)
Aria...

Blaise enters quietly, his presence calm and reassuring. He notices Aria's tear-streaked face and immediately steps closer.

BLAISE
I heard about what happened at the warehouse... I'm so sorry you had to go through that alone.

He gently takes her shoulders in his hands for support, their eyes locking briefly before he looks down at Jordan on the bed.

BLAISE (CONT'D)
And don't worry about him. The doctors say he'll recover fullyit's just going to take some time.

Relief washes over Aria like a tidal wave; she exhales shakily but smiles faintly through her exhaustion. Blaise pulls out a small box from his coat pocket and offers it to her carefullyhis fingers brushing hers as she reaches for it instinctively.

BLAISE (CONT'D)
Here this is from my family branchthe one on your mother's side

69

She opens the box slowlya gleaming necklace lies nestled inside: an elegant pendant adorned with delicate feathers intertwined in silver threads against a shimmering opal backdrop. It catches the light beautifully as Aria lifts it out carefully with both hands, gazing at its craftsmanship in awe before looking up into Blaise's warm gaze filled with sincerity .

ARIA
It's beautiful

Tears brim again , but this time they fall freely , unrestrained . She chokes back sobs while words catch painfully in throat

ARIA

Mom Dad This must have been yours too
Why did no one ever tell me?

Realizing how much this means to Aria, Blaise quickly moves forward, taking off his own braceletan identical pieceand places it around her wrist, gently fastening it snugly yet tenderly against her skin .

BLAISE
We always wanted you two reunited somedayto carry on our legacy togetheras siblings united by bloodand now destiny has brought us here once more after all these years apart!

INT. ABANDONED WAREHOUSE - NIGHT

Aria crouches behind a stack of crates, breathing hard. Her suit flickers with low energy.

Jordan steps into view, calm and confident.

JORDAN
You're too reckless, Aria. Charging in without backup is how people get hurt.

ARIA
I'm not waiting for orders when the city's burning!

Jordan scans the shadows.

JORDAN
Then we do this smart. Together.

72

Suddenly, a group of armed THUGS emerge from the darkness. Jordan moves quickly to block their path; Aria springs forward impulsively but stumbles as her suit glitches.

THUG LEADER
Looks like fresh meat!

Jordan shoots a warning glance at Aria who struggles to regain control of her powers.

BLAISE (O. S.)
Need a hand?

Blaise appears at the entrance, calm and steady. He raises his hands; blue energy pulses softly around him.

BLAISE (CONT'D)
Let's cool things down before they heat up furt her.

The thugs hesitate as Blaise's aura spreads warmth that disorients them slightly but doesn't incapacitate fully yet enough for Jordan to take two down swiftly with precise strikes while Aria recovers balance and focus.

ARIA
Thanks... I thought I was done for there.

JORDAN (NODS)
You're learning fast but don't forget teamwork means timing too.

EXT. CITY ROOFTOP - LATER THAT NIGHT

Aria leans against the ledge overlooking neon-lit streets below, catching her breath. Blaise joins quietly beside her holding two bottles of water.

73

BLAISE
You pushed yourself tonight... again.

ARIA
I can't afford mistakes anymore.

BLAISE
Sometimes strength isn't just muscle or power it's knowing when to lean on others.

She looks over at him thoughtfully just as Jordan climbs up behind them silently.

JORDAN
He's right you've got potential no one else sees yet.

ARIA
(half-smiling) Maybe I need both of you then...

They share a brief look charged with unspoken challenge and promise as sirens wail faintly in the distance below.

INT. HEROES' HEADQUARTERS STRATEGY ROOM NEXT DAY

Jordan points at digital maps displaying recent attack patterns while Blaise watches closely; Aria listens intently but frowns slightly unsure about some tactics proposed by Jordan which feel overly cautious to her instinctive style.

JORDAN
We hold positions here first minimize risk until reinforcements arrive.

ARIA
But if we wait too long those zones become lost ground forever!

74

BLAISE
Maybe there's middle ground? A way your instincts guide offense balanced by his defense plan?

Jordan studies Aria carefully then nods slowly in agreement.

EXT. CITY STREET - EVENING

Aria tests new coordinated moves alongside Jordan under Blaise's watchful eyetheir synergy improving visibly despite occasional friction between their styles.

A passing CHILD tugs on Aria's sleeve excitedly:

CHILD
Are you really heroes? Like in stories?

ARAI smiles warmly:

ARIA
Better than storieswe protect everyone out here every day.

As she stands tall among allies now united subtly beneath city lightsa quiet determination settles over all three: this fight is far from over

JORDAN
You're moving too fast. We need precision, not rush.

ARIA
(whispering)
If we wait for perfect, the city burns first.

Jordan gestures toward a shadowy corner where faint noises echo.

JORDAN
Cover me. I'll disable their comms.

Aria nods reluctantly and moves to flank left.

Got company! Jordan?

76

Jordan appears beside her just as another enemy lunges at him; he sidesteps smoothly and grabs the attacker by the collar with one hand like it weighs nothing.

JORDAN
Stay close!

Suddenly more enemies pour in through broken windows Aria's eyes widen but she steadies herself quickly and leaps onto a crate for higher ground to gain advantage over them all at once.

EXT. CITY STREET OUTSIDE WAREHOUSE MOMENTS LATER

Blaise revs his bike loudly then speeds forward as backup after spotting reinforcements arriving on foot nearby.

INT. ABANDONED WAREHOUSE MOMENTS LATER

The fight intensifies; Aria uses energy blasts while Jordan expertly disarms foes one by one without wasting effort or energy.

ARIA

Aria exhales sharply, her anger and confusion swirling as she processes the revelation.

BLAISE (O. S.)
(frowning)
Jordan... This isn't funny!

Jordan turns his head slightly toward Blaise, a hint of amusement in his eyes.

JORDAN
Relax, Crawford. She's tough enough to handle it.

without warning, Jordan pushes Aria away with force. Aria stumbles backward but quickly regains her footing and charges forward againonly for Jordan to grab her wrist firmly before she can reach him.

He lifts her off the ground effortlessly, flipping her upside down so she dangles there like a rag doll. Her hair brushes

Henchman #1 lunges at Jordan with a knife. Without hesitation, Jordan spins around swiftly, grabbing Henchman #1's wrist mid-air and twisting it sharply before slamming him into the ground hard.

81

The other three hesitate for a split second then charge simultaneously toward Blaise and Aria.

Blaise immediately shields Aria behind him while pulling his gun from his waistb and belt clip. He fires two precise shots one knocks weapon from Henchman #2's hand; the other hits Henchman #3 squarely in the shoulder as he tries to grab Aria by her hair .

Meanwhile , Jordan expertly disarms Henchman #4 with quick strikes throwing punches that send him crashing against crates nearby . The masked figure groans in pain but doesn't move furt her .

Suddenly , sirens blare outside . The sound echoes through warehouse walls , growing louder . All four henchmen freeze momentarily before exchanging panicked glances .

HENCHMAN 1 (GROANING ON FLOOR)
What...? Is that... police?!

HENCHMAN 2 & 3 (simultaneously turning toward exit) Run!

Without another word , they bolt straight for exit doors . Their footsteps echo loudly as they disappear into darkness

INT. ABANDONED WAREHOUSE - ENTRANCE - NIGHT

The tension between Aria and Jordan is palpable.

JORDAN (SUSPICIOUS)
Why are you holding hands with him? Who exactly are you to Blaise?

Blaise's expression darkens, but he remains composed.

BLAISE
We're just close friends. That's all.

Aria steps forward, her voice steady yet firm.

ARIA
That's right. Blaise has been helping me train and improve my powers since I became a hero. He was the one who found me after I lost my memory... We're partners in training, nothing more!

103

Jordan narrows his eyes, studying them both carefully before finally nodding in reluctant acceptance.

JORDAN
Fine. But don't think for a second that I trust you two completely yetmy priority is protecting this city and the people under my command!

Before either can respond, another explosion rocks the warehouse entrance as security reinforcements arrive outside to back up their team inside.

SECURITY TEAM LEADER (O. S.)
Clarke! Herrera! You guys okay?!

Jordan exhales sharply at the sound of his name being called out over the comms system before turning back toward Aria with renewed focus determination flashing across his face once again now that suspicion had given way to duty once more..

JORDAN
Let's move we've got work to do.
He grabs Aria's hand firmly without hesitation or question about her connection with Blaise then leads everyone into battle against whatever threat still lurks beyond those walls...

EPISODE 50

INT. ABANDONED WAREHOUSE - NIGHT

Aria crouches behind a stack of crates, breathing hard. Her suit flickers with residual energy.

104

Jordan steps into view, arms crossed, eyes sharp.

JORDAN
You're reckless, Aria. Charging in like that? You'll get yourself killed.

ARIA
I'm trying to save people, not stand around debating tactics.

Jordan moves closer, lowering his voice but firm.

JORDAN
Saving people means planning. We can't afford mistakes tonight the city's on edge after those blasts.

Aria stands up straight, meeting his gaze defiantly.

ARIA
And waiting for your "perfect plan" won't stop the next attack either. Sometimes you have to act fast.

Suddenly a SHOUT echoes from deeper inside the warehouse. Both snap alert and dash forward together.

INT. WAREHOUSE MAIN FLOOR - CONTINUOUS

Blaise appears from the shadows holding a device glowing faintly blue it's ticking down rapidly.

BLAISE
(urgent)
This is it! The bomb Jordan warned about!

Jordan grabs Blaise's arm sharply but gently pulls him back as Aria inches toward the device with focused determination.

JORDAN
Stay back! Let me handle this

Aria cuts him off without hesitation and kneels beside the bomb carefully inspecting wires under her gauntlet lights blinking softly on her palms.

ARIA
No time for arguingthis one's rigged differently... I can disarm it if I reroute power through my suit circuits here...

Jordan watches tensely; Blaise bites his lip nervously but doesn't intervene yet.

A beat passes as Aria works quickly; sweat beads at her temple.

The timer slows... then stops.

She exhales deeply and looks up at them both with fierce pride.

ARIA (CONT'D)
Done.

Jordan nods slowly impressed despite himself.

JORDAN
Not bad Rookie.

Blaise steps forward smiling warmly at Aria,

BLAISE
See? You've got what it takes when you trust yourself more than anyone else says you should.

EXT. CITY ROOFTOP - LATER NIGHT

106

The trio overlooks darkened streets below lit by emergency vehicles and distant sirens fading away.

Jordan leans against a railing watching Aria stretch out tired limbs while Blaise hands her a water bottle.

JORDAN
Tomorrow we plan bettertogether.

Aria accepts water gratefully glancing between them both.

ARIA
Together sounds good.

They share a quiet moment charged with unspoken respectand something softer beneath their rivalry.

INT. CITY ROOFTOP CONTINUOUS

Aria stands tall, her suit still humming softly with residual power.

ARIA
(coolly)
I told you I could handle it.

Jordan exhales slowly, eyes narrowing as he studies her.

JORDAN
(skeptical)
You're lucky this time. But luck runs out eventually.

107

Blaise steps forward, placing a hand on Aria's shoulder reassuringly.

BLAISE
(soft smile)
She's no rookie anymore. You should've seen how she figured it outlike solving a puzzle in seconds.

Jordan glances at Blaise, then back to Aria. His expression softens slightly but remains firm.

JORDAN
(gruffly)
Strategy isn't just about quick fixes... It's about planning ahead and minimizing riskfor everyone involved.

ARAI (V. O.)
(firm resolve)
Maybe he doesn't see me as an equal yet but that won't stop me from proving myself next time.

Aria straightens her posture and meets Jordan's gaze head-on with unwavering confidence.

(resolute)
Then let's plan better next timetogether. Because the city needs both of us: experience and innovation working side by side.

Before Jordan can respond, an urgent alert blares from his comm device. He snaps to attention instantly.

JORDAN
(commanding)
We have another emergency downtown! Let's move!

108

Without hesitation, they spring into action their suits activating in perfect sync as they leap off the rooftop toward the new crisis.

EXT./INT VARIOUS LOCATIONS MONTAGE

- The trio races through the city streets like lightning.
- Blades slicing through air; engines roaring.
- People look up in awe as heroes streak past them.

EPISODE 52

INT. CITY ROOFTOP - DAY

The trio lands gracefully on the rooftop, their movements perfectly synchronized.

ARIA
(excited)
Another emergency downtown! Let's go!

BLAISE
(smiling, supportive)
I'll cover you guys.

He presses a button on his watch. A sleek black motorcycle materializes beside him.

JORDAN
(raising an eyebrow at Aria)
Ready to race?

Aria smirks confidently and nods.

EXT. CITY STREET - DAY

The city is bustling as the trio speeds through traffic Aria and Jordan side-by-side in their vehicles, Blaise trailing behind on the motorcycle with quiet grace.

SIRENS WAIL from nearby streets. Emergency lights flash in the distance.

JORDAN (V. O.)
This isn't just another call... something big is happening...

Suddenly, a massive explosion erupts ahead smoke billowing into the sky as debris rains down across multiple blocks of downtown area.

ARIA (V. O.)
Oh no... This isn't good at all!

She grips her vehicle's controls tightly, eyes scanning for signs of survivors or furt her danger while speeding toward chaos unfolding below themready to act without hesitation despite uncertainty about what awaits next in this crisis situation within Metropolis City limits .

EPISODE 53

INT. ABANDONED WAREHOUSE - NIGHT

Aria crouches behind a stack of crates, scanning the shadows with tense eyes.

Jordan steps into view, his expression sharp.

JORDAN
You're too reckless, Aria. Charging in without backup is how people get hurt.

ARIA
I'm not waiting for you to make a move. We stop them now or they escape again.

110

Jordan moves closer, lowering his voice.

JORDAN
Listenthere's a better way. I've been doing this longer than you have. Trust me on this one.

Aria shakes her head defiantly and stands up, fists clenched.

ARIA
Trust has to be earned, Jordan. Right now? You're just holding me back.

Suddenly, footsteps echo from the far end of the warehouse. Blaise appears quietly beside Aria with a calm smile.

BLAISE
Maybe there's room for both approaches?

Jordan glances at Blaise then back at Aria, tension thick between them all.

EXT. CITY STREET - NIGHT

The trio bursts out onto the street where masked thugs scatter in every direction under flickering streetlights.

Jordan sprints after one fleeing figure while Aria darts toward another group trying to break into cars nearby.

Blaise hangs back slightly but watches their flanks carefully as he communicates through an earpiece calmly coordinating support teams arriving on scene.

INT. SAFE HOUSE - LATER THAT NIGHT

Aria sits exhausted on a worn couch; bruises show but her eyes burn with determination as Jordan enters carrying two cups of water.

111

JORDAN
You did good tonight... better than I expected.

Aria takes the cup without looking up.

ARIA
Thanks... But we still lost track of their leader.

Jordan sits down beside her cautiously.

JORDAN
We'll find him together no more solo runs.

Blaise enters smiling softly from the doorway holding files and maps spread across his arms.

BLAISE
And maybe some new intel will tip things our way soon.

They exchange looks rivalry easing into something like trust as outside sirens wail faintly in the distance.

EXT. ROOFTOP OVERLOOKING THE CITY - DAWN

Aria stands alone watching sunrise paint skyscrapers gold; Blaise joins silently behind her handing over a small device blinking softly with data feeds.

ARIA
(softly) Ready for whatever comes next?

BLAISE
Alwayswith you leading us.

112

She nods once firmly then turns toward the city below ready to face what lies ahead.

INT. WAREHOUSE - NIGHT

Jordan's eyes widen in shock.

JORDAN
You're actually going to do it?

Aria smirks confidently, stepping forward with a commanding presence.

ARIA
I'm not just going to do itI'm taking you down first.

She lunges at Jordan, fists flying. Jordan barely blocks the punch before countering with a swift strike that sends her staggering back.

JORDAN (CHUCKLING)
Not bad... but your punches still lack power and precision.

Aria grits her teeth, wiping blood from her lip as she steps forward again relentless energy in every move but lacking technique. She throws another punch; this time Jordan catches her wrist mid-air and twists sharply, forcing Aria to cry out in pain and stumble sideways.

Blaise rushes forward instinctively only for Aria to grab his arm firmly before he can intervene. Her grip is gentle yet unyielding.

ARIA (CALMLY)
Thank you... But I've got this covered now.

Blaise nods silently, understanding flashing across his face as he steps back respectfully. He watches quietly from the sidelinesconcern etched into his expression yet trust unwaveringly present in his stance beside her shadowed figure on the rooftop above city lights below them...

The fight rages on beneath him...

INT. WAREHOUSE ROOFTOP - NIGHT

Aria grits her teeth, refusing to back down despite the pain.

ARIA
This city needs protectionno matter what!

She lunges forward, but Jordan sidesteps smoothly and pins her wrist with one hand.

JORDAN
(smirking)
You're reckless. And stubborn.

He pushes lightly Aria stumbles but doesn't fall. Instead, she twists sharply and breaks free from his grip.

BLAISE (V. O.)
Aria... that move was risky...

114

Jordan watches her coolly, clearly amused rather than annoyed. He takes a step closer again.

JORDAN
Your moves are amateurish you'll never beat me like this.

At that moment, Aria's phone buzzes in her pocket. She glances at the screen: "Emergency Alert Hostage Situation Downtown."

Her eyes widen in shock before snapping into focus.

ARIA
I have to go! Someone's in danger!

Without hesitation, she turns on her heel and sprints off the rooftop toward the alley belowbut Jordan is faster. With a swift motion he grabs her arm firmly from behind and spins her around so they face each other again.

JORDAN
(grinning)
Leaving so soon? Don't forget our little arrangement first

ARIA
(struggling)
Let me go! This isn't over!

Their gazes lock fiercely as tension crackles between them under the moonlight

Suddenly Blaise bursts through an open window onto the rooftop stairs below him

BLAISE
(shouting) Wait! Aria!

115

The sound of his voice cuts through everything elsethe urgency clear as he rushes up toward them without hesitation or fear.

INT. WAREHOUSE ROOFTOP - DAY

Blaise's arrival causes a brief shift in tension, but Jordan remains firm.

JORDAN
(grim)
If you're going to rush into danger, at least let me handle it properly.

ARIA
(voice trembling)
The hostages are my responsibility! I'm not letting them down!

She tries to push past him again Jordan catches her wrist instantly.

JORDAN
(low, commanding)
Aria. This isn't about pride or responsibility. It's about strategy and saving lives.

Aria She jerks free, glancing back at the rooftop edge belowthe wind howling around them makes her dizzy just looking down.

ARIA (CONT'D)
I know what I'm doing! I can save them!

Jordan steps closer, blocking her path completely. His gaze is unyielding but calm.

JORDAN

116

You don't have to do this alone. Let me help you

Suddenly Blaise bursts forward and grabs Aria firmly by the shoulders before she can slip away again.

(fierce)
That's enough! You're not running off like thisyou're coming with us!

Aria freezes for a moment at his touch, then shakes him off sharply without turning arounda flicker of frustration crossing her face as she glares toward Jordan instead.

ARIA
(stern)
And who decided you'd be part of this "help"?

Her voice softens slightly when she looks back at Blaisebut only barelyand then hardens again when she turns toward Jordan once more.

(coldly determined)
Fine... But if anyone gets hurt because of your ordersI won't forgive either of you!

With that final warning hanging in the airshe takes a deep breath and leaps off the rooftop without hesitation...

Jordan reacts instantly; he moves faster than thought and catches her mid-airin one fluid motion he pulls her close against his chest as they fall together through space...

117

Their bodies collide tightly; time seems to slow for just an instantthe world narrows down to their shared weightless descent

Then suddenlythey landwith a heavy thud on the ground far below...

Jordan and Aria land together, the impact sending a shock through her body.

ARIA
(gasping)
You caught me?

JORDAN
(calmly)
Of course.

Aria's eyes widen in disbelief.

BLAISE (V. O.)
(urgent, distant)
Aria! The hostages!

The three exchange a look of realization. Without hesitation

They sprint toward the warehouse entrance, their footsteps pounding against the metal floor as they race to save the hostages before it's too late.

(grim)
We don't have time for distractions. Focus on the mission.

Aria exhales sharply, regaining composure.

ARIA
(nodding)
Right. Let's save those people.

They leap off the rooftop together with precision Jordan carrying her securely as they descend toward the warehouse entrance below.

EXT. WAREHOUSE ENTRANCE NIGHT

The ground rushes up to meet them. Jordan lands first and immediately rolls into a defensive stance before helping Aria land gracefully beside him.

BLAISE (V. O.)
(over comms)
Guys! The hostages are being dragged inside!

Their heads snap toward the open door where masked henchmen shove terrified civilians forwardsome stumbling, others frozen in fear.

Jordan'S EYES NARROW instantly scanning every detail of their surroundingsthe broken crates, scattered toolsall potential weapons or traps waiting to be triggered by even the slightest misstep from an untrained hand...

119

He turns sharply back to Aria without hesitation

JORDAN (CONT'D)
(low but commanding)

Stay out of sight until I clear this mess

BEFORE SHE CAN PROTEST

He vanishes into shadow like a ghost stalking prey through moonlight

Aria watches his retreating formher breath catches slightly at how effortlessly he blends into darknessand then snaps back to reality as her phone buzzes again:

BLAISE (V. O.)
Urgent backup team arriving now!

Her fingers tighten around her phone's glowing screen

A sudden surge of adrenaline courses through her veins

Without thinking twice,

She dashes after Jordan with renewed determination blazing in her eyes

(looks back briefly)
We'll handle it. You and Blaise secure the perimeter.

Before Aria can protest, Jordan disappears into the shadows of the warehouse.

EXT./INT. WAREHOUSE - ENTRANCE / INSIDE - SIMULTANEOUS

Blaise arrives at Aria's side, breathless but steady.

BLAISE
Jordan's not reckless! He has a plantrust him this once?

Aria hesitates for only a moment before nodding firmly.

ARIA
Fine. But I'm not just standing guardI'm ready to jump in if he needs me!

They exchange a quick glancea silent agreementand then spring into action together toward their assigned positions outside the building.

Inside, Jordan moves like shadowsilent steps through darkness as his senses sharpen with every heartbeat. Suddenly

A faint noise from above catches his attention: slow footsteps on metal stairs leading up to the mezzanine floor where hostages are held. His jaw tightens instinctivelybut instead of rushing forward...

He pulls out an earpiece and quietly speaks into it:

121

Hostile movement detected upstairs... I repeathostiles approaching from above Prepare for engagement!

His voice is calm but commanding; every word calculated to buy timeto keep enemies focused on him while backup closes in
